SHE WILL FLY HIGH.

Leading Lady of Musical Company Intends Looking Us Over From High Altitudes. In Omaha With the Behman Show.

Ellene Sheridan, the dainty little comedienne with Jack Singer's Behman show at the Gayety, Omaha, starting Sunday, October 30, is going to take up aviation this summer and has arranged for a course of instruction at an air-drome on Long Island. Miss Sheridan got her inspiration to fly and her enthusiasm regarding aeronautics through her daily flights during the progress of the show in which she is the star. At the end of the first act she flies over the heads of the audience in a duplicate of one of the Wright Brothers' machines and after turning a complete circle over the heads of the spectators, she sails gracefully back on the stage again. While the aeroplane is captive in a sense, at the same time she experiences all the delightful sensations of a trip through the air and instead of being frightened, she looks eagerly forward to the finale of the first act for what she considers one of the most pleasurable experiences in her entire stage career. Now that she has gained the necessary confidence and overcome the feeling of dizziness, experienced in the first flights, she feels that she will be able to successfully fly in a real aeroplane and hopes to be heard from in actual flights at some of the meetings in the near future. Miss Sheridan has written a little song, the chorus of which gives the idea of enthusiasm regarding aeronautics; it goes as follows: "Your auto may dash through the country, And your motor-boat romp o'er the main, But there's nothing so rare, As a trip through the air In an aeroplane."

While young and pretty Miss Sheridan has had a varied experience on the stage. Being pretty and petite and possessed of a good voice, she has made a success in vaudeville and has been with a number of musical companies, among them being "Buster Brown," "The Teddy Bears" and recently with the Rogers Brothers "In Panama." She joined the Behman show at short notice last season and won success from the start. She is proving a great favorite in the eastern extravaganza circuit of which the popular Gayety theater, Omaha, is a member.

Mrs. F. M. O'Neill, of Long Pine, Nebraska, and children, Roy and David, who have been visiting relatives in this city for three weeks, departed for their home this morning, her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Hunter, Jr., accompanied Mrs. O'Neill to her home. Miss Bell Speck accompanied the party to Omaha.

Vote Sentiments on Jail Question.

The citizens of Cass county of whatever political belief are interested in the jail proposition. The question before the voters next Tuesday is whether or not the people of the county desire the old ramshackle brick structure on East Pearl street to longer disgrace the county and its citizens, or whether it will be more desirable to vote a 2 1/2 mill levy on the taxable valuation of the property in the county and create a fund with which a modern building, suitable to restrain human beings in shall be built.

Every voter should express his sentiments at the election Tuesday next. If the matter is overlooked and no mark placed in the circle for the proposition the silence of the voter will be construed to be a vote against the levy.

The county treasurer, whose skill in figures has not been questioned, has estimated that a 2 1/2 mill levy will bring in $20,000, and there is no one who has expressed an opinion publicly or otherwise, who has estimated that a building suitable for the purposes required, could be built for less than that sum.

The small increase in the tax each property owner would be called on to pay, would not be noticed, and it would show proper sympathy for the unfortunates who fall under the ban of the law, would prompt every tax payer to make the slight sacrifice which the added levy will entail.

Look over your sample ballots carefully and urge upon your neighbor the importance of placing a cross in the circle opposite the question for or against the 2 1/2 mill levy for construction of jail. Remember that no mark at all will be a vote against the proposition.

Richard Poissal Ill.

Richard Poissal, the fourteen-year-old son of George Poissal, of South Seventh street, is seriously ill, and will probably be taken to an Omaha hospital tomorrow morning for an operation.

Richard's symptoms became alarming last Saturday and a physician was called who examined him thoroughly. The trouble first began with a chill on the back of the neck, and it has since afflicted the patient so seriously that he is out of his mind, and it is feared that a mastoid has formed on the brain, as the symptoms seem to indicate such. Mrs. Charles Chandler, of Grains, Richard's sister, arrived this morning in response to a message telling her of her brother's serious condition.

Freshman Class Party.

The members of the Freshman class of the High school participated in a most delightful class party last evening. This most enjoyable affair was held in the large barn on the Meleken premises and was in the nature of a Halloween party, it having been postponed until last evening on account of the many other attractions in the city on Monday evening. The barn had been made very homelike with various decorations, which were very appropriate and attractive. A royal good time was had by the Freshmen as they indulged in the various puns and pranks characteristic of the season. Delicious refreshments were served and an hour or so spent in more frolic, brought to a close one of the most pleasant occasions of the season.

Thomas Craig Here.

Thomas Craig, of Ashland, formerly of Elmwood precinct in this county, was in the city today as the representative of the Columbian Fire Insurance Company, of Omaha. The company had a loss at the farm of A. D. Rhoden, west of Murray, which was brought about in rather a peculiar way. Mr. Rhoden had his live stock insured with his other property, and it appears that a valuable horse was injured on the 18th of October from a bolt of lightning. The animal was in the pasture at the time and was found unable to get up. A veterinarian was called and from the symptoms of the horse decided that it was paralyzed as the result of a stroke of lightning. The horse's still alive but is not expected to recover and it is quite likely the company will be called upon to pay the insurance.

