MURRAY, NEBRASKA

Geo. Cook, Murray for fine buggy Grandma Bird, of Union, is some better this week.
Remember December 3 is the date for the Presbyterian bazaar.
Little Margaret Spangler has a severe case of whooping cough.
Buy your rubber overshoes of Holmes & Smith, where you get good goods.
You want a new buggy? If you want the best for the least money call on George Cook.

Dec. 3—don't forget the date—that's when the Presbyterian bazaar takes place.
Mrs. O. A. Davis and Mrs. Florence Fleming drove to Plattsmouth Tuesday to do some shopping.
There will be a great many drawing features at the bazaar at Loughridge's hall, December 3.
The many friends of Mr. Peter Perry will be pleased to learn that he is much improved at this writing.
Miss Maude Rusterholtz will attend the State Teachers' association at Lincoln Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.
Ozro Virginia is able to bear a little weight on his foot, that he cut some time ago. It has been a serious time for Ozro.

The finest line of Buggies in Cass county at George Cook's. Call and examine our buggies and see how low we are selling them.
The school in district No. 7, east of Murray, has been closed on account of the illness of Miss Rosa Mumm, who is at her home in Plattsmouth.
S. O. Pitman, of the firm of Pitman & Davis, was in Nehawka several days this week doing some tin work on Chas. Chriswiler's new house.
Get your supper at the lunch counter at Loughridge's hall, and your dinner at the Presbyterian church, December 3. After you get your dinner you won't need a supper.

Ora Davis has been appointed moderator by the school board, in place of Nick Klaurens, who has removed from the district. The selection is a good one, and will give general satisfaction.
"Our Awful Aunt," a two-act play will be presented by the pupils of our school at Jenkins' hall next Tuesday night. Don't fail to see "Pete," the negro, and the old maid aunt. They are the two principal characters in the play.

Dr. J. W. Brendel and wife, of Avoca, Dr. B. F. Brendel and wife, Dr. J. F. Brendel and wife, Arthur Baker and family, Miss Bessie Brendel and Mr. Will Seybolt were entertained at Thanksgiving dinner at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Brendel.

In getting off the southbound train Sunday morning, James Campbell had the misfortune to fall, and injure himself. A gentleman stood on the car platform in front of him, and he was delayed in getting off until the train started, and it was pretty well under headway, when he stepped off, with the above results. Jim was not seriously hurt but received several bruises which prevented him from working for a couple of days.

Dr. Gilmore and James A. Walker autoed to Plattsmouth Tuesday morning to look after some business matters.

Buy your rubber boots and shoes at Holmes & Smith's, where you will find an assortment of the best on the market.

Raymond Creamer, who has been very sick for the past week with pneumonia, is reported some better at this writing.

Miss Etta Connelly and her mother departed Saturday morning for O'Neill, Nebraska, to visit relatives and friends.

Cold, blustery weather will soon be here. Prepare for its advent with one of those fine fur overcoats at Holmes & Smith's.

Holmes & Smith have received a fine line of holiday goods which will be open for inspection in a few days. Watch for the opening day.

Albert Young and Harve Grogg are in the neighborhood of Plainview, Nebraska, assisting the farmers in gathering their immense corn crops.

J. W. Holmes, wife and son, Ralph, and W. C. Brown went to Omaha Sunday afternoon, going via Plattsmouth and Council Bluffs. They returned via Louisville Monday, accompanied by Mrs. Brown, whom they met at Omaha.

Misses Pauline Oldham and Isabelle Young departed last Saturday for Plainview, Nebraska, to visit the latter's sister, Mrs. Warren Wiley, for a week or ten days. It is hinted that there are other attractions for the young ladies in that immediate vicinity.

James Hatchett and family and Dr. J. F. Brendel and wife went to Weeping Water Sunday in Mr. Hatchett's car. Mrs. Hatchett has relatives in Weeping Water and Mrs. Brendel visited her parents.

Mrs. John Murray and sister Ada, of Alva, Oklahoma, came in Tuesday morning for a visit with relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Holmes & Smith can sell you a warm fur overcoat as cheap as you can buy one in Omaha, Plattsmouth or any other town in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Menford, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Farris and S. N. Copenhaver were entertained at dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baker.

Mrs. Dora Moore and George Oldham, of Plattsmouth, and their niece, Mrs. H. E. Snyder, of Fairfield, Iowa, spent Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Oldham.

Many of the farmers of this vicinity are done gathering corn, but some of them don't seem to be satisfied with the market price, and will hold on for a while for a raise. There is some old corn coming in at 33 cents per bushel.

In Rock Bluffs.

