THE PASSING OF JUDGE SULLIVAN

He Died Last Night at 9:30 After Being Unconscious for Four Days.

From Saturday's Daily. Judge A. N. Sullivan, who suffered a paralytic stroke one week ago last Monday afternoon, died last night about 9:30, after being in an unconscious state for the past four days.

Albert N. Sullivan was born in Toronto, Canada, in 1848, and came to the United States and Cass county almost forty-three years ago, arriving here in July, 1869, being then a young man of about twenty years of age. He first engaged in school teaching in the rural schools of the county and purchased a farm near Weeping Water, where he resided, following the pursuit of a farmer during the summer and teaching during the winter.

On June 12, 1871, the deceased was married to Miss Mary Jean, of near Plattsmouth. To this union six children were born, namely: Charles, of Omaha, Mrs. Harriett Becker, Mrs. W. B. Elster and Mrs. Ralph Towle, of Omaha, Mrs. Asa Snyder, of Dallas, South Dakota, and Miss Gladys Sullivan, of Plattsmouth, all of whom with his widow survive to mourn his death.

Judge Sullivan was a well known attorney in eastern Nebraska, having been elected county judge of this county in November, 1877, and re-elected in 1879, serving two terms in this important position.

He left the office of county judge and had an extensive and lucrative law practice, being at one time associated in business with E. H. Wooley, under the firm name of Wooley & Sullivan, and afterward for several years was in partnership with Allen J. Beeson, sr., now deceased, in the practice of law for several years. He was deputy county attorney at the time Mr. Beeson was county attorney.

At the time the Missouri Pacific built its line through Plattsmouth, Judge Sullivan was active in aiding the company in acquiring its right-of-way, and was after appointed the company's local attorney, and aided in the trials of its most important litigation in the courts of this county. He was of a gentle and loving disposition, a kind and affectionate husband and father, and his death will be deeply mourned by a large circle of old-time friends.

As a lawyer, Judge Sullivan was unusually successful in the trial of his cases, and for many years his name appeared on one side or the other of a majority of the cases brought in the courts of this county, and in the many years of his practice he was never found unfaithful to a client.

The funeral service will occur tomorrow afternoon at his late residence, at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. L. Austin, assisted by Cannon Burgess.

Interment will take place at the Elkensbury cemetery.

Real Golden Eagle.

Last fall while out hunting south of this city Fritz Fricke shot what he supposed was a large hawk, but on further investigation discovered that it was a splendid specimen of the golden eagle. He had the bird sent to Omaha where it was mounted. It is now on exhibition in one of the windows of F. G. Fricke & Co., and is certainly a beautiful trophy of which Mr. Fricke is justly proud.

Charter Granted Western Men. Washington, Jan. 21.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor decided to grant a charter to the Western Federation of Miners on the same basis as that granted to the United Mine Workers of America. The latter organization in convention in Columbus, O., threatened to withdraw from the American Federation of Labor unless the western federation was admitted.

LUMBERMEN END THEIR LABORS

Election of Officers Concludes Meeting at Omaha.

KROTTER CHOSEN PRESIDENT.

W. H. Harrison of Grand Island is Vice President—Sharp Debate on Way Shingles Are Packed—Holmes Injects Spice into Discussion.

Omaha, Jan. 21.—With the reelection of President William Krotter and the election of two other officers the state lumbermen's convention concluded its business at the Hotel Home W. H. Harrison of Grand Island received the office of vice president and director and Frank Kaup of Ord was elected a director.

Spice was injected into the session when several lumber dealers took issue with two lumber manufacturers declaring that bundles of shingles were being delivered in short measure, Samuel Schaefer and R. C. Fitzgerald, manufacturers from the Pacific coast, in turn made addresses proposing a resolution that shingles hereafter be sold by the bundle and not by the thousand, and that legislation be asked for a revision of railroad tariffs. In the midst of this, Arthur L. Holmes, a dealer from Detroit, rose and declared that such a move would not be an unmixed blessing. He flatly contradicted the manufacturers on the two points that packages from the factory contained 1,000 shingles and that they measure twenty inches in width.

"Give us an honest shingle and an honest bundle," said Mr. Holmes, "and we will help you then to get legislation." The resolution did not receive any formal action, owing to the fact that it had not been prepared in time.

WILL LOSE BOTH HIS FEET

Henry Cashman Found Badly Frozen in Home Near Broken Bow.

Broken Bow, Neb., Jan. 21.—As a result of the late severe weather, Henry Cashman, a man about sixty years of age, will possibly lose both of his feet, after having them badly frozen. Cashman is a farmer and lives alone on his place, about seven miles east of here. After the blizzard and the severe cold weather that followed neighbors became aware of the fact that Cashman had not been seen about the farm for some time. They went over to the place and found Cashman lying on a rude bed, composed of ordinary straw, with some men's blankets thrown over him. Both feet were frozen and he was unable to assist himself in any way. On a table in the room stood a small stove, this being the only heating arrangement in the house. An examination showed that one foot and possibly both would have to be amputated.

HOUSE HOLDS SESSION

Question of Improving Capital Building is Considered.

Lincoln, Jan. 21.—The house of representatives held a session this morning. The question of capital removal was touched upon when H. R. 3, to expend $1,500 on improving one end of the capital building, was considered in committee of the whole. Gerdes and Price, who are interested in getting the capital taken to Grand Island counseled slow action on this because it might stand in the way of a capitol removal later if too much money were spent on the old building. The argument was overthrown, however, by the contention of others that it would take years anyway before a new building could be built, and the present one should be kept in good condition in the meantime.

