

THE OLSON PHOTO MACHINE COMPANY GAINING A WORLD-WIDE REPUTATION

The Machines Manufactured in Plattsmouth Have Proven a Great Advertisement for Our City, as They Are in Use From Maine to California.

It has been just about one year since the organization of the Olson Photo Machine company, and but very few of our people are aware of what has been done in the way of promoting the enterprise outside of the stockholders and those immediately connected with the business who may know something. The ordinary stockholder knows but little of the past, present and future of the company, and of the success of the products of their manufacture.

Their printing machines have been demonstrated at several photographers' conventions. The company has obtained eleven patents at considerable outlay of money. Six patents have been obtained in the United States, and patents have been taken out in Canada, England, France, Germany and Austria-Hungary. The company thinks from the numerous inquiries for purchases and for the manufacture on a royalty plan which have been received, that they are very conservative when they hold the patents at $25,000.

They now have five different models of machines, and the latest design which Mr. Olson has built far surpasses all previous models which the company has built, and even farther surpasses all other makes of photo printing machines. The time has arrived when the board of directors of the company are of the opinion that the business should be enlarged so as to increase the output of their product, and for this purpose a small amount of capital stock will be put on the market. It is more than likely that this will be the last opportunity that the investor will have to acquire any of this stock.

Machines manufactured in Plattsmouth are in use today from Maine to California, and from Canada to Louisiana, and even in China. Through the manufacture and advertising of this company Plattsmouth is known in every state in the Union and even around the world. Inquiries have been received recently from Hawaii, Mexico, Germany and Canada.

When Mr. Olson was demonstrating his new Magnesium machine at the Sioux City convention, the vice president of the Eastman Kodak company was chafed to say: "Why in the thunder did our people not discover that machine?"

Prof. W. S. Lively, president of the Southern School of Photography, and author of several books on "Light in Photography," has personally tried out the machine and gives it his highest endorsement. He called the company's attention to the largeness of the field for the Olson Magnesium printers. He said: "Take the country over and there is only about one out of ten galleries equipped with gas or electricity. The Magnesium printer therefore has a field of nine-tenths of all possible purchasers."

All these facts have led the company to decide on enlarging the business. The Olson Photo Machine company has done more to advertise Plattsmouth world-wide than any other institution, and the Journal predicts that in less than five years those who have financed this company will be richly rewarded, and the city will have an industry it may be proud of.

Former Pioneer Lady Resident.

From Tuesday's Daily.
Mrs. C. P. Donley of Spokane, Washington, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Herman Bestor, for a short time, departed for Iowa this morning to visit relatives there. Mrs. Donley was born in Plattsmouth in 1858, and was a member of the first High school class of the Plattsmouth schools and was a member of the class when the school took possession of the new central building over thirty years ago. Before her marriage Mrs. Donley was Miss Porter, and is well known to the pioneer citizens of this city.

MORGAN WAYBRIGHT ARRIVES FROM CALIFORNIA

Gives Glorious Account of the Doings of Former Plattsmouth Citizen in the Golden State.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Morgan Waybright of Los Angeles, California, arrived in Plattsmouth yesterday evening for an extended visit with relatives and the many friends at the old home. This morning he paid the Journal office a pleasant call, and we sure enjoyed a few moments' visit with him, learning of himself and the many Plattsmouth people who are residents of his city, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Thomas, son, Walter and wife, and grandson, Cecil and wife, all of whom are happy and prosperous; also A. C. Helps, who is associated with W. L. Thomas in the automobile business. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Westcott are also residents of that city and are doing well. Artie Helps is developing into one of the liveliest real estate men along the coast, and continually wears the same old smile that was so familiar for years around Plattsmouth.

Sol Adamson and family, over at Long Beach, are enjoying the best of health and in every way prosperous. Mr. Adamson is conducting a wall paper and paint store and enjoying a good business. Mr. and Mrs. A. Clark are also doing nicely, and like all the others, are in love with California. Our former florist and excellent citizen, E. L. Hesser, is also a resident of Los Angeles and enjoying good health. Our old friend, Ben Elson, and wife are there also, and it keeps Ben pretty busy finding a way to simply enjoy life, but he is sure doing so. There are numerous others in and near Los Angeles and southern California, all of whom are doing well, as far as Mr. Waybright's acquaintance extended. Mrs. Waybright will make Plattsmouth a visit this fall, and Mr. Waybright will return with her.

