CLOSING DAYS IN THE LEGISLATURE

Both Houses Hustling to Complete Their Campaign Pledges.

Without regard to politics, members of the thirty-second legislature are feeling pretty well satisfied with results up to date. It is conceded by all that the session just coming to a close will stand the scrutiny of the most capricious critics.

The first veto message of the session was the feature of the past week in the house. Governor Aldrich refused to sign what is known as the Taylor-Dolezal stock yards bill, and gave reasons for his veto in positive terms. Briefly, the governor contended that the Taylor-Dolezal bill, house roll 82, sought to give the state railway commission power to regulate it, and then escaped any such restriction because the bill declared it a public market. The governor said the constitution gave the railway commission no power to regulate public markets.

Right on the heels of this veto, which the house sustained, came the Ollis bill, senate file 115, as a natural sequence, and the house passed it with a whoop. Of course this means the Ollis bill will be written in the statutes and it will be the first regulatory measure passed by the state with regard to the stock yards, notwithstanding the attempts to do so for the last sixteen years. Incidentally, it means that the stock yards will be out of politics, in all probability, at future sessions for some time to come.

When shall we adjourn? That is the question which no one can answer just now. The senate has set April 4, and a report of the joint committee on adjournment, setting that date, was promptly tabled by the house. Of course this means that there are many sensible members in the house who realize it would be a physical impossibility to clean up the grist in any decent manner by that date. The indications are that the house will not adjourn sine die until at least Friday, April 7. Most of the members in both branches seem to understand the importance of giving this their attention.

Appropriations have been generous, but it cannot be denied that they have been judiciously apportioned, and that they have been largely for educational and charitable institutions. The indications are that the thirty-second session will be accused of having squandered unnecessarily the people's money in the way of appropriations. Henry Gerdes, the majority leader, and Speaker John Kuhl have both strongly opposed at every turn what they considered unnecessary appropriations.

Members of the democratic majority are feeling pretty well satisfied so far as party pledges are concerned. Most of them have been kept to the letter, and all have promise of going through. Of course the first of these is the initiative and referendum bill, and then there is the agricultural school for southwest Nebraska, the apportionment bills, etc.

The senate and house officials are trying hard to economize by dropping unnecessary help and in any other way to make up for the big expense item incurred by the investigation of the governor's charges against Omaha's election methods. That was an expensive fiasco and was all brought about by a lot of dope furnished by John O. Yeiser.

The redistricting bills for legislative and congressional purposes are attracting unwonted attention. The judicial apportionment measure will probably go through with little contest.

Good roads measures have had due consideration and it is confidently believed that our statutes will be simplified as a result of the present session.

PLEASANT GATHERING AT HOME OF MR. WM. GRAVITT

From Wednesday's Daily.

The pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. William Gravitt, in the south part of the city, was the scene of a most delightful surprise party last evening, which was given in honor of Miss Venus Mowery of Watson, Mo., who is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Gravitt and who is spending a few days visiting relatives and friends in this city. It being her twenty-fourth birthday anniversary, the young people who assembled at the Gravitt home celebrated the event in a manner which will long be remembered. The principal amusement was derived from various games, interspersed with music, both vocal and instrumental, which created considerable merriment and which made the hours go by all too rapidly.

The jolly guests had brought the necessary fixings for a delectable luncheon, which was prepared during the evening and to which all did ample justice. It was a late hour when the guests departed for their homes, having had a most enjoyable time and wishing Miss Mowery many more happy birthdays.

Those in attendance were: Misses Trina South, Evay Ward, Ethel Jones, Ferris York, Celia Taylor, Ellen Carlson, Edith Miller, Etta Hyde, Leora Gravitt, Bessie Gravitt; Messrs. Jesse Perry, Ratio Taylor, James Andrews, Albert Timmis, A. C. Mayabb, Robert Jones, Bror Crist, Will Ofe, Robert Newell, Otto Lushinsky, William Gravitt, Jesse York.

WILL THE COMBINATION NOW "FESS UP" THE TRUTH

It is a very easy matter for a man when he has no other defense to put up to say that the other fellow "lied," as the combination paper did in their issue last evening in regard to the insulting manner in which one of their solicitors talked to one of Plattsmouth's most highly respected ladies. They are aware of the truth of the matter now, as they have been apprised of the lady's name, also the name of the witness who heard the remarks, by the gentleman of the house.