Demurrer in Perry Yeast Case.

Lincoln, Jan. 21.—The demurrer of the defendants in the case of the United States against Perry Yeast and others for alleged intimidation of homesteaders was overruled by Judge Munger in the federal court. The assertion was made that the indictment was defective, but the court held that the elements of it were in accord with the statute.

Boy Murderer Convicted.

Duluth, Jan. 21.—Charles Melodrowski, the seventeen-year-old boy who shot and killed Policeman Harry Chesmore on a street car, Jan. 6, was found guilty of murder in the second degree in the district court. The penalty is life imprisonment.

Beekeepers Elect Officers.

Lincoln, Jan. 21.—The following officers were elected for the Nebraska Beekeepers' association: President, William Steinhoff of Friend; vice president, J. H. Wakner of Beatrice; secretary treasurer, Frank G. Odell of Lincoln.

TO GREATLY INCREASE PAY OF SUPERINTENDENTS

Taylor, of Hitchcock, has a bill for the relief of county superintendents, which seeks to raise the pay of all of them in no considerable degree. It changes the basis for fixing this salary from the school population to that of actual population gleaned from the census report of 1910. Under the present law the highest salary paid outside of Douglas county is $1,200 per annum, and from that it ranges down to a fixed salary of $800 in counties where the school population is 1,500 to 2,500, or the actual population about 7,500 to 12,500. The salaries to be paid if the bill becomes a law are as follows: Counties where the population is 75,000 or more, $2,500 a year; in counties of population of 20,000 to 55,000, $2,200 per year; in counties of population of 15,000 to 20,000, $1,800 a year; where population is 10,000 to 15,000, $1,600 per year; population from 7,000 to 10,000, $1,300 per year; where population of county is 4,900 to 7,000, not more than $1,000 per year, and in all other counties $5 per day with maximum not to exceed $1,000.

Bills have already been introduced for increased pay for about half the different county officers and it is expected the other officers will soon be represented by similar bills. Such measures have, as a rule, a hard road to travel before they pass both houses.

LITTLE GERMAN CLUB DINE WITH MRS. HARRIS

The little German club of this city composed of ten members, one of whom, Mrs. Lena Harris, now resides in Omaha, have it in their by-laws as one of the religious duties of the membership to remember the birthday of each member. Today the club went in a body to Omaha to celebrate the birthday of Mrs. Harris. The members going were: Mrs. Henry Herold, Mrs. J. A. Donelan, Mrs. Jas. Donnelly, Mrs. Britt, Mrs. Will Clement, Miss Mia Gering, Miss Julia Herman, Miss Leonard, Miss Barbara Gering and Miss Dora Fricke. Miss Maud Mason is also a member, but being sick did not attend.

Painful Accident.

Mrs. J. W. Kinnison met with a very painful accident one day last week while feeding a sausage grinder at her home. She was pressing the meat into the mill when one of her fingers caught into the knives cutting it off at the first joint, only a small particle remaining intact. The finger was put in place and a couple of stitches taken and now is almost completely healed.—Louisville Courier.

Martin Steppat and wife and F. H. Steppat and wife were passengers to Omaha on the afternoon train today, where they visited the Clarkson hospital to see Miss Anna Steppat, who has been there for a few days with a trouble with her ears.

LITTLE BOY MEETS WITH A FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT

Last Sunday morning little Leo Cline, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cline, in company with his little sister went to the Christian church to start a fire. He was cautioned by his mother before leaving home to be very careful and not touch the oil can. The children took a supply of kindling with them, but the fire did not burn as readily as they wished and Leo picked up what he supposed was the coal oil can and started to pour some of the contents upon the smoldering fire. It proved to be gasoline and an explosion followed which was heard by people two blocks away. The explosion struck the unfortunate boy fairly in the face and blew him across the room, setting fire to his cap and clothing. A number of men were attracted by the explosion and ran to the church, and arriving just as the boy ran into the street with his head enveloped in flames. Smothering out the flames he was carried to a physician's office where his wounds were dressed. His neck and face is one solid blister, but luckily his eyesight was not destroyed. The little girl was not injured.

Charles Pankonin, who was attracted to the scene by the report of the explosion, took off his coat and with difficulty beat out the flames, which for a time threatened the church with destruction.—Louisville Courier.

Death of James C. Tighe.

James C. Tighe died last Monday at 8 p. m. of Bright's disease. He lived with his brother, P. W. Tighe, on the John Murphy farm, four miles north and one-half east of town. James Tighe was about 42 years old, he was a resident of Colorado for four years and was brought home last September and has been sick since that time. He formerly taught school in Cass county. He leaves a wife, an aged mother, and is one of a family of six sons and four daughters, all prominent citizens and well known in Cass county.

The funeral was held at 10:30 a. m., Wednesday, January 18th, from the Catholic church, Manley, and was largely attended.—Weeping Water Republican.

George A. Melsinger, of Mynard, one of the prosperous farmers of this county and one of the best friends of this paper, was in the city today, looking after business matters. Mr. Melsinger called at this office and said he did not care for the Semi-Weekly any longer and handed us the wherewithal and ordered the Daily Journal sent to him. We are very much pleased to place Mr. Melsinger on our rapidly growing daily list.
