CANON BURGESS AD- DRESSES THE STUDENTS

His Remarks Furnished Much Good Food for Thought to Those Present.

From Thursday's Daily
Canon H. B. Burgess, rector of St. Luke's church, spoke to the students of the high school yesterday morning on the subject of "Decorum." Canon Burgess is not only the eldest minister in the city, but he is also a pioneer of this city and has had much influence in moulding the character and conduct of the citizens of the city, many of those who are now in business in Plattsmouth grew to manhood since Canon Burgess assumed the rectorship of St. Luke's church.

The venerable rector admonished the students that their decorum was an evidence of the character of each, and that the outward appearances were a sure index of the spiritual being dwelling within, and from the politeness of the individual one formed an estimate of the character of the person. If the youth of the community were courteous and polite to the strangers coming into our city, such strangers would carry away with them a good opinion of the people of the community and give a good report concerning the town. Canon Burgess dwelt at some length on the distinction between character and reputation, illustrating the difference by apt incidents drawn from real life.

The series of short lectures introduced by Superintendent Abbott for the high school students has created much interest in the opening hour of the school and not only brings the students in touch with the business activities of the city, but encourages both superintendent and students by bringing them and the business interests of the city closer together. Such addresses as delivered by Canon Burgess yesterday fosters commendable attributes in the character of the students and aids in bringing them to a higher plane of citizenship than they otherwise would attain.

Enthusiast for Ensilage.

The Omaha Bee of Thursday, in speaking of one of Cass county's prominent farmers and stockmen, says: "Oscar H. Allen of Wabash, Neb., who is one of the constant patrons of the South Omaha market and was there yesterday with a large consignment, is an ardent advocate of ensilage feeding. He has his big farm equipped with immense silos. He brought to the market yesterday 100 head of spayed heifers, on which he had put a gain of 340 pounds per head in 100 days' feeding. Byers & Co. had bought these heifers for Mr. Allen and sold them for him at a big profit. He also had in a car of hogs and the same firm sold them at the top of the market price, $6.15."

Announcement.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the nomination of the office of sheriff, subject to the decision of the voters at the coming primary. I ask them to place me in nomination on the democratic ticket.
D. C. Rhoden.

Mr. A. J. Forgrave returned from St. Joseph this morning, where he has been visiting his brother for a few days. Mr. Forgrave saw the baseball season open in the Missouri town yesterday and witnessed a league game.

HOUSE HITS ROCK OF RECIPROCI- TY

Both Democrats and Republicans Score Their Fellows.

TWENTY-FOUR SPEECHES MADE

Majority of Speakers Advocate Defeat of Measure—Representative Prouty Prouty of Iowa, in His Maiden Speech, Opposes Reciprocity Bill.

Washington, April 21.—State and party affiliations were broken repeatedly in the house in the concluding hours of the fight on the Canadian reciprocity bill. Democrats denounced the fellow Democrats for supporting a Republican protective principle, and Republicans lured criticism against their fellow Republicans for marching with the Democrats toward the free trade goal.

During the seven hours of debate twenty-four men spoke on the reciprocity measure. Two-thirds of them made pleas for its defeat in speeches of from one minute to a half hour in length. In this number were two Democrats from North Carolina and Republicans from many of the northern states.

Most of the criticisms of the bill were from agricultural sections and based on the belief that reciprocity with Canada under the agreement would injure the agricultural interests of the United States.

Differences in the North Carolina delegation, all Democrats, were vigorously aired on the floor. Representative Webb said that Claude Kitchin, who opened the reciprocity fight last Friday, had no right to criticize him or other members of the state delegation who proposed to vote against the reciprocity treaty. Kitchin had accused him of standing with the Republican standard leaders, but he said he could with equal justice accuse Kitchin of having worked with these same Republican leaders in the past.

Temperate words from the presiding officer, Shelley (Ky.), brought from Webb the statement that he had no personal feeling against Kitchin but that four members of the state delegation proposed to vote against the agreement because they believed it was opposed to Democratic ideas.

The Minnesota delegation also broke on the rocks of reciprocity.

Prouty Makes Maiden Speech.

