Louise Rockenbach, two well known young people of this community, were married at Lincoln last Thursday. Mr. Vickers is a young farmer living three miles north of Eagle. The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gotteleb Rockenbach. The Beacon joins their many friends in wishing them a happy married life.

A very jolly crowd of young folks gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carr last Friday evening. The event was a surprise on their daughter, Miss Muriel. The large barn loft was in readiness for them and the evening was spent in games of all kinds. At 11:30 the guests were called to the house, where refreshments awaited them. Ice cream and cake were served. After some instrumental and vocal music, in which all participated, the young folks departed for their homes.

Dan McNeely was able to be out again Monday. Dr. Liston favored him with an auto ride.

Elmwood will celebrate the glorious Fourth. Prepare to come. Steps are now being taken to put on a good program.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker of Lincoln spent Sunday at the bedside of the former's mother, Grandma Weichel, who is very poorly.

Mrs. Blanche Harger and little daughter of Chicago came in this week for an extended visit at the home of Grandpa and Grandma Clapp.

Ed Wright has discarded the cane he has been using and can now get around very nicely without the use of same. We are pleased to note the marked improvement.

Mrs. Lawton of Wabash was in town Monday having surgical work done at the office of Dr. Liston. Mrs. Lawton had the misfortune to break a needle off in her hand some time ago, and had suffered much pain as a result. The offensive piece was removed at this time.

Little Rosa Bickert, while playing Monday, fell and broke one of the bones in her right arm just below the elbow and dislocated the other at the elbow joint. Drs. Neely and Munger were summoned to reduce the fracture and the little lady is getting along as well as could be expected.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps

No, never. It's foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only. 50c at F. G. Fricke & Co.

Mrs. George Sawyer of Scotts Bluff has been visiting relatives here for a week or ten days, and goes to Ashland this week for a visit.

The many friends of Prof. E. L. Rouse were pleased to meet and greet him while here at the eighth grade graduation last Saturday. He made a good talk to the pupils.

Miss Mable Wakeman has been elected to teach the fourth grade in our schools next year. She is a Wesleyan student and her home is at Otho, Iowa. She takes the place of Miss Marquardt.

Mrs. Sarah Giberson celebrated her 88th birthday last Monday. It is a good long time to live, and she is a good old lady living it and her work is not ended.

Troy L. Davis has purchased the brick store occupied by D. M. Johnson, hardware dealer. This item would be news if we had published it when we first heard of the deal.

Mrs. Orion Baldwin, who has been very sick for the past few months, was taken to her parents' home near University Place last Monday, in an automobile. Her father, Mr. McKimmon, came over and accompanied her. Mrs. Baldwin longed for the old home and insisted on making the trip, and stood the journey first rate.

Paul Marquette, veteran postal clerk, and who has run between Auburn and Omaha the past seventeen years, died last week, the funeral being held Friday. Mr. Marquette died from cancer. His home was in Auburn. He was one of the best postal clerks in the service and had friends all along the line.

Mrs. E. Ratnour has been very poorly the past few weeks and Sunday Dr. Welch called in Dr. Rainey of Lincoln to assist in an operation to give Mrs. Ratnour some relief. The patient slept well Sunday night and has been feeling much better since. Mrs. F. W. Race, her daughter, came in from Kansas City Sunday morning.

Henry Gruber has resumed operations with his sidewalk force on the crossings.

William Hicks has purchased the Henry Lindsay house north of the jewelry store and will move into it in a few days.

Miss Birdie Johnson, who has just closed a successful term of school in the Murdoch district, left for her home in Nebraska City Tuesday.

Will Rogers and family of Percival, Iowa, have moved into the brick tenement house of Isaac Pollard and will work for Mr. Pollard on the farm. He takes the place of Mr. Glodveller, who has returned to Lincoln.

Otto Carroll "leased" Charley Adams into throwing him a few henders the other day, and now Ot either uses his left hand altogether in eating or else eats out of a trough—the right hand being swelled up like a poisoned pup.

George Poisal and his gang of graders that have been working on the road between here and Union are finishing up this end of their contract. They have raised quite a fill in front of the old Sheldon place north of the bridge and when it has settled and been worked a few times it is going to make a fine road.

F. A. Burdick and daughter, Pearl, were passengers to Omaha Tuesday evening, where they went to consult a doctor in regard to Miss Pearl's health. Dr. Brendel of Murray, who had diagnosed her trouble as appendicitis, went up on the early train Wednesday, and we have heard since that she was operated on Thursday morning.

Young Mexican Goes to Omaha.

