JOURNAL MAKES CORRECTION IN STATEMENT

Mr. Louis Limer was in the city last evening and, relative to the police court proceedings written up in the Journal in which Mr. Limer was said to have been complained of before the court and a warrant issued, stated that he had not been served with such warrant and did not think he would be, as he had been interviewed by the county attorney and had explained the situation thoroughly, and the county attorney stated that he would make further investigation before any steps would be taken. Mr. Limer says that he did not do more than any citizen who wanted to protect his own property would do, and as he understood the law, had a right to do.

That with the consent of the county board he had, several years ago, fenced in a narrow lane from an unused street adjacent to his land, and that the complainants claimed to be working the road under the instruction of the overseer, Mr. Kurtz, and had pulled out several posts and thrown the fence back and were about to take more of it out, when he went to the place and demanded that they cease, when the complainants began to call him names and started to assault him, when he retreated to his own premises and refused to retreat further, and did offer to protect his property with a revolver, if necessary.

Further than this Mr. Limer says, he did not go, and that there would have been nothing of the difficulty had not his property been disturbed. The action taken was to resist the trespass of the complainants.

ELECTRICIANS LOCK HORNS

Final Encounter of Two Factions on Floor of Convention.

SOCIALISTS AGAINST REGULARS

Latter Have Favor of Administration of American Federation of Labor, but United Mine Workers Are for Socialists.

St. Louis, Nov. 18.—The Electrical Workers' union controversy, which for two years has been the bitterest and most disastrous internal strife in the history of the American Federation of Labor, is being threshed out finally today, the convention having made it a special order of business before the entire delegation.

The struggle between the disrupted factions of the electrical workers was twice brought to the attention of the convention, first, when a special committee was appointed to consider it and make a report before final adjournment next week, and again when it was taken from the committee. Frank L. Duffy, general secretary of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, precipitated the debate which resulted in the special order by requesting that his side of the controversy be heard before he returned to Indianapolis tonight. After several speeches this permission was granted.

The electrical workers are divided into two camps, the socialists and the regulars, each clamoring for recognition by the federation. The regulars, numbering about 12,000, enjoy the favor of the federation administration, but back of the socialists, 27,000 strong, is the almost unanimous support of the United Mine Workers, the strongest labor union in the world.

Jobe Harriman, attorney for the strikers in Los Angeles, delivered an impassioned plea for support in the Los Angeles labor fight. He charged the Huntington with responsibility for the labor difficulties in the California city and declared the Los Angeles Times disaster was the result of a gas explosion, for which labor could not be held to blame.

Mr. Harriman received enthusiastic applause at the conclusion of his speech, and a special vote of thanks for his presentation of the situation. The matter of aiding the Los Angeles trades unions in their fight is in the hands of a committee to be reported next week. It is said the federation delegates are almost unanimous in support of a proposition to make the western city the battleground of the labor struggle in the United States.

TAFT SAILS FOR HOME

President Says Progress on Isthmus Has Been Very Satisfactory.

Colon, Nov. 18.—President Taft sailed for Charleston aboard the cruiser Tennessee, which was conveyed by the Montana, after four interesting days on the isthmus. Before leaving, the president said:

"This is the fifth time I have visited the isthmus and I have gone over the whole line and looked into every part of the improvement. It is about twenty-two months since I was last here, and in that time the progress made has been most satisfactory. Indeed, it is remarkable."

On the eve of President Taft's departure, 100 boilermakers, dissatisfied that, after hearing their complaints, the president would give no immediate answer to their demands, gave five days' notice of quitting their work and sailing for home. Several of the unions of machinists and blacksmiths are threatening similar action. It is not proposed to strike, but simply to resign and leave the isthmus. Only hourly employees, constituting 25 per cent of the force, are likely to be affected.

MEXICANS ON THE WARPATH

Sixty Armed Men Have Crossed River and Are Marching on Texas Town.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 18.—Marathon, a town of 500 people, 200 miles east of here, is under heavy guard this morning owing to the report that a band of sixty armed Mexicans has crossed the Rio Grande from Mexico and are marching in that direction.

