Delegates Elected to the Annual Council, Which Meets in Omaha May 16.

From Friday's Daily.

The charming home of Mrs. C. W. Baylor was the scene of a most delightful meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's church yesterday afternoon. The day being a most beautiful and agreeable one, many of the ladies were in attendance at this meeting. The annual election of officers was held at this time and the following were elected: Miss Barbara Gering, president; Mrs. E. H. Booth, vice president; Mrs. J. H. Kuhns, secretary, and Miss Dora Ericke, treasurer.

Following the election of officers the ladies devoted some time voting amounts which they would contribute to the various boards, after which they proceeded to elect the four delegates to attend the annual council of the church, which will be held at Omaha about the 16th of this month. IN MEMORIAM.

The funeral services of Mrs. Mary Seidenstricker was conducted by Rev. Austin at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ida Campbell, April 29th.

She is gone! The Mother, Neighbor, Friend,
Why wish her to remain
When hope to live is gone, then death should end
All agonizing pain.

We know that she will sweetly rest
Far off from grief or care,
And dwell forever with the blessed,
And we shall meet her there.

Beneath of sheltering mound of clay
Her wasted form reposes,
The cold, damp earth hid quite away
With lilies, ferns and roses.

Friendship's offering to the lost
Whom we shall meet no more
Until death's ocean we have crossed
And gained the "shining shore."

Sleep on, dear friend, and dreamless rest
Thy body worn and old;
Thy new-born body will be dressed
In robes like shimmering gold.

FREE LIST BILL IS UNDER FIRE

Hill Declares It Will Aid, Not Hinder, Trusts.

BILL TOO GENERAL IN TERMS.

Connecticut Member of House Says No Estimate Can Be Made of Revenues to Be Cut Off—Underwood Replies Real Purpose is to Reduce Prices.

Washington, May 5.—Not since the Republican guns were unlimbered against the Democratic free list bill by Minority Leader Mann, more than a week ago, has the debate in the house developed such an attack on the measure as was made by Representative Hill (Conn.), a Republican member of the ways and means committee and one of the leading Republican advocates of the Canadian reciprocity bill.

Hill asserted that the bill devised by the Democratic leaders, removing the tariff duties from many food products and manufactured articles, was so crudely drawn and so indefinite in its terms that no estimate could be made of the revenues it would cut off or the effect it would have on business and commerce. He said that instead of $10,000,000 reduction in revenue, as the Democrats expected, it might make a reduction of $50,000,000 and that its effect upon business would be to transfer many flourishing industries to Europe.

"You intended to hit the trusts," said Hill to the Democrats; "you will wake up to find you have in fact helped the trusts; taken away the revenues of the government and put the money into the pockets of the trusts, instead of into the pockets of the people, whom you claim to be helping."

Skilled Labor Would Suffer.

Hill explained that the International Harvester Machine company, the great sewing machine companies and other great manufacturers would be able under the Democratic bill to manufacture parts of their machines cheaper abroad and bring them into this country to be assembled by cheap labor here. Mechanics and skilled labor would suffer loss of employment, he said.

He declared that the Democratic bill was so general in terms as to admit almost anything free of duty. Woolen goods, all kinds of wire, all sorts of fabrics, zinc, lead and pig iron were among the things he mentioned.

Hill practically attacked the bill for making many manufactured products free of duty, like shoes, harness, saddlery and the like, while leaving a duty against the raw materials that American manufacturers have to import. He said also that in attempting to make free of duty the bagging used to wrap up cotton bales, the Democratic bill would let in free the bagging used by the fertilizer trust; the cement mills of the United States Steel corporation and other monopolies, which would give no corresponding reduction in prices to consumers.

Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee interjected that Hill's whole argument was from the standpoint of the American manufacturer; that the bill's real purpose was to reduce prices and the cost of living for the American people. Hill said that the reduction would in almost every case be taken up by the big corporations that control the markets. The speech was enlivened by many interruptions and much partisan comment from both sides of the house.

FIND DEFECT IN BRIDGE BILL

Act to Aid Counties Makes No Appropriation.

ATTORNEY GENERAL TO DECIDE

State Board of Public Lands and Buildings Will Visit Southwestern Section to Inspect Sites for New Agricultural School.

Lincoln, May 5.—In the Cronin bridge bill, which was passed at the recent session of the legislature and in which provision was made for assisting in the building and maintaining of bridges over streams more than 175 feet in length, it has been discovered that, although there was a state levy of one-fifth of a mill provided for, there was no provision as to the appropriation from the sum accruing from the levy. This, it is said, will prevent Boone, Boyd and Holt counties, which have applied for aid under the provisions of the bill from obtaining the assistance which they have been after for some time.

Attorney General Martin has been asked for an opinion on the measure and whether Auditor Barton draws warrants for aid to any of the counties depends entirely upon what that official decides.

State Board to Make Trip.

The state board of public lands and buildings has announced its itinerary for the trip which it will take to southwestern Nebraska for the purpose of determining upon a location for the new agricultural school. Chairman Cowles of the board declares that none of the members desire to be banqueted while out in the state and asserts that they are willing to pay for everything that they get.

The board will leave this city tomorrow evening and go direct to Holdrege. Monday morning they will look over the proposition which that city has to submit. At 12:30 they will go to McCook. From there they will take an automobile to Culbertson and return. They will spend the night at McCook and the next morning leave for Bartley, which has lately come out as a candidate for the location. After looking over the Bartley offer the board will go, via automobile, to Cambridge, where dinner will be taken. After some time spent there the state officials will continue the trip to Oxford, where they will remain during the night. Wednesday morning they will take a train to Alma. Later in the day they will go to Mesquit. From there they will return home. Trips to Broken Bow and North Platte, other contenders for the location of the school, will be made later on.

DYING STATEMENT EXCLUDED

Court Decides Point in Favor of the Student Charged With Murder.

Olathe, Kan., May 5.—The jurors who are hearing the case of Karl Bickel, the Kansas City divinity student, charged with the murder of Miss Frances Peters, also of Kansas City, here last September, will not hear the dying statement made by the girl. Judge J. O. Rankin ruled that the statement, together with the testimony of the girl's mother at the preliminary hearing, was not admissible.

John J. Lewis of Kansas City, who was engaged to marry Miss Peters at the time of her death, told of his last visit to her at her hospital. He said the girl accused Bickel of having caused her condition.

Executive Clemency for Nebraskans.

Washington, May 5.—President Taft extended executive clemency to eight men convicted of federal offenses. The president pardoned Hans Krause, Alex Raeburg and Thomas F. Brennan, all of Omaha, convicted of selling liquor to Indians. Executive clemency was extended because a decoy Indian was sent by revenue officers.

PLEASANT MEETING OF THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

Fine Musical Program and Election of Officers Constituted Evening's Program.

From Friday's Daily.

A very pleasant meeting of the Epworth league was held last evening at the parlors of the M. E. church. There was a piano solo by Miss Hazel Tney, a vocal solo by Mr. Andy Moore, both of which were well rendered and much appreciated by the members present. There were several orchestra numbers which delighted the listeners, and the company evinced its approval by the warmest sort of handclaps. The orchestra was composed of The Misses Cook, Scott, Mullis and Cecil.

The following officers were elected for the next year: President, E. C. Hill; first vice president, Miss Alice Tney; second vice president, Mrs. Frank Gobelman; third vice president, Miss Edna Morrison; fourth vice president, Miss Clara Austin; secretary, A. O. Moore; treasurer, James Rishel; Junior League superintendent, Miss Grace Dalton; chorister, D. C. York; organist, Miss Violet Creece.