From Tuesday's Daily
County Commissioner M. L. Friedrich went to Omaha this afternoon to accompany Vernava the young Mexican who is sick at the jail with lung fever to St. Joseph's hospital, where he will be cared for by charity. The increase of the population of the jail last night by four men accused of robbery, so crowds the jail that it is not possible to properly care for a sick person. Mr. James Pollock conversed with the men this morning, but with him the stranger was very careful not to disclose his identity. He even refused to give his name to Mr. Pollock. The patient's condition is not improved any from the time he has been in Plattsmouth. His fever is high, but he has a clear head.

Tiny Shetland Pony Colt.

The Thurman Times reports what is probably the smallest living specimen of the equine family in this part of the country, can be seen at the Chambersville Stock Farm near Bartlett, Iowa, in the shape of a tiny Shetland pony colt, which at its birth a few days ago weighed but 8 pounds. Although the little animal is not much in size, Mr. L. Chambers, proprietor of the farm, reports that it is as lively as any colt on the place, and bids fair to thrive as well as the best of them.

DEATH OF JUDGE STEPHEN B. POUND AT LINCOLN

A Pioneer Jurist Well Known to the Early Settlers of Cass County.

From Monday's Daily.

Announcement of the death of Judge Stephen B. Stroud came as a shock to the residents of Lincoln yesterday. Judge Pound was one of the oldest residents of the city and a man who had been in public life since his location in Lincoln in 1868. He had reached the age of 78 years, but was still active in professional life. He had been at his office the day before. He was taken ill with heart trouble and died at 1:30 Sunday morning. Angina pectoris was the cause of death. While Judge Pound had not been in good health for more than two weeks his condition was not regarded as serious. He had been going to the office, taking care of business affairs and meeting his friends as usual. Many of his close friends had no intimation even that he was ailing.

Judge Pound leaves a wife, a son, Dr. Roscoe Pound of Harvard law college, and two daughters, Misses Louise and Olivia.

In 1869 Judge Pound was elected judge of the probate court of Lancaster county, and soon after was elected district judge. In the fall of 1875 he was again elected district judge of the Second judicial district, composed of the counties of Lancaster, Cass, Otoe and Nemaha, filling the office for three successive terms. He retired from the district bench after the third term and again engaged in the practice of law.

The old-timers in Cass county remember Judge Pound, and all revere his memory with that kindness which he truly deserves. He became quite a familiar figure in Plattsmouth, and everyone who was familiar with his many kind acts have nothing but praise for the many noble deeds he performed in the early days of this city. Peace to his ashes.

The funeral will occur from the residence in Lincoln tomorrow (Tuesday) at 4 o'clock p. m.

Has Narrow Escape.

Robert Trook, one of our popular young men, had a very narrow escape Monday afternoon from being ground up in a corn sheller, and he considers that luck was on his side for that one time at least. He was engaged in shelling corn in the south part of town, and had got upon the sheller to oil some of the parts of the machine when his jacket became caught in the cogs, and only the quick action of his assistants saved Bob from meeting a horrible death. When the engine attached to the sheller was stopped, he was caught in such a manner that it was almost impossible for him to get loose, and had the sheller run half a minute longer he would have been dragged into the machine. He escaped with a badly bruised back, which is very painful, but he says that he does not mind that when he stops to consider the close call he had.—Union Ledger.

Accident at Murphy's Quarry.

Lafe Pettit met with a misfortune last Friday while at work at Murphy's quarry which will lay him up for some time. He was employed feeding the crusher when the stone became clogged in the chute and in prying it loose got caught under the stone and his right leg was broken in two places. He was brought to town and a physician reduced the fracture and placed the injured limb in a plaster paris cast.—Louisville Courier.

FUNERAL OF MRS MAGDALENA STARKJOHN

A Large Number of Relatives and Friends Attend the Last Sad Rites.

From Monday's Daily.

The funeral of Mrs. Magdalena Starkjohn occurred at the German St. Paul's church at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. One of the largest processions which has been seen in Plattsmouth for many years turned out to follow the hearse to the cemetery. The church was crowded to its utmost and many stood on the lawn without, having come to pay a tribute of respect to one of Cass county's most highly respected women.

The service was conducted by Rev. Steger, pastor of St. Paul's church, who spoke of the long and useful life of the deceased and her many beautiful traits of character. The music consisted of hymns which were favorites of the deceased and were sung by the choir. The floral tributes were beautiful and profuse, silent tokens of the purity of the life of the deceased and the high regard in which she was held by the donors. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Jacob Tritsch, M. L. Freiderich, Conrad Meisinger, William Weber, Leonard Born and John Bauer, Sr.

Mrs. Charles Winn and little daughter, Myrtle, arrived from their home at Council Bluffs this afternoon to be a guest of Mrs. Winn's mother, Mrs. Ferree, for a time.
