HE WHO KNOCKS ON HIS OWN HOME TOWN

Is He Who Goes About Tell Falsehoods About the Condition of Things in General.

The Lincoln News hits the mark right in the center in the following:

The man who knocks his own town simply because some phase of its government doesn't appeal to him is not only a traitor to his own interest, but to that of his fellows. The man who goes about telling falsehoods about conditions in his home town is directly assailing the value of every piece of property in it, and he rightfully incurs the wrath of every citizen thus attacked. A city or a town is just one big family. It is bound to have differences of opinion and jars between its members, but no loyal member goes about telling untruths about the others simply because he is angered over the refusal of the majority of the assembly to agree with him on a certain policy. No town, however, is without its knockers, and the measure of a city's prosperity is the number of detractors at home. Lincoln has been hampered in this respect during the past two or three years, but there was a marked subsidence of it early this year. Let us hope that the good sense which brought about this improvement will be employed to crush out the effort to revive the old antagonisms.

PUTTING IN MORE NEW MACHINERY

Kaspar Expends $1,000 in Machinery and His Customers Get the Benefit.

Kaspar, the baker, has been making some rearrangement of machinery at his establishment today, and now has his new loaf molder and bread mixer lined up under the shafting and will be in the most convenient place for operating with electric power. On next Wednesday Mr. Kaspar will have been in charge of the shop he now owns just one year, and if the former proprietor could see the premises he would not recognize the shop. The oven has been enlarged, increasing its capacity one-fourth. Machinery for mixing and molding the bread, costing the proprietor almost $1,000, has been installed. The mixer will handle three 100-pound sacks of flour at one time, and is operated by electricity. The molder just installed has a capacity of 4,000 loaves an hour, and is easily adjusted from the 5 to the 10-cent loaf. Each loaf is weighed in and has the proportion of dough which every other loaf in the shop has, so that the purchaser gets just what he pays for—no more, no less.

The writer had the pleasure of witnessing the molder at work for a few minutes this morning and the machine does its work perfectly. The loaves are taken from the molder and placed in pans, one dozen in each box or tray. One person receives the loaves from the molder and deposits them in the pans, while another lays the Kaspar tag in the pan at the end of the loaf and transfers the tray to the bread chest, where the loaves stand to rise. From this place the bread goes directly to the oven for baking, and comes from the oven baked an even brown.

Mr. Kaspar, before coming to Plattsmouth, worked for and had the management of one of the largest baking establishments in Omaha, and thoroughly learned the modern and up-to-date plan of making bread, and his customers receive the advantage of his skill and master workmanship.

Little Girl Met With an Accident.

A distressing accident occurred about one o'clock today in which Frances, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Schultz, had her cheek pierced with a 26-penny nail. The little girl was playing in one of the upper chambers of the Perkins House, having the nail in her mouth while her head was out of the window, when in some way the fastening holding the window sash gave way letting the window fall on the little girl's neck, driving the point of the nail through her cheek. Dr. Cook was called and dressed the injury. The little girl will have a very sore cheek for some time, but the result might have been more serious had the nail gone into her throat.

Stewart Horse Clippers at $6.50 and $9.75. Regular prices were $7.50 and $10.75. Only a few left. At John Bauer's.

Jay Worley Better.

The many friends of J. E. Worley in Plattsmouth will be pleased to learn that he is getting along very nicely and that he will be well again in a short time. He was removed from his home to the hospital a few days since, where he was operated upon, since which time he has been improving and thinks he will be up and around again in about ten days. Mr. Worley is employed on the State Journal, and it is very unfortunate that he will be compelled to lose so much time.

DEATH OF THOMAS NIX NEAR MURRAY

Young Man Passes Away at the Home of P. B. Smith, Two Miles Southeast of That Village.