Now see if the combination paper will, in tonight's issue, state who has been the falsifier. We are so well acquainted with the lady and gentleman that we know neither of them would state the case to us wrongly, and we stated the facts just as they were given to us. Will the circulator of the Omaha News see that the fellow is removed? For the past three months it has been the custom of the combination paper to endeavor to make the people believe that they are in the right in every instance by putting up a defense that the Journal falsified. They know now that we told the truth. See if they will "fess up" and we may give them a few more chances to "get in right."

MR. AND MRS. WILL NEWLAND RETURN HOME

Mr. Will Newland and bride returned from Kansas City Monday evening, where they were married last Wednesday evening. The wedding was a very pretty home affair at the residence of Mr. Newland's brother, Emory Newland. The ceremony was performed by the Christian minister of that city in the presence of a few friends and immediate relatives. A sumptuous wedding supper was served after the ceremony, and the happy couple were the recipients of many useful and valuable presents.

On the arrival of the newly weds in this city a reception and another feast awaited them at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McKinney. A serenade by the youngsters of the vicinity, with a band composed of various instrumentalists such as is customary on such occasions, was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Newland Monday evening. The happy couple start in the ranks of double blessedness with the best wishes of a host of friends in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Newland will begin housekeeping at once, he having a good position with the Burlington here. The Journal joins with their legion of friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Newland the best there is in life.

C. W. Stoehr, who resides west of this city, was a visitor in the city today, looking after various business matters, and while here took time to call at this office and renew his subscription to this paper, and also ordered the paper sent to his sister, Mrs. J. H. Wallinger, who is at Pekin, Ill., and handed us the price of the subscription, which pleased us very much.

Mr. H. C. Long of Murray was in the city last evening on business, having driven up from his home.

CAN NAME BE PLACED ON BALLOT

A Question in the Matter of Frank Neuman, Candidate for Mayor "By Petition"

It seems to be a question as to whether the name of Frank Neuman, who is a candidate for mayor by petition, can be placed upon the official ballot legally. The law states that such petition shall, besides containing the names, shall also bear the place of residence, address and place of business. Consequently, the city clerk deferred placing the name of Mr. Neuman on the printed ballot until he could hear from the city attorney regarding the matter. Mr. Wurl simply wants to be right in the matter, and so addressed a letter to City Attorney B. S. Ramsey for his opinion. The city clerk has evidently pursued the proper course, and by being cautious in the matter may save considerable trouble in the future, as to the legality of the entire election. Following is City Clerk's Wurl's letter to Mr. Ramsey and the city attorney's answer thereto:

Plattsmouth, Neb., March 25, 1911. Basil S. Ramsey, City Attorney:

Dear Sir—Some question has been raised concerning the legality and sufficiency of a petition filed with me Friday evening to have Frank Neuman's name placed upon the official ballot as a candidate for mayor at the coming city election.

As I wish to wrong no man, but to perform my duties just as the law directs and requires of me, I herewith hand you Mr. Neuman's petition for examination and request a written opinion as to its legality and sufficiency and my duty as to placing his name on the official ballot. Very truly yours,

B. G. Wurl, City Clerk.

Plattsmouth, Neb., March 27, 1911. B. G. Wurl, City Clerk City of Plattsmouth:

Dear Sir—Replying to your favor of the 25th inst., requesting an opinion concerning the legality and sufficiency of the petition of Hon. Frank Neuman for candidate for mayor at the coming city election, will say that I have made an examination of the petition and the law governing candidates "By Petition," and find as follows:

Section 5810, Cobby's Statutes, 1909, among other things, provides that the number of signatures shall not be "less than 200 when the nomination is for an office to be filled by the electors of the city." And the same section further provides as follows: "Each elector signing a certificate shall add to his signature his place of business, his residence and address."

An examination of the petition shows a total of 203 names signed thereto. Of these signatures fifteen show no residence or occupation; eleven show occupation, but no residence, and five show residence, but no occupation, making a total of thirty-one signatures to the petition which fail to comply with the law above quoted. This number, 31, taken from the total number of signatures, leaves 172, or 25 less than the law requires. The word "shall," as used in the law above quoted, which I understand to be mandatory, and the signers to a petition or certificate "shall add to his signature his place of business, his residence and address."