Marathon is about 100 miles from Rock Springs, where the burning of Antonio Rodriguez took place. Why the invaders are making that town their objective point cannot be learned.

GOOD POINTS OF ABERDEEN-ANGUS.

A well known breeder and feeder of Johnson county, Ill., says ever since he has been farming he has raised cattle and fed steers, but in 1906 he began raising and feeding the Aberdeen-Angus. He prefers this breed because of their great showing in the actual test of fattening and also because they have no horns, writes a correspondent of Country Gentleman.

At present he has 150, but as yet his herd is not in shape, as he says he is just learning and finds that it takes some years to accomplish just a little. The head of his herd (that is, his breeding herd) is a very fine animal, showing good breeding. He is kept in the stable and tied out in the sun on fine days; otherwise during the day he is tied in a long stable to a ring in a wire, allowing him the run of the stable, also access to water at all times. As soon as the calves come to breeding age he disposes of the males to prevent inbreeding.

His calves are allowed to run with the cows until they are six months old, at which time they are weaned at once. He never bothers with milking the cows after the calves are weaned, as he says his cow's udder will never spoil if no milk is taken from it at all, but if a little is taken at irregular intervals there is danger. He says, however, that their milk flow is very low when the calves are weaned. He is making that a point of labor saving, letting the calves suck until six months old, and having the cows low in milk at that time and never milking them at all.

His calves are mostly dropped in the spring, about the middle of March and the first of April usually, as near the same time as possible. In the fall they are fed well and kept in fine condition all the time. They are run on blue glass pasture until cold weather, when they are stabled, with freedom of lots in which plenty of fresh water is always provided. They are fed on shelled corn when small, and later on ground corn and bran, with some alfalfa. They also have access to some straw stacks usually. He believes in letting them have all the good food they will eat the first year or two. His cows are bred each year. The finest heifers are kept for breeders and the others fattened for the market.

His cows are kept in box stalls until the calves are able to get about, when they are turned out with the others. He does not keep the calves away from their mothers, as his pastures are not all near the barn. He says he has been making the mistake of breeding his heifers too young, thus stunting the animals somewhat, and he has come to the conclusion that it would be best to have the first calf dropped by a heifer three years old. During the winter he keeps his stock in warm stables, with water inside, keeping the doors open except when too cold, and a stack of hay or straw in the lot to which they have free access. His cattle and horses have separate lots. Every night and morning he feeds all they will clean up of ground corn in connection with alfalfa hay and shredded fodder.

Cause of Founder.

Laminitis, or founder, is most commonly caused by overfeeding while the horse is idle in the stable; also sometimes by overwork or hard driving on macadamized roads. It is most common in the fore feet, causing feverish conditions, pain and tenderness. The feet are hotter than usual and are frequently moved. The pulse and breathing are quickened. It is a serious matter and should be treated by a veterinarian. The shoes are removed, the feet poulticed and a dose of physic given. Some cases recover, while in others the injury takes some permanent form like slight lameness, dropped soles or pumiced feet.—American Cultivator.

Advantage of Silage.

There are several points which every cow owner would do well to consider if he is to get the best milk yield and reap the greatest profits from his herd. In the first place, a cheap ration must be provided, one that can be raised on the farm; second, it must be well adapted to milk production and fed liberally.

As a rule, the greater portion of the feed can be raised at home, which always lessens the cost of production. For that reason corn silage has come to be recognized by nearly all stockmen as the most economical feed the farmer can raise.

MOORE CASE DRAWS CROWDS

Standing Room Only at Divorce Trial in Sidney.

DEFENDANT IS WIDELY KNOWN.

Married Girl Who Nursed Him Through Dangerous Illness—Mrs. Moore Also Suing for Custody of Their Two Children.

Sidney, Ia., Nov. 18.—Crowds have thronged this court room for the past few days to hear the Moore divorce case. Mrs. Vesta Moore is suing her husband, George W. Moore, for a divorce and the custody of their two children.