Offering an amendment to reciprocity bill which provides for placing on the free list manufactured articles to compensate the agricultural interests of the country, Representative Prouty (Ia.) made his maiden speech in the house in opposition to the proposed agreement as submitted by the ways and means committee.

"This treaty," said Prouty, "compels the farmer to sell his products in competition with Canada, but compels him to buy in a protected market. That is unfair to the farmer. Representing, as I do, a farmer constituency, I should rather like to see it tried on somebody else first. Must all these experiments be tried on the farmer? I think it is time to try them on somebody else."

Prouty said there were some things in the proposed farmer free list bill offered by the Democrats for which he could vote, but there were some things in it which he must oppose.

"This bill," he continued, "which they have designated as the farmers free list bill, puts on the free list beef, veal, mutton, lamb, pork and all kinds of meat. This would throw the American farmer into direct competition not merely with Canada, but with Mexico, Argentina and other countries south of us, where everyone knows animals are raised for less than half of the cost in the United States."

Prouty's amendment would include four packing products and many other manufactured articles.

SHOOTS GIRL-WIFE AND SELF

Tragedy Enacted by Aged Farmer Near Muscatine, Ia.

Muscatine, Ia., April 21.—Pete Hahn, aged sixty, farmer, shot and seriously wounded his girl wife, aged twenty-one, and then fatally wounded himself at their home, three miles from here, on the river road.

The shooting is the tragic culmination of a romance, in which old age and youth played the leading roles.

Hahn lies dying in Bellevue hospital here, while Mrs. Hahn lies in a serious condition in the same institution. She is expected to recover.

The attempted murder and suicide comes at the end of eight years of married life, for Hahn married the girl when she was only thirteen years of age. They have never agreed, she having the tastes of a young girl and he those of an old man.

Though they have two children, both of whom witnessed the shooting, their home has been the scene of trouble day in and day out. Mrs. Hahn says her husband has always abused her. As she grew older she has resented his treatment more and more and considered herself little better than a slave.

During the past two years he ran away a number of times.

Despondent, Turns on Gas.
Omaha, April 21.—Despondent over her continued ill health, Miss Leah Mills, a well known Omaha dentist, ended her life by inhaling gas.

TOUCH OF HUMOR IN GAMORRIST TRIAL

Devera Flattered by Charge and Wishes it Were True.

Viterbo, Italy, April 21.—Perez Devera, accused of being the head of the Camorra in Porto Capuana, a district of Naples, contributed to the entertainment of the audience in the court of the assizes with a humorous touch that came as a relief after the agonizing exhibitions of those who had preceded him on the stand.

The prisoner admitted frankly he was flattered that the august court, the learned prosecutor and the honorable carabinieri imagined him to be a personage of such distinction. The truth, however, compelled him to confess that he was the most ordinary sort of a creature. He spoke in mock gravity, winding up his speech thus: "I deny every allegation made against me. I know nothing of the murder of Genaro Cuocolo and the beautiful Sorrentina. It is said that I was the head of the Camorra of Porto Capuana. Alas, no; I wish that I had been, but, honestly, I never was the head of anything."

The state does not accept Devera at his own estimate. It is alleged that he is a dangerous man and so high in the councils of the Camorra that he was one of those who condemned Cuocolo to death.

De Lucia, another of those said to have sat in judgment on the treachery of Cuocolo, said he was not connected with the Camorra.

Speyer and Miller Elected Directors.

New York, April 21.—The gap left in the Missouri Pacific directorate by the resignation of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.'s representatives, when George Gould forced the election of B. F. Bush as president of the road, was filled with the selection of James Speyer of the banking firm of Speyer & Co., and H. L. Miller, receiver of the Buffalo and Susquehanna railway.

Dives From Engine; Saves Lad.

Boston, April 21.—Frank A. Kennedy, an engineer on the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn railroad, dived from the cab of his engine into the water at East Boston and saved the life of Joseph Magrath, aged seven, who had been hurled from the bridge at the foot of Havre street by the train.

Croup Remedy Fatal to Babe.

Deshler, Neb., April 21.—Elihu, the two-year-old son of Cyrus Hunt, died from drinking vapo cresolene. He secured a bottle kept as a croup remedy. The doctor was called, but could do nothing.
