CAUGHT IN THE VERY ACT OF STEALING CLOTHING

JUDGE SULLIVAN ABOUT THE SAME.

Dr. W. B. Elster came down from Omaha last evening and spent the night with his father-in-law, Judge A. N. Sullivan, whose condition remains unchanged this morning. During the night Judge Sullivan had a very bad turn, and the family thought he would not survive until morning, but the patient rallied slightly, and this morning took a little water, the first for many hours. Judge Sullivan has not regained consciousness and his condition was yet very critical when Dr. Elster left this morning to return to Omaha.

In addition to providing only a penalty of life imprisonment for first degree murder, the bills take away some of the governor's pardoning power and make it absolutely impossible for a life prisoner to escape the penitentiary until he has served at least thirty years.

Even after that it is made difficult enough for him to get out as he is compelled by the provisions of the proposed law to have his case submitted to a board composed of the governor, secretary of state and chief justice of the supreme court, who must be unanimous for a pardon before it can be granted.

A proposed constitutional amendment excludes life prisoners sentenced for murder from the governor's pardoning power.

Gustafson, of Saunders, discovered that he had unintentionally been flim-flammed today, and asked to have withdrawn his bill proposing to repeal the direct primary law. He had asked the legislative reference library attendants to draft a bill repealing the open feature of the primary. They misunderstood him and drew a bill repealing the law in its entirety.

If a bill by Hatfield, of Lancaster, gets through, it will be unlawful for county attorneys or their deputies to perform legal services for any person, the law requiring them to engage only in the county work which they were elected to perform. The bill was inspired by complaint against the Lancaster county attorney and his deputies, who have been charged with neglecting their public duties to attend to private business.

Ice Harvest Blocked.

The open weather the past two days has caused a gorge of water below the bridge, backing the water up under the field where McMaken & Son were harvesting ice yesterday afternoon and the work was discontinued until colder weather. The firm had intended to begin today with about thirty teams and fill the large ice house, which will be delayed some days until the ice is in better shape.

IT GROWS HAIR

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk.

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course, in none of these cases were the hair roots dead, nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair, and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us, and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for it. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. F. G. Fricke & Co.

JUNIOR AUXILIARY OF ST. LUKE'S CHURCH MEETS

That excellent and earnest working little band of young folks known as the Junior Auxiliary of the St. Luke's church, met at the pleasant and commodious home of Mrs. Eva Reese last evening at which time a carefully prepared and most excellent musical program was rendered. Light refreshments were served, as is the usual custom, in addition to the musical program; a small fee of ten cents is charged for all those who wish to attend, and the amount taken goes to the treasury of this little class of busy workers, all of whom are earnestly working to the one end.

Ed. Kelley, of South Omaha, was before Judge Archer last evening on a charge of being drunk and fighting. He was given $5 and costs, which will require several days to board out in the city department of the county jail. Kelley was just in the act of confiscating a couple of suits at the dry cleaning establishment of Mr. Hampton, when Chief Rainey apprehended him, and the clothing was returned to the hook, not having been removed from the room. No charge of larceny was lodged against the accused.

Ward Barr, with whom Kelley was said to have fought, was brought in at the same time, but claimed he "fit" in self-defense. His case was put over until this morning to give Kelley time to sober up, that his side of the controversy could be given. The evidence developed that Kelley had made the attack, striking Barr on the head when his back was turned, whereupon Barr turned and gave him a trouncing, knocking him down, fell upon him, administering considerable punishment after Kelley was floored.

This the judge considered was too aggressive for self-defense, and gave Ward also, $5 and costs.

Raymer, Colorado.

Our young friend, Eugene Tighe, sends us the Christmas number of the Raymer (Colorado) Enterprise, which is quite a creditable edition, and as the name indicates, shows a commendable spirit on the part of the publisher, Mr. S. P. Majors. In looking over the local department, we note the following in reference to former Cass county people:

"J. Tighe and son came here in August to visit Mr. Tighe's son Eugene, who has a choice homestead about 4 miles southwest of Raymer. They were so well pleased with the country that Mr. Tighe lost no time in buying the relinquishment on a quarter section of land joining that of Eugene's. He had a house erected at once, and his wife arrived here from Lincoln, Nebraska, October 10, 1910, with their household effects, to make this her home. Besides the house they have a good cellar, a chicken coop 8x14, a well 200 feet deep with an abundance of good water, 65 acres fenced and 15 acres plowed."

MISSOURI PACIFIC WANTS TO INCREASE RATES

A special from Chicago, under date of January 17, says: "It is the policy of the Missouri Pacific railway to advance all rates that can be advanced" in addition to the proposed increases in commodity rates now under investigation by the interstate commerce commission is announced frankly in the brief filed with the commission in the western rate case by James C. Jeffrey, interstate commerce attorney for the road.

"It is our contention," he says, "that in order to exist it is absolutely necessary to have not only the slight revenue ($94,000) involved in the present proceeding but there must be large increases in the rates on all classes and commodities hauled by that company. This necessity arises from the single fact that the increased cost of operation (due principally to enormous increases in wages to various classes or organized labor) is outstripping by leaps and bounds the increase in gross earnings."

"We believe there can be no dissent to the legal proposition that a common carrier is entitled to a fair return on the value of the property devoted to transportation purposes, and therefore we direct ourselves in this brief to the broad question of fact as to whether, upon the evidence introduced by this company, it is not conclusively shown that there is need for an advance in rates sufficient to allow the reasonable return upon the value of the property to which it is legally entitled, but not now receiving."

FUNERAL OF DR. BARNES HELD THIS AFTERNOON

The funeral of Dr. A. P. Barnes, who died last Tuesday morning occurred this afternoon at the Methodist church, Rev. W. L. Austin, pastor of the church conducting it. The church was filled with acquaintances and friends of the deceased, Dr. Barnes having been a familiar figure in eastern Nebraska for the past forty years, he having been a resident of this city for the last twelve years of his life.

The music for the occasion was furnished by a quartet of ladies, namely: Mrs. R. B. Hayes, Mrs. Ed. Tutt, Miss Ellen Windham and Alice Tucci, Mrs. Howland presiding at the organ.

The pall bearers were W. K. Fox, W. S. Briggs, Charles Morgan C. A. Rawles, D. C. Morgan and A. L. Tidd.

Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

In the County Court.

Suit was filed yesterday by the Bank of Commerce, of Louisville, Nebraska, in the county court against William Stohman, a farmer of that locality, in which the bank seeks a judgment on a promissory note for $68.80, drawn for thirty days, bearing date November 15, 1910. Constable J. R. Denson went out to Louisville with the summons this afternoon on the Schuyler, the usual No. 23 freight being annulled for the day. The case will be for hearing at the next term of the county court which convenes February 6th, next.

John Porter, of near Murray, was in the city today, coming for a supply of flour. John says if anything will make a man come to town, it is getting out of this necessary essential.
