HARDWARE MEN IN CONVENTION

Fred W. Ebinger Elected Director, and Also Delegate to the National Convention

The Nebraska Hardware Dealers' convention closed a hot session in Omaha yesterday. Certain hot-headed members made a heroic attempt to establish a combination of business interests against the jobbing houses, and in the final meeting officers were elected. Lincoln was named as the meeting place for 1912.

S. A. Sanderson, of Lincoln, was elected as president. He was chosen in comparatively short order and in the nature of a strong favorite, whereas through the nomination of six candidates for each office, voting for the other officers dragged out all the afternoon to a late hour.

Following are the men who compose the new staff under President Sanderson: Maurice Hussle, Omaha, vice president; J. Frank Barr, Lincoln, secretary, and W. C. Kline, Millford, treasurer. Directors were chosen as follows: H. L. Schofield, Lincoln; F. W. Ebinger, plainview; Albert Degner, Norfolk; Frank Hacker, Friend; C. B. Diehl, Stratton, and J. Cass, Ord.

Delegates to the national convention are: F. W. Arndt, Blair; F. W. Ebinger, Plainview; R. N. McAllister, Grand Island; Charles Slahan, Kearney; John H. McGraff, Hastings, and the following alternates, J. C. Cornell, Ord; R. W. Weanerling, Beatrice; Albert Degner, Norfolk; E. W. Shaffer, Tekamah, and Leon Baker, Lincoln.

Entertainment Postponed.

A message was received from Joe Mik, of the Omaha Sokol society, informing the local society here that on account of four members of his troupe being sick, two of them in the hospital, it will be impossible to give the play advertised for February 12, and the coming of the Omaha players will be postponed to a later date.

Mr. F. P. Sheldon, F. G. Nutzman and A. F. Sturm, of Nebraska, visited the city last evening and were guests of the Riley while looking after business matters of importance in Plattsmouth.

A Shooting Scrape.

A shooting scrape occurred at the home of Eugene Stutt, near Avoca, one day last week. It seemed, for some fancied offense, a man whose name is unknown to us, went to the Stutt home with a gun. He went inside, leaving the gun by the door, after a short time he went outside, and supposing he had gone, Martin Nelson, who was at the Stutt home, went to the door and the man, evidently waiting, fired at him. The shot is said to have been intended for Mr. Stutt. Mr. Nelson received a wound in his forehead. A Syracuse physician was called and did what he could for the injured man, who was later taken to Omaha for treatment.—Syracuse Democrat.

MEASURES IN READINESS TO ESTABLISH WAREHOUSES

Reports from Lincoln are to the effect that Senator Ollis will perhaps introduce his warehouse and grain inspection bill Monday or Tuesday. This bill is one of much interest to the farmer, and provides that all elevators or storehouses shall be public storehouses and fixing grain inspection and standardization of grades. The bill makes all elevators public warehouses to the extent that their commercial dealings shall be uniform and they are divided into three classes. Class A includes all elevators where grain is stored in bulk and in which grain of different owners is stored together, all such warehouses to be located in metropolitan cities, that is in Omaha. Class B includes all warehouses in which grain is stored in bulk and grain of different owners is mixed together. Class C includes all warehouses of other kinds stored for commercial purposes. Licenses for running warehouses are to be issued by the state railway commission and bonds are to be required of from $10,000 to $50,000.

All warehouses are required to accept any grain that is offered from any customer, and after it has been duly inspected and graded it is to be placed with grain of that grade and in no case is to be mixed with other grades. Warehousekeepers shall not be allowed to insert in their warehouse receipts any clause which limits their own ability in regard to grain stored with them. The maximum rates to be charged for storage are specified.

The board of trade in cities where inspection is necessary is to appoint an inspector, subject to removal by the governor, for two years and he shall appoint deputies. The standard grades are to be fixed by the state railway commission. The bill does not prevent the selling of grain by sample regardless of grade. The bill has fifty sections and covers seventeen close typewritten pages.

TOO MUCH TIME SPENT IN FREAK LEGISLATION

When the Nebraska legislature has completed its labors we will have a bunch of foolish legislation, and added to that which we have will simply make more business for the attorneys. It looks as if the attorneys assist in the matter of drafting many of the bills presented leaving loopholes in them which is inclined to cause litigation. What we should have is a constitutional convention, where all good laws could be boiled down and made plain, while the "trash" would be cut out and then stop legislating for about ten years, until the people could soak up what was really left of the laws and what they really meant. We have and always have had too many laws and too little enforcement.—Nebraska City News.

Mr. R. B. Windham returned last evening from Lincoln, where he was a spectator at the legislature for a time. Mr. Windham found the Cass county delegates up to their eyes in work, and the body in good working trim.

Mr. Frank Young, of Lincoln, president of the Masonic Home, was a Plattsmouth visitor today, having come down to attend to some business affairs.

Mrs. Julia Dwyer went to Glenwood on the morning train today to visit her son for a short time.