That the signer to the petition shall add his business, residence and address, as I construe the law, is just as mandatory and necessary as to sign his name.

If the law required the 172 signers to the petition or certificate to also sign their places of business, their places of residence and addresses, it also required the same legal duty of the 31 who failed to do so.

It will be regretted by Mr. Neuman and his friends that these requirements of the law have not been complied with, but we have no right to change or modify plain provisions of law, but must meet and act under the same as they must necessarily be our guide.

The petition or certificate thus lacking 28 names of signers who have failed to sign the same in the manner provided by the law expressly governing thereof, is not entitled to have his name placed upon the official ballot as a candidate for mayor "By Petition." Very respectfully submitted, Basil S. Ramsey, City Attorney.

Mr. M. Fanger, who has been in New York buying goods for his new store here, arrived in the city this morning to see what else was needed to put the building in the best of condition for his occupancy immediately.

Married by Judge Beeson.

From Wednesday's Daily.

A wedding party arrived from Louisville on No. 4 this morning and found their way to the county judge's office very shortly. The party was composed of Joel Johnson and Miss Anna Benson, the groom and bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Benson, parents of the bride, and Albert Johnson and Miss Johnson, brother and sister of the groom. The affidavit and license were soon made out and Judge Beeson requested to proceed with the ceremony. The happy couple are popular Louisville young people and will begin housekeeping there. They departed for their home at 3:20 this afternoon.

NO LONGER AS A PUBLIC DUMPING GROUND

For a great many years past the land lying just east of the B. & M. depot has been used more or less by the people of the city as a dumping ground for all cast-off rubbish. Mayor Sattler and the city council have decided to make a change in the time-acustomed practice and are going to convert the old dumping ground into a place of beauty, make it look more like a city park. It certainly has been an eyesore to the people of the city, and has been a very bad introduction to the people visiting in Plattsmouth. In alighting from the trains it is only natural for strangers to cast their eye toward the Big Muddy river, and to see the entire bar covered with tin cans and all the cast-off rubbish of the city is surely a very distasteful view. Workmen are at work clearing the land between the tracks and the river, and by order of the mayor and council the former practice must cease immediately and all parties dumping such rubbish there will be fined accordingly. This is certainly one step in the right direction toward beautifying the appearance of the city, and the officials are to be commended upon their decision to commence cleaning in the right place first. May the good work extend over the entire city.

THROW OUT THE LINE

Give the Kidneys Help and Many Plattsmouth People Will Be Happier.

"Throw Out the Line"—The kidneys need help. They're overworked—can't get the poison filtered out of the blood. They're getting worse every minute.

Will you help them? Doan's Kidney Pills have brought thousands of kidney sufferers back from the verge of despair.

J. W. Hickson, Oak street, Plattsmouth, Neb., says: "I shall never cease to praise Doan's Kidney Pills, as they proved of great benefit to me several years ago. For some time I was caused much suffering by attacks of lumbago that came on without the least warning. The simplest movement was painful and I was also annoyed by irregular passages of the kidney secretions. I read so much about Doan's Kidney Pills that I finally procured a box from Rynott & Co.'s Drug Store. I was so gratified with the results of their use that I publicly recommended them in 1906 and at this time I willingly verify that statement. I hope that other kidney sufferers will profit by my experience."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

River Runs High.

A party composed of Mr. T. M. Patterson, Mr. H. A. Schneider, Mr. Henry Goos and Mr. T. Clifford, started for Glenwood this morning with Jack Patterson in his car, and got as far as the ferry, when they found that the ferry was not running today, owing to the high water and swift current. They motored back to the city and went via the Burlington, going on No. 4. Their mission was one of business for the order of Elks. The Old Muddy had risen 18 inches this morning and water was coming in over the bar today.

Greeted by a New Son.

Mr. Frank Warren, who went to Omaha with the Burlington party to take inventory Monday, was summoned home yesterday, and on his arrival was greeted by a new baby son which the stork brought yesterday. Frank wears a smile this morning that won't come off. The babe and mother are doing well and the Journal hopes that the little son may live long to bless his fond parents.

Mr. William Hogeboom of LaPlatte visited his Plattsmouth friends for a few hours today.