Tom Nix, residing with his brother-in-law, P. B. Smith, four miles southwest of Murray, died last night about 11:30. Two weeks ago Mr. Nix met with a painful accident while shelling corn, and had the misfortune to get his hand badly crushed in the cog wheel and chain of the sheller. The injury was dressed immediately and apparently was doing well and was almost healed. Last Wednesday he was attacked with rheumatism and suffered severely; his physician was called and administered treatment, which seemed to be bringing relief, but last night the disease shifted to his heart and he died within fifteen minutes from the time he was stricken. Mr. Nix had suffered with rheumatism considerably all his life, but former attacks seemed to yield to treatment, while the one of last night would not.

The deceased was born in Cass county and a young man of fine character and habits. He was about 25 years of age and of splendid physique and when not troubled with rheumatism was a strong man.

He leaves surviving him his father, residing in Tennessee, to whom is payable a policy of insurance in the M. W. A. of $1,000. He leaves also a sister, Mrs. Smith, in whose family he was making his home, and one brother, a street car conductor at Omaha. The funeral will be under the auspices of the M. W. A. society and will occur Sunday.

MRS. MARY M. SEIDEN-STRICKER LAID AT REST

Services Held at the Home of Her Daughter, and were Conducted by Rev. W. L. Austin.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary M. Seidenstricker occurred this afternoon at 2:30, from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Ida Campbell, on West Elm street, conducted by Rev. W. L. Austin, pastor of the Methodist church. A large congregation of old time neighbors and friends assembled at the residence to give expression of the esteem in which the deceased was held.

The music consisted of three favorite hymns of the deceased, sung by Mrs. Ernest Tuey and Miss Hazel Tuey, and were: "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," "Jesus Paid it All," and "Nearer My God to Thee." Rev. Austin spoke very feelingly on the pure christian life of the deceased and her many lovely traits of character, comforting the mourning relatives with the assurance that in the great beyond they should meet their loved mother again.

Interment was made at Oak Hill cemetery, the pall bearers were: Isaac Cecil, Julius Hall, W. H. Freese, Andy Kroehler, Fred Heisel and Guy McMaken.

Married Half Century.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Shrader, residing five miles southeast of Murray, have sent out invitations to their friends requesting their presence at the Shrader home on May 9th, to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Shrader are among the most highly respected citizens of Cass county and are pioneers, with hosts of friends throughout the county.

Mrs. Rev. H. H. Oneal of Nashville, Tennessee, who has been paying a visit to her brother, Hon. R. B. Windham of this city, departed this morning for Glenwood, where she will visit her brother for a time, when she will visit relatives in St. Paul and other cities in the north.

SILVER OFFERING FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE "LILLIS CRUMMER SCHOLARSHIP"

Given at the Palatial Home of Dr. and Mrs. T. P. Livingston on North Sixth Street, Which Was Attended by an Excellent Musical Program.

From Saturday's Daily.

The musicale given at the pretty home of Mrs. Dr. T. P. Livingston on North Sixth street on yesterday afternoon and for the benefit of the "Lillis Crummer Memorial Scholarship" was very largely attended and the entire little entertainment was such a one as the ladies might well be proud of and which helped a whole lot toward the cherished object for which it was given. This musicale was given under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's church and the committee of ladies who assisted Mrs. Livingston in arranging for this splendid occasion and in entertaining the large number of guests, were Mesdames Henry Herold, Will Clement and J. H. Thrasher. For the occasion the charming rooms of the Livingston home had been very attractively decorated with apple blossoms and which spoke of the spring-time.

The splendid program of music which the ladies of this committee had arranged for was most thoroughly enjoyed by those fortunate enough to be present. Mrs. G. W. Noble of Omaha contributed a number of vocal solos, which were all rendered in a very charming manner. Mrs. Noble formerly resided in this city and has sang for a Plattsmouth audience before. Her singing of yesterday for the first time in this city for several years and her large circle of friends were very much pleased to hear her again. Her solos were well executed and her singing on this occasion was very highly appreciated. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. George Falter, which greatly assisted in making her numbers so charming, as Mrs. Falter is a most excellent pianist. Mrs. E. H. Wescott contributed a number of very beautiful vocal selections. As usual Mrs. Wescott's solos were well executed and the audience demonstrated its sympathy with her very excellent work. She was also accompanied on the piano by Mrs. George Falter.