The writer made his first trip to the staid old town of Rock Bluffs Tuesday afternoon. In making his regular weekly visit to Murray this week, and having finished his business, he jumped at an opportunity to get back to Plattsmouth a few hours ahead of the evening passenger train from the south. Mr. Frank Boedeker, cashier of the Nehawka bank, came into Murray about two o'clock in his fine auto, en route for Plattsmouth, and all by his lovely self. Mr. Boedeker solicited us to take a seat in his car together with Glen Boedeker, cashier of the Murray bank, and Dr. G. H. Gilmore. The latter having a patent at Rock Bluffs he desired to visit before coming to Plattsmouth, and through the kindness of the owner of the auto, we came that way. There is not much to see in this once prosperous village, except a few old buildings, land-marks of long ago, of which we will have more to say in the near future. We noted the building in which Mrs. Shera was murdered, the old store building once occupied by Walker & Patterson, and other buildings almost gone to pieces.

A Magnificent Surprise.

One of the most beautiful surprises of the season occurred one day this week, when James Loughridge presented his daughter, Miss Mae, with a handsome $400.00 piano. The young lady is proud of her gift, and much more so, because it was from her father. The instrument is a beautiful one, and one of the latest patterns, and Miss Mae will ever remember her dear father, and especially every time she sits at the instrument to play. Such gifts are more highly appreciated by a girl, just budding into early womanhood, than any other article that could be presented to them. May Miss Mae live long to enjoy the comfort of her father's gift.

Delightfully Entertained.

A great surprise was played on Mr. G. M. Menford Monday, and it was of the kind that he least expected. Mr. Menford had never thought of his birthday, or even how old he was on this date of its celebration, but his good wife had, and when her husband came home he found that a number of his relatives and friends were there for some purpose and in due time G. M. "caught on," as the saying goes, and took a hand in the enjoyment. Mrs. Menford is one of the finest cooks in Cass county, and when 6 o'clock arrived all were invited to partake of a three-course dinner, which was superb in all its details, and delightfully relished by all present. The event was a sort of a double celebration, the other party for whom the surprise was intended being Major Hall, who was five days older than Mr. Menford.

After dinner was over the balance of the evening was pleasantly spent in various amusements, the principal game being "Some 'R Set." It is needless to say that Mr. Menford and Major Hall joined in the merriment, and were "set" about as often, if not more so, than any of the others present. To say the least, it was a grand surprise to both gents of honor, and when a late hour arrived all repaired to their homes feeling "that it was good to be there."

Those who were present were: Mr. and Mrs. Will Menford, of Elmwood; Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Hall, of Plattsmouth; Mr. and Mrs. Will Richardson, of Mynard; Major Hall and wife, and Charles Mutz and wife, of Lewiston; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Smith and Miss Adda Stokes, of Murray. Mr. and Mrs. Will Menford, who came on purpose to assist in celebrating their home in Elmwood, Tuesday morning.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds and grip and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

LOUISVILLE. (Courier.)

The new Drake hotel will probably be open to the public on Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. Swan Loberg was taken to the Swedish hospital in Omaha Wednesday, where she underwent an operation for gall stones.

Alof Johnson has resigned his position as head clerk at Johnson's confectionery store and will attend the Luther Academy at Wahoo.

W. F. Krecklow and daughters, Lorean and Mabel, went to Grand Island last week where Mr. Krecklow went to attend a convention of the state blacksmiths' association and the young ladies to spend a few weeks with relatives.

Mrs. George Deleze returned the fore part of the week from Denver and at once entered the St. Joseph hospital at Omaha, where she underwent an operation for the removal of a cancer in her breast. The operation was a most serious one and the chances for her recovery are not very flattering.

John N. Peterson has moved back from Oklahoma. He tried farming in the southern state for five or six years and says between the dry weather and the insects it kept him guessing each year to raise enough to buy seed for the following season. Nebraska with her sure crops, he says is good enough for him.

Jim Terryberry tells the Courier that the road from his farm to town is in better condition than it has been for thirty years. In fact the good roads movement has been taken up all over the county and the result is most gratifying to the public. The county commissioners and the road supervisors of the county deserve much praise for the improvement made in our public roads. Let the good work continue.

Keister's Ladies' Tailoring College. Mrs. C. R. Moran and Mrs. N. A. Leist, managers. Second door from postoffice. Drafting, cutting, fitting, making, finishing and pressing thoroughly taught. All kinds of patterns drafted. Satisfaction guaranteed. 11-15-1wkd.

Rev. G. H. Moulton Dies.

Rev. George H. Moulton, of Weeping Water, died at his home in that city last Sunday, the 20th inst., of pneumonia and heart trouble.

Rev. Moulton has been identified with Weeping Water for the past fifteen years, having been stationed there as minister of the Methodist church for three years.

He was an able preacher, a man of high and lofty purpose and well liked by those with whom he came in contact. Within a short time after his pastorate at Weeping Water, he was retired on account of the age limit, and went to Weeping Water to make his home, near which city he owned a farm.

Rev. Moulton was an ex-union soldier, and took a lively interest in everything pertaining to the welfare of the old soldiers.

The deceased leaves a wife and three daughters to mourn his death. The daughters are, Mrs. Harriet Bailey, of Valley Junction, Iowa, Mrs. Alma Scown, of Marion, Iowa, and Miss Maud Moulton, residing at home. The funeral will be held Wednesday at 2 o'clock.