The case has a number of dramatic features. Four years ago Moore, who was then county recorder, was nursed through a dangerous illness by Miss Vesta Wilson, and the subsequent marriage of the two was the result. Moore had hemorrhage of the lungs and morphine was prescribed to aid in his recovery and prevent a recurrence of the trouble. Mrs. Moore alleges that he became addicted to the use of the drug to such an extent that it caused her to leave home.

Last summer Moore went to see his little two-year-old son and carried him off surreptitiously. The sheriff gave chase, but Moore crossed the Missouri river and got away with the boy. Some months later the mother discovered that the child and its father were in Missouri, and she went there and regained possession of the boy by a writ of habeas corpus. The best of legal talent is employed on the case.

Moore, the defendant, has been a teacher, preacher, lecturer, editor and politician. He was elected county recorder at the age of twenty-two and was said to be the youngest county official in the state. The case has attracted more interest than any divorce case tried here for some years.

FOR RECOUNT IN FOURTH

Haugen and Murphy Urged to Agree on Plan.

Mason City, Ia., Nov. 18.—Advisors of D. D. Murphy, candidate for congress from the Fourth district, against Congressman Haugen, urged that he confer with Mr. Haugen in settling upon the terms of a mutual agreement for a recount of the votes in the district and that whatever the result is each will be bound by the decision.

A discovery of a mistake in the returns by the supervisors acting as a canvassing board in Worth, Allamakee and Floyd counties shows a gain for Mr. Murphy of 92 votes. This cuts the lead of Haugen down to 128. Some twenty-four votes in this county are disputed.

From other counties come reports of irregularities which makes the situation very unsatisfactory to Mr. Murphy's friends and they have proposed that he and Congressman Haugen get together.

What Mr. Haugen will think of the proposal is not known. He was represented here in the recount by Attorney Sablin of Worth county. If an agreement of this sort cannot be reached the matter will go before the committee on elections in the next house.

SAYS SON WAS MURDERED

Iowan Discredits Suicide Theory in Case of Young Man in Montana.

Mason City, Ia., Nov. 18.—Absolutely convinced that his son has been murdered for revenge and his money, John Bishop, a prominent farmer of this county, has returned from Roundup, Mont., where he has been the past two weeks investigating the cause of the death of his son, Lloyd. The body of young Bishop was found a couple of weeks ago hanging to a tree some twenty miles from Roundup and ten miles from a claim the young man had been living on. Taken in charge by the coroner, a jury was summoned and after a hasty session, pronounced the death due to suicide.

Mr. Bishop has had the body of his son exhumed and found that at the base of the skull is a bullet wound, with another near the ear. Evidently these escaped the notice of the coroner. The team of young Bishop, his household effects of value and personal property were taken and no trace of them can be found.

MOVE BARGER TO ESCAPE MOB

Prisoner Taken From Council Bluffs to St. Joseph Jail.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Nov. 18.—It developed that the sheriff's force and county jailers have been exhibiting another man to court house reporters as Harry Barger, the alleged assailant of Mrs. Cheebaker, south of Hamburg, and who escaped lynching by a narrow margin two weeks ago. Barger, it was admitted by Sheriff McCaffrey, was spirited out of here three days ago and taken to St. Joseph, Mo. It was stated that fears of mob violence while passing through Taylor county caused the secret move.

Miner Killed at Enterprise.

Enterprise, Ia., Nov. 18.—A. C. Harris, a miner, was instantly killed by a fall of slate in the Garver mine here. He leaves a wife and family here.

DON'T SPECULATE---INVEST!

When you speculate on margins you are like the fellow holding on to a bear's tail as it runs around a tree—if you lose your hold the bear will get you. Invest in real estate. It is the true basis of wealth and if you want to play a sure game buy land that produces things. We have land of this kind for sale in Parrita Ranch, four miles from Tallahassee, Texas. It is land on which you can at any time borrow 75 per cent of its value.
