M. FANGER BUYS THE STORE ROOM

Also Rents the Business Room Just West of the One He Now Occupies.

From Wednesday's Daily.

M. Fanger closed the deal this morning whereby he becomes the owner of the business building he now occupies for a store room and also rents the room just west of him, now owned by C. H. Smith. This gives Mr. Fanger the two rooms he formerly occupied. A great many changes and alterations will be made in both rooms within the next few days in order to convert them into one large business emporium. A large archway will be cut in the walls between the rooms, as in former days, and the west room will be used exclusively for his cloak and suit department for both ladies' and gentlemen's wearing apparel, while the east portion of the building will be used for his dry goods and millinery lines.

Mr. Fanger has already purchased his large line of Wooltex Cloaks, Suits, etc., for ladies, and a large line of gents' furnishings and clothing, and in order to handle the line he is compelled to have more room.

Elsewhere in this issue of the Journal will be found a large advertisement announcing his "Big One-Half Price Alteration Sale on Millinery." In this space you will note that he offers every hat in the house at just one-half price, in order to close them out before the carpenters and plasterers get busy in making the changes in the rooms. Besides this, it is a well known fact that Mr. Fanger never carries over anything in the millinery line, and when he says he is making a one-half price sale he means it. Here is your chance to get millinery at a genuine bargain.

Of course he says he will make a great many bargains in other departments of his store during this sale, but the millinery line must be sold and sold now, and if one-half saving is an inducement to the buyer it certainly should move the goods.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps

No, never. It's foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles, and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only. 50c at F. G. Fricke & Co.
