

Young Men!

YOU who are first in the field when it comes to cloths, should see the new Spring styles that we are showing.

Our two most popular models this season are the Apollo (3 button coat) and the Master (2 button coat.) The most noticeable difference between these garments and what we sold last season, is the close fitting effect; less padding in the shoulders, smaller and shorter sleeves, higher cut vests and semi loose fitting trousers.

ASHLAND DRAINAGE DISTRICT. DETAILED REPORT OF APPOINTMENT OF UNITS OF BENEFIT AND ASSESSMENT.

State of Nebraska, Saunders and Cass Counties, ss.

To Whom It May Concern.

The undersigned, President and Secretary of Ashland Drainage District, hereby certify that at a duly called meeting of the Board of Directors thereof, held at Ashland, Nebraska, on the 18th day of March, 1911, the following resolution was adopted by said Board as the Detail Report of Apportionment of Units of Benefit and Assessment in said Ashland Drainage District:

"RESOLVED, That the Board of Directors of Ashland Drainage District, having heretofore, with the aid of the engineer chosen by them, made detailed plans of the public work to be done by said district under the terms of the law under which it is organized, and having traversed said district and carefully inspected all the various tracts of land therein with the view of making a fair and just apportionment of the units of benefit and assessment to said respective tracts according to benefits received from said improvement, and having apportioned one unit of benefit and assessment to each of the tracts least benefited, and to each tract receiving a greater benefit a greater number of units or fraction thereof, according to the benefits received; and having met at Knights of Pythias Hall in the City of Ashland, Saunders County, Nebraska, on the fourth day of March, 1911, at the hour of ten A. M., pursuant to notice published for more than one week immediately preceding said meeting in each of the following named newspapers, to-wit: Wahoo Democrat, published at Wahoo, the county seat of Saunders County, Nebraska; Plattsmouth Journal, published at Plattsmouth, the county seat of Cass County, Nebraska; and the Ashland Gazette, published at Ashland, Saunders County, Nebraska, for the purpose of hearing all parties interested in the apportionment of benefits by reason of said drainage improvement, and having heard all parties interested, and being fully advised in the premises, and having made said apportionment fair and just according to benefits received from said improvement, and having completed the apportionment of benefits in said district, said Board of Directors, on this 18th day of March, 1911, does hereby make detailed report of said apportionment of benefits, and the total number of units of benefit in said district, and direct that said report be filed with the County Clerk of Saunders County, Nebraska, as follows, to-wit:

DETAILED REPORT OF APPOINTMENT OF UNITS OF BENEFIT AND ASSESSMENT.

Description.	Units of Benefit Assessment.

ELMWOOD

Leader-Echo.

A seven-pound baby boy arrived on Dr. Stork's special yesterday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Shrader are the happy parents.

George Shackley of Avoca was calling on Elmwood business men Wednesday. He is traveling salesman for a Sioux City concern.

A. A. Barden of Avoca came up Tuesday for a short visit with M. R. Beck. Mr. Barden was an old school teacher of Mr. Beck's way back in the 70's.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stone of Alvo drove down in their new touring car Sunday for a short visit with the latter's sister, Mrs. A. H. Weichel.

Mrs. Lola Williams Hooster of Kansas came Monday morning for a visit with her old friends, Messrs. and Mesdames John P. Cobb and C. S. Aldrich.

Mrs. Irvin Myers and daughter, Mildred, of Thurman, Iowa, are guests at the home of Grandpa Durbin. Mr. Myers came over Saturday with his family, but made only a short visit, owing to business matters at home.

Miss Ethel Wilson, who has been visiting at the home of her uncle, James Durbin, left Tuesday evening for her home at Marietta, Ohio, upon receipt of a message announcing the serious illness of her grandmother, with whom she has always made her home.

Harmond Beck and family of Murray took advantage of the good roads Sunday and run up and spent the day with Grandma Corbett. Ask Harmond why he had to 'phone to Dick to come out and fix him up so he could get back home. Your gasoline horse is all right, but if you want to be sure of getting home take your horse and buggy.

LIQUOR SELLING CASE IN COURT

Charges Against Edward Rynott Hotly Contested.

