ENJOY OPEN AIR PICNIC NEAR RIVER

Students of Miss Johnston's Class of the High School Enjoy a Short and Social Outing.

From Friday's Daily.

The members of the Ceasar class of the High school, accompanied by their instructor, Miss Johnston, and her guest, Miss Edna Noble of Lincoln, wended their way to the banks of the Missouri river, near the Burlington bridge, east of this city, after school yesterday afternoon for the purpose of enjoying a meal in the open air. This is the first picnic, that we know of, which has been held this season, and a most enjoyable time was had.

Each member of the company supplied themselves with something in the eatable line and which would assist in making up a most delicious picnic supper. Upon their arrival at the picnic grounds the entire company immediately proceeded to arrange for a huge camp fire and over which weinies and coffee were cooked. When the weinies and coffee had been thoroughly cooked and the rest of the lunch had been spread on the green, all joined in the feast, and with appetites whetted by the outdoor life, the party soon made the improvised forest table nothing but a memory. Owing to the threatening weather the company hastened home sooner than they expected to, but all report a fine outing.

Those participating in this affair were: Misses Johnston, Noble of Lincoln, Janet Clement, Leola Barton, Angie McCarroll, Buelah Sans, Florence Richardson, Matilda Donal, Josephine Rys, May Barker, Agnes Plak, Mabel Adams, Margaret Wohlfarth.

MEETING WAS LARGELY ATTENDED THURSDAY

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church Participate in an Enjoyable Meeting.

From Friday's Daily.

The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church participated in a most enjoyable meeting yesterday afternoon, which was held in the room in the basement of the church. Mrs. W. L. Austin and Mrs. Val Burkel were the hostesses on this occasion and the afternoon entertainment afforded by them was a most splendid one.

The regular business session was held, in which various matters of importance were transacted and final plans were made and committees appointed for the Floral Bazaar, which is to be held by them during the middle of May. At the usual hour a most delicious luncheon was provided, after which the remainder of the afternoon was spent in various other amusements. There were about seventy of the ladies in attendance, which was certainly very gratifying to those who were desirous of having the ladies of the church present at this meeting.

Funeral This Afternoon.

From Friday's Daily.

The funeral services over the remains of the late William Jay Herring took place this afternoon at the Christian church, of which the deceased was a member for more than half his life. The service was conducted by Rev. W. L. Austin, pastor of the M. E. church. The music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Grove Livingston and Miss Hazel Tney and Mr. Jesse Perry, the quartet choir sang some of the favorite selections of the deceased, the numbers being: "More About Jesus," "One by One Our Loved Ones Leave Us" and "There is a Land That is Fairer Than Day." Many out-of-town relatives and friends were present at the funeral. Rev. Austin spoke encouragingly to the bereaved wife and children. The church was filled with sorrowing relatives, friends and neighbors. The pallbearers were: Philip Rhin, Robert Newell, Henry Perry, Frank Cook, Thomas Stokes and Ratio Taylor. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mr. L. D. Goggswell, who has been aiding at the Rex under the former management, departed for Omaha on the morning train today.

RESCUES WOMAN FROM WELL

H. R. Olson of Oriska Lowered Head First into Shaft.

Oriska, N. D., April 28.—To save Miss Marie Smith from a watery death H. R. Olson of this town was lowered head downward into a well twenty-two feet deep and only eighteen inches in diameter. The strain was so great that blood burst through his chest and left arm. The girl was rescued barely alive. Miss Smith fell into the well at the rear of the Commercial house. Olson, hearing the shouts of persons who were frantically racing around the well, offered to be lowered into the narrow space. He tied a rope around his ankles and began crawling down into the well. By standers seized the rope and slowly lowered him. When he reached the bottom he quickly seized her and called to the five men above to pull.

IN HONOR OF REV. W. F. RATCLIFFE AND FAMILY

A Number of Friends Present to Enjoy This Delightful Social Affair.

From Friday's Daily.

The cosy home of Mr. and Mrs. George Parks was the scene of a more than delightful social affair yesterday, Mrs. Parks entertaining a number of friends in a very charming manner. The occasion was in the nature of a farewell and was in honor of Rev. W. T. Ratcliffe and family, who departed today for Beaver Crossing, where Rev. Ratcliffe has secured the pastorate of a church.

Mrs. Parks had made every effort to insure the guests of a good time. The rooms of the Parks home had been made very attractive by being very prettily decorated in apple blossoms. The afternoon was most enjoyably spent in social conversation and other diversions, such as go to make up a genuine good time. At the appointed hour a most elegant four-course luncheon was served, one which the hostess only knows best how to prepare, and which the guests found very appetizing. The only thing to mar the pleasure of the afternoon was the fact that the guests of honor were so soon to take their departure from our midst, but all extended their best wishes for continued happiness in their new home.

Those who enjoyed Mrs. Parks' hospitality on this occasion were: Mesdames E. B. Perry, C. J. Williams, A. Funk, G. R. Rhoden, Stenner, S. S. Gooding, Tom Sherwood and daughter, Margaret; Misses Daisy Perry, Helen Trifely, and Mr. Jesse Perry.

A LITTLE WHOLESOME ADVICE TO BOYS AND OTHERS

The Boys or Anyone Else Destroying These Trees Should Be Prosecuted to the Limit.

The city is having young trees planted along Washington avenue again this year, where a year ago nice young trees were set out at the city's expense. There should be some method devised to punish the youngsters who ride down and destroy the growing trees.

Last year the boys thoughtlessly and with criminal negligence killed the trees along the avenue, commencing at A. Kroehler's residence, coming toward the city, the Windham property and the property adjoining the Turner hall, as well as the Turner property, and the residence east of it and the residence occupied by Charles Hartford. All of these places had nice young trees growing last year, but not one was left to tell the tale this spring.

If the council would agree to divide the fine with the informer and prosecute the rascals who climb on the trees, it would have a tendency to stop this useless destruction of trees and the useless expenditure of money each spring for re-setting the trees thus killed.

ANOTHER ENJOYABLE MEETING THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Jonas Johnson Entertains the Ladies of the Swedish Mission Church.

The hospitable home of Mrs. Jonas Johnson, on Wintersteen Hill, was the scene of another most enjoyable meeting yesterday afternoon, this being the regular meeting of the ladies of the Swedish Mission church, they meeting every other week at the homes of members.

There were a large number of ladies present, who enjoyed themselves in a very pleasant manner. The ladies do not hold any business sessions at these meetings, most of the time being spent in a social way and that of playing the busy needle and other diversions. The pleasures of the afternoon were further augmented by the serving of a most excellent luncheon at a convenient hour, and to which all did ample justice.

City Clerk B. G. Wurl was a visitor to Union today, where he went with a consignment of fine cigars.

Mrs. John Murray is in receipt of a letter from her son, George, today, the same being mailed at San Francisco on Monday of this week, in which he states that he has entered the training quarters of the U. S. navy at that city. George joined the navy some few days ago, it will be remembered, about the time he underwent the slight operation for rupture, this being the only defect that was in the way of his passing this very severe physical examination. George says he was to be given his uniform on Tuesday, and will at once enter the training quarters. It will be several months before he will be placed on board a man-of-war or transport to any of the foreign countries.