Departed for Boise, Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Guthman departed for Boise, Idaho, on the afternoon train today and will arrive in that city Friday afternoon.

For about ten days past Mr. and Mrs. Guthman have been apprised of the serious illness of their son Charles, and yesterday they made up their minds to go to his bedside. A telegram was received this morning stating that he was much better, but still quite sick. The telegram was quite cheering news, but Mr. and Mrs. Guthman did not change their plans and left on the fast mail for Omaha, intending to go to Boise as speedily as possible.

POLITICAL AFFAIRS IN OTTOE COUNTY

Republicans Deserting Their Legislative Candidates Because of Repudiation of Their Platform.

A special from Nebraska City, under date of November 1, says: There is great consternation among the leaders of the republican party in this county because all of the candidates have repudiated the platform of the party and refuse to support the county option plank and several other measures. The candidates, finding they were without support in this county in the matter of the county option plank, they have repudiated it and refused to be bound by several of the planks in the platform. Only one of them has signed the pledge to support the people's choice for United States senator. Because of these acts and many pledges the candidates have made pro and con on county option, the leaders are finding that the voters are refusing to support the ticket and hence the awakening.

"There has been some tall hustling during the past few days trying to get the candidates in line, but the Liberty league party has secured the signed pledges of these candidates and the prohibitionists and republicans are dropping out of the ranks in large numbers and going to the standard of the democrats, who stand squarely on their party platform, and having been tried, can be trusted.

"The followers of Senator Burkett and Congressman Hayward are sorely worried over the way that matters have been mixed up and they have all their lieutenants at work trying to straighten matters up with little success.

"Every indication points to the election of the democratic candidates in this county by an overwhelming majority. Hitchcock and Maguire are both promised a big majority and their supporters are receiving encouragement from every precinct each day and are quite jubilant."

The M. P. R. Co.'s Statement.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 23, 1910.
To the officers and other employees of the Missouri Pacific Railway Company and St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway Company:
There are no material differences existing between the railway company and the machinists except the question of the reinstatement of the foremen who went out with the men. The machinists' organization insists upon their reinstatement to the positions they formerly held, which request has been refused.

The right of the railway company to select its officers of whatever rank, including foremen, is one which cannot be relinquished to a labor organization, while the company is held to responsibility for the safety and efficiency of its service.

The action of the other labor organizations to coerce the railway company into compliance with the machinists' demands by threats of a sympathetic strike, in violation of their contract agreements entered into since the machinists' strike was declared, cannot be permitted to influence the company in its determination to maintain control of its business through its own official organization.

Inspect Road to Be Graded.

County Commissioners M. L. Friedrich and D. L. Switzer went to Union yesterday afternoon to inspect the five miles of road between Nehawka and Union which has been advertised for grading. The road is an extension of the seven miles graded earlier in the year, the same extending west from Nehawka. Two bids had been placed, but owing to some misunderstanding of the specifications, one of the bidders who had placed the low bid on the work, has withdrawn his bid. The part of the work not understood seems to be a couple of fills which will cost considerable money, and which the bidder did not know were to be included. This bidder was a Plattsmouth man, and the bid which still stands, is made by a Nebraska City contractor, and it may be that the contract will be let to the outside party.

The work is within Mr. Switzer's district, and his wishes in the matter may control. The funds out of which the grading is to be done come into the county treasury from inheritance taxes, and the outlay is not a burden on the general taxpayer.

Miss Isabel Young, of Murray, visited Plattsmouth between trains today, having arrived on the early M. P. train, transacted some business and returned to her home this forenoon.

COUNTY OPTION MEETING POORLY ATTENDED

From Wednesday's Daily.
The lecture of Rev. Lynch, of Omaha, delivered on the county option question at the Methodist church last evening was not well attended.

Rev. W. L. Austin, pastor of the church, presided, and previous to the lecture introduced Prof. Howard, who sang "Down in a Licensed Saloon," and other temperance numbers, which were applauded by the audience. Don York sang, "That's My Business for My King," which was also vigorously applauded. Rev. Gade, of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. Radcliffe, of the Christian church, occupied seats on the platform during the preliminary part of the meeting.

Rev. Austin introduced the lecturer of the evening with a few preliminary remarks.

Rev. Lynch spoke for over an hour, telling of his being a new man in Nebraska, having come to Omaha to take Dr. Loveland's church only a month ago, from Topeka, Kansas, where he had been located for the previous four years. Prior to that time he filled the First M. E. pulpit at Wichita, Kansas, for many years. He was in that position at the time Mrs. Nation began her raid with her hatchet, and assisted the old lady in getting a fair trial in the courts, although her method of fighting intemperance was not his way of doing the work, yet he believed she should have a fair trial and helped to raise the money to pay her attorney.