DECIDES IN FAVOR OF RYNOTT

Justice Archer Finds the Evidence Insufficient to Convict the Defendant.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The case of the State against Ed Rynott, charged with illegal sales of intoxicating liquor on February 11, 12 and 13 to young Billings and J. Butler, was threshed out yesterday before Judge Archer in an all-day session, the argument being closed at 5 o'clock, when the court adjourned, taking the case under advisement until today or tomorrow, but stating that he would hand down a decision just as soon as possible.

The state had its interests looked after by County Attorney Taylor, while M. Gering defended.

The witnesses put on by the state were the complaining witnesses, Sam Billings and James Butler, and J. M. Leyda and James Mauzy. While the defendants called Sheriff Quinton, Walter Trumphour, C. H. Taylor and Ed Rynott.

Billings and Butler testified to procuring whisky at the Rynott drug store at the instigation of Sheriff Quinton and J. M. Leyda; that they took the liquor to the office of Mr. Leyda and turned it over to him and the sheriff. On Saturday and Monday nights Billings testified he procured the liquor from James Mauzy, clerk in the store at the time, and the witness testified that no questions were asked as to the use of the liquor was to be put to. On Sunday night they entered the store and Butler procured the whisky from Rynott, who handed him the half pint which was already wrapped up. No questions were asked, according to Butler's statement on the stand.

Leyda was sworn and corroborated in part the testimony of the other two, so far as he could remember. He also produced the three flasks of liquor, which he said he and the sheriff received from Butler and Billings. These were sealed up and the affidavit of Leyda attached as to the facts of the procuring, date and circumstance.

Mr. Mauzy was sworn and testified that he did not remember whether he asked Billings what he wanted the liquor for or not, but thought he did, as he had strict instructions from Mr. Rynott not to sell any intoxicating liquor for other than for medical, mechanical or sacramental purposes. He remembered making the entry in the register, "sold for medicine," near the time the sale was made. He further testified that Mr. Rynott was not in the store at the time the sale in either case was made, on Saturday or Monday evening.

Mr. Rynott testified in his own behalf that he sold the half-pint to Butler on the evening of February 12. That he distinctly remembered that he told Butler when asked for the half pint, that "this is Sunday," and Butler replied, "I want it for medicine, and I am going right home."

Mr. Gering of Omaha testified in the case, as did Mr. Quinton and Mr. Taylor. The sheriff was very slow and cautious in his replies, and evidently had a high regard for the sacredness of an oath, as he invariably had counsel to be explicit as to what men and what store was referred to in the interrogatories. The sheriff's manner of testifying was very expatiating to defendant's counsel, who seemed anxious to get at the truth.

County Attorney Taylor was asked but few questions, and many of the questions were objected to as immaterial and the objection sustained. Mr. Taylor made it plain, however, that he had had nothing to do with the case until Mr. Leyda brought into his office the three flasks and Butler, when he had drawn the complaint filed in the case.

When the evidence was in the county attorney took but a few minutes in arguing for the binding over of the defendant, and cited but one authority. Mr. Gering occupied more than an hour and cited numerous authorities to the court. Mr. Gering scathingly arraigned the sheriff and J. M. Leyda, the first outboud to preserve the peace, in using the method they had in stirring up litigation, and in hiring Butler and Billings to induce Rynott to commit a crime. Mr. Gering did not mince words in the least, and no one could fail to understand his biting sarcasm when directed at the officer of the law responsible in part for the persecution of an honest man, who had come into our midst to try to make a living for his wife and children. Mr. Gering argued that the sales made by James Mauzy could not in any manner be held to incriminate his employer, should the court find that such sales had been made in violation of law. Mr. Gering cited many Indian cases to this point, as well as Nebraska cases. On the sale alleged to have been made on Sunday to Butler, Mr. Gering argued that the word of Rynott was certainly much better than a man who was unknown here, and that this count was the only one there could be any question about, and the evidence was so weak that no jury would convict upon it.

N. B.—Since the above was put in type Judge Archer has handed down his decision and finds that there was not probable cause to hold the defendant, and found for Mr. Rynott.

LOUISVILLE

Courier.

The Courier is in receipt of a letter from the Steele family at Grand Island in which they say they like their new home immensely.

Mrs. D. Brown and son, Donald, of Halbur, Iowa, arrived Thursday evening and are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Brown.