In addition to these vocal selections, the program was very much increased in interest by the piano selections given by Miss Wolfe of Nebraska City, who is a guest of Mrs. N. C. Abbott. Miss Wolfe very easily demonstrated that she was a finished and skillful pianist, and the selections rendered by her showed careful training and much study and practice.

Following the program a silver offering was taken and this amounted to $17, with which the ladies were very much pleased. It will be remembered by many that Miss Lillis Crummer of Omaha, and a very energetic and prominent missionary of China, was very much interested in raising funds for the purpose of educating a little Chinese girl at one of the very prominent mission schools in China, of which she had charge of. Her untimely death, which occurred about a year ago, caused this matter to be overlooked until but recently when at one of the missionary conventions held at Omaha, it was then decided that each auxiliary society would put every effort forth toward the raising of funds, this fund to be known as the Lillis Crummer Memorial scholarship.

After the silver offering had been taken delicious sherbert and cake was served by Misses Marie Donnelly, Madeline Minor, Dorothy Britt and Barbara and Janet Clement.

The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. F. E. White of Omaha and daughter; Mrs. Frank H. Haller, of Michigan; Miss Caroline Arkalow of Omaha and Miss Pauline Oldham of Murray.

LOCAL POSTOFFICE MUST HUSTLE SOME DURING MONTH OF MAY

Must Take Extra Pains to Get at Facts Concerning Proficiency of the Force Employed.

Owing to the rush of news yesterday many items were crowded out, among some of them being the following in reference to the investigation inaugurated by the postoffice department calculated to arrive at the proficiency and dexterity of the mail handlers. It has been the practice of the department to weigh the mail during some month of the year in order to arrive at the value of the services of the carriers. But this is the first attempt to ascertain the time used in handling the different classes of mail.

The postoffice department has issued an order to the local postmaster directing him to take especial pains during the month of May to get at the facts concerning the proficiency of the office. The order requires every piece of mail coming and going to be counted. Each class of mail must be separated, newspapers, magazines and free country matter separated from newspapers on which the publishers pay the postage. Congressional franked matter, foreign and registered matter must be separated and counted, then the actual number of minutes consumed in handling each class must be reported to the postoffice department. The postmaster must also report the actual number of times each class of mail is handled. If distributor of mail gets a piece of mail in wrong box and the holder of a box calls at the window an additional handling must be registered.

In addition to the above the office must report the average number of pieces of mail handled per minute and the average number of handlings each piece receives.

Rural carriers must do the same as far as practicable, beside weighing daily each class of mail separately of in and out-going mail on rural routes. The postmaster is allowed one additional clerk during the time of this test, which covers the entire month of May. The order is far-reaching, having been issued to every postmaster in the United States. It is probably the most thorough investigation ever made in the postal service.

ADD A DEPARTMENT OF CHESTERFIELD ETIQUETTE

This Might Prove Very Beneficial to Some Young Men Attending Our High School.

From Saturday's Daily.

Yesterday while taking a lady for a ride to relieve her of headache, one of the prominent motor car men of the city had a small accident, which stopped his car near the ball grounds, and while he worked with the obstinate piece of machinery the ball players just all interest in their practice game and devoted all their attention to the break-down and the unfortunate gentleman and lady. Not that the boys cared to lend any assistance. Oh, no, not that, but they did show their ill-breeding by gazing the occupants of the car, jeering them and shouting to the driver to have the lady get out and push, and all such nonsense.

The auto driver became a little incensed at the mob and finally got his car going, notwithstanding the exasperating conduct of the ball players. The autoist feels that there should be a department of Chesterfield etiquette added to the school course in some of the towns not 100 miles from Plattsmouth.

In County Court.

The court was occupied today with the hearing for discharge of the special administrator and the appointment of the general administrator in the estate of Oliver Dinwiddie, who died some time ago.

The first hearing of claims in the estate of Phoebe A. Shriver was set down for this date, but no one appeared and the matter was continued until the next hearing, which will be some months later.

William Otterstein, jr., of the vicinity of Mynard, was a visitor in the city today and called at this office and renewed his father's subscription to the Daily Journal and told us to keep sending it.