Rev. Lynch dwelt for some time on the workings of the prohibition law of Kansas, stating that when he went to Wichita, there were some forty saloons running contrary to the laws of Kansas, and that they were backed by both daily papers of the town, one of which was edited by the now Congressman Murdoch, of Kansas. The speaker said in substance that after the Carrie Nation episode, the fight for law enforcement waxed so warm that within a few years not a saloon was left in Wichita, and that during the past few years the city had greatly increased in population.

Rev. Lynch was glad that he could have a part in the struggle in Nebraska, and urged the support of candidates at the polls who were pledged to support county option. That he was for state-wide prohibition himself, but if that was not obtainable then he was for the option measure. His lecture was interspersed with anecdotes causing apples of laughter to float over the audience, and short sketches were recited by the speaker, which showed him a master declaimer.

KANSAS.

The first of the week Henry Schrader, of Basine township, came to this office for the purpose of advertising a public sale he is to have the 27th of this month. Being of an enquiring turn of mind, the News-rustler asked him if he had become discouraged, and was tired of Ness county; that he was selling out. "No," said Schrader, "I do not intend to leave Ness county, but will move to Basine, where I will make my home. I have sold my farm because I do not want to do any more hard work, and I have made enough in the last six years to live without working any more." Being asked a few more questions, Mr. Schrader gave additional information, as follows: He came to Ness county six years ago, and bought a half section of land of V. T. Miller for one thousand dollars. Each year since that time he has had good crops and his profit from farming has been fifteen hundred dollars per year, in addition to which he has made valuable improvements on his land. Recently he sold the half section for ten thousand dollars, his net profit on the land deal being nine thousand dollars, which, with the original investment of one thousand and the nine thousand he has made farming, give him sufficient capital to retire upon for the rest of his life. Where is the country that shows better results from a like investment?—Ness County News.

This is in the neighborhood in which farmers in Cass county have invested close to Ness City. Basine is seven miles east of Ness City, in the same valley. It is a prosperous country.

Buys Baby Monitor.

Peter Claus went to the farm home of Mr. Z. Schrader, west of Murray today, to place in his home a fine new Baby Monitor anthracite burner. This is one of the largest heaters which the trade handles and will heat a large amount of space when well warmed up.

W. D. Wheeler, of Mynard, brought in a load of wheat this afternoon, and called on County Clerk D. C. Morgan, who took the wheat for lettuce seed, and wanted to buy it for a Shenandoah seed house.

"ST. ELMO" HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Production to Appear at Farmale Theater November 5th

Announcement that "St. Elmo," that wonderfully interesting romance, beloved by grandmother, mother and daughter, to say nothing of the charm it has for many of the sterner sex, would they only admit it, is booked for the Farmale theatre next Saturday evening, November 5, comes as the best news of many a day to countless people.

"St. Elmo" was written many years ago, but not until the accidental death of its author and the expiration of the copyright was an adequate stage version possible. Facilitated by the dramatic qualities of the famous novel, Miss Grace Hayward, herself an actress from early girlhood and whose dramatization of "Graumark" has pleased thousands, set to work to make a stage story of Mrs. Wilson's wonderful story. That she has succeeded in building a cohesive, thrilling play, teeming with heart interest and with all the dramatic unities preserved in threading the stirring incidents which fill the chapters, is the testimony of thousands who had the good fortune to witness the first production. So spontaneous was the public verdict that a special company has been organized and is now entering on a tour which promises to mark an epoch in the history of dramatized novels. The company has been selected by a veteran manager of high reputation and organized with full consideration of the great scope and demands of Miss Hayward's play.

"St. Elmo" has been a book for thousands, nay millions. Its romance is bewitching, its religious spirit is fervent, its power to thrill grows from chapter to chapter until the most casual reader finds his attention enchained and himself wrapped in the lives of the folk who move in and out of its action. The play may well be calculated to arouse equal interest, not only among the regular theatre-goers, but equally so among those who may be inclined, through honest but mistaken belief, to look askance at the stage.

Dick Conrad Here.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Dick Conrad, of Canyon City, Texas, was in the city today closing up a deal whereby he disposes of his fine 120 acre farm, two miles southeast of Union, at $100 per acre. Dick went to the Panhandle, Texas country some two years ago, but will not remain there a great while, as the climate is too dry. Mr. Conrad disposed of his farm through Crede Harris, the Union real estate man, who sold the farm to Ellis Daniel, of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

To Show Cause.

The Missouri Pacific has been ordered by the state railway commission to appear November 10 and show cause why the old schedule for train service between Omaha and Falls City should not be resumed. Numerous complaints have been filed with the commission. The complainants assert that the railroad officials have promised several times to restore the old service, but that they have failed to do so.

J. H. Casebeer, of Blair Springs, Nebraska, was in the city today looking up some important business matters. Mr. Casebeer is the special agent for the National Fire Insurance Co., of Hartford, Connecticut.