John Meiers' new home on Gospel Hill is completed and he will move his family in Monday. It is a neat six-room house and is nicely finished in hard oil. John Koop did the work.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schoeman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krechlow, Mrs. Will Hoover and two daughters, Grace and Mildred, went to Plattsmouth Wednesday to celebrate the birthday of their sister, Mrs. William Meisinger. A fine dinner was served to a large number and the occasion was greatly enjoyed.

E. A. Watson, an employee of the Missouri Pacific bridge gang, met with an accident Wednesday morning that will lay him up for some time. A large iron water pipe fell on his left leg, fracturing the bone above the knee. Dr. Worthman accompanied him to Omaha, where he was taken to a hospital.

Constable Wright and Fred Glesman were in Louisville early Thursday morning looking for a couple of young felolws recently employed by Glesman, who had relieved him of a neat sum of money before leaving the night before. They were located at the Burlington depot. Marshal Seybert was called and the boys acknowledged the theft and turned over the money.

The reading room provided by the library committee was opened Monday night and is to be open each evening. It is furnished with chairs and tables and has a fair supply of papers and magazines. The opportunity for a place to spend a quiet evening with good reading is something much needed in Louisville and it is hoped it will be freely used and appreciated. Those who desire to aid this worthy enterprise can do so by contributing papers and magazines.

Do you know that of all the minor ailments colds are by far the most dangerous? It is not the cold itself that you need to fear, but the serious diseases that it often leads to. Most of these are known as germ diseases. Pneumonia and consumption are among them. Why not take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and cure your cold while you can? For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

There is quite a number of nice looking girls in this town who have fished all winter and have not even had a bite. Why don't the matrimonial market clear up? Why this depression when times are fairly good?

L. W. Ingwersen and J. L. Kennedy have dissolved partnership in the real estate business and the former has bought a pump and windmill business and property in Nehawka, and will locate there. Mr. Kennedy will continue in the real estate business here.

NEHAWKA.

News.

Mrs. C. W. Banning of Seward visited relatives here and at Murray Tuesday and Wednesday, returning home Thursday.

About fifteen pupils from the surrounding school districts were here Thursday taking examinations for entrance to the higher grades.

Mrs. Lena Roods, who has conducted the boarding house for a good many years at the hill quarry just east of town, and whose husband died here several years ago, has moved her household goods to Louisville, where she has bought property and will reside.

Spring is opening up on schedule and it looks like we ought to have a good crop of apples. The trees have had a long rest, have passed the winter in good shape and they should produce bountifully. It will be nice to see a bunch of apple-pickers at work in the orchards.

W. S. Doughty of Alleghany county, Pennsylvania, came in last week for a visit of several weeks duration to his brother, John Doughty and family. This is Mr. Doughty's first trip to Nebraska, and he is very favorably impressed with the looks of this part of the country. John has been a resident of this state for twenty-six years.

Word has been received from E. M. Pollard that since their arrival in Hayti their baby has been very sick again. They were unable to get any medical attention except a colored doctor, but say that he was well qualified and handled the little fellow's case in such a manner as to bring him through in fine shape.

The Nehawka mill has been working steady for some time. They have filled orders for two cars of their flour to be shipped to New York City and have recently shipped a car to Memphis, where they have a regular customer who takes a carload every few weeks. This speaks pretty well for their product.

L. H. Ingwersen, who purchased the pump and windmill business of W. H. Porter, and also his residence property, is moving in this week. Mr. Ingwersen comes from Weeping Water, where he has been living for some time, and has a large acquaintance around here. He is a practical pump man and we feel sure he will succeed in holding the business here in his line.

Miss Lizzie Roblyer has given up her position at the central office and has decided to go to Lincoln, where she will get higher wages.

Major Roblyer, who is working at the livery barn, had a runaway Monday, but no serious damage to himself or rig was reported.

The soliciting committee for the baseball team has succeeded in raising over $100 that has been subscribed by our business men. This money will be used in purchasing new uniforms and for the building of a grandstand.

William T. Sack met with an accident while in town one evening last week, that has compelled him ever since to use crutches in order to navigate. He was walking east on the sidewalk between Latrom's hardware store and the livery barn, when a broken board flew up, causing William to fall. His right ankle was badly sprained and he received injuries to his hands and also to the ligaments of his right leg. He went to Lincoln Sunday to consult a surgeon in regard to his case.
