C. E. Wescott's Sons
THE HOME OF SATISFACTION

Mr. C. W. Nix Leaves for Home.

Mr. C. W. Nix of Etheridge, Tennessee, who has been in the vicinity straightening up the business of his son, Thomas H., who died near Murray some weeks ago, left for his home yesterday afternoon. Mr. Nix speaks very highly of the M. W. A. fraternal insurance order, in which his son carried a policy in his father's favor. Mr. Nix, the beneficiary, was treated most courteously by the officers of the order and received the face of the policy very soon after the death of his son, and stated to the Journal that too much praise could not be given the company for the business manner in which it pays its claims.

Lightning Does Damage.

Mr. John Meisinger, jr., drove in from the farm yesterday to visit his father before the latter departed for Pekin, Illinois, and reported heavy rains in his vicinity Tuesday afternoon. The electrical storm was quite severe also. The lightning struck three large cottonwood trees near his premises, doing considerable damage to them. The bolt fell so near that Mr. Meisinger and his family were quite severely shocked, although in the house. There was some hail, but it did no damage in his neighborhood. A few miles south the neighbors informed Mr. Meisinger that the hailstones were as large as hen's eggs and very numerous.

Mr. Adam Hild and wife were Omaha passengers on the morning train today.