Here From Wabash.

Simeon Obernalte, Oscar Allen, Ed Dorr and Mr. Baird, the Wabash lumberman, came up to the county seat yesterday evening to look after some business matters. The trip was made in the automobile of Warren Richards, who took all the gentlemen except Mr. Obernalte on to Omaha, and will return from that city home. Mr. Obernalte remained over night with his old friend, Nick Halmes, and returned home on the train, after paying this office a brief call and renewing for his paper. Mr. Obernalte has been enjoying very good health this spring, after a siege of grippe during the winter.

The New Garage.

The new automobile garage of Ofe & Andrews, on lower Main street, is now open and ready for business, having received a complete line of supplies. They are prepared to do all kinds of repair work on short notice, both men being good machinists and well up in the automobile line. They expect to handle the popular Auburn cars, in all the designs and sizes, which is one of the best on the market.

Commissioner G. R. Jordan came down from his Alva home last evening, and, in company with Commissioners Switzer and Fredrich, took a trip out in the county to view the condition of the roads.

AUTOMOBILE MEETING AT LOUISVILLE

Big Meeting at Louisville Monday Made Up of Large Number of Good Roads Enthusiasts.

Owing to the pressure of business the Journal editor was unable to attend the big meeting in Louisville Monday, although it was his intention to do so. Every section of the county was represented, and many outsiders were present. A special correspondent of the Omaha World-Herald was present and we give his account of the meeting in full, as follows:

Automobile owners and other good roads enthusiasts to the number of 100 or more, representing practically every town and township in Cass county, met here at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and after listening to the addresses of a number of speakers the Cass County Automobile association was launched with a charter membership of twenty-five and bright prospects in the near future for an additional 200 members.

The meeting, which was the second of its kind to be held in Cass county, was one of the largest and most enthusiastic gatherings ever held in this section of the state bent on a similar object. There were large delegations present from Plattsmouth, Nehawka, Elmwood, Manley, Cedar Creek, Mynard and Wabash. A part of the meeting was made up, too, of prominent citizens of Louisville and its vicinity. The principal streets of the city were lined with automobiles and prior to the meeting the street corners teemed with groups discussing the good roads problem. Business was practically suspended while the merchants and others of the city were attending the meeting.

The meeting was called to order by Dr. E. D. Cummins of Plattsmouth. Dr. Cummins had previously been elected temporary chairman of the county organization. He was assisted by W. E. Rosenerans, also of Plattsmouth.

Among those present were: Dr. A. P. Overgaard and Dan Stephens, president and vice president of the Nebraska Automobile association; D. E. Watkins, secretary of the same organization, and the Omaha Motor club was represented by W. J. Kirkland, secretary, and Eugene Silver, treasurer.

To outline the work of organization Mr. Kirkland was the first speaker.

D. E. Watkins, the state organizer, and at whose instigation the meeting was called, explained the benefits to be derived from a county organization. Cass county would become the fifteenth county in the state to organize into a national body, Mr. Watkins explained.

Following a few brief remarks from President Overgaard of Fremont, Dan V. Stephens, perhaps the best known good roads enthusiast as well as one of the state's foremost citizens and legislators, explained at considerable length the working of the last Nebraska legislature with respect to good roads legislation. Mr. Stephens is a strong advocate of the county highway commission and state aid to counties bills. The last legislature, he explained, did not make it compulsory upon counties to appoint a county commissioner which, he believed, was regrettable. As the matter was left entirely to the individual county, Mr. Stephens' plea was made in behalf of that measure, and earnestly requested those present to give the matter careful consideration before rejecting the plan.

A number of other prominent good roads advocates made short talks, all tending to show the necessity for immediate action on the part of the automobile owners of Cass county. Among these speakers were T. H. Pollock and Dr. E. D. Cummins of Plattsmouth, Bert L. Philpot of Weeping Water and Willard Clapp of Elmwood.

Ralph A. Duff, first vice president of the Nebraska State Automobile association, reached the city shortly after the meeting had adjourned and spent the remainder of the afternoon in giving his views on the good roads question to groups of interested "boosters."

As an indication of the interest shown in the movement for good roads for Cass county delegations drove to Louisville from every part of the county.

Ray Pollard of Nehawka was named as president, Bert L. Philpot of Weeping Water was elected vice president, and Willard Clapp of Elmwood, secretary and treasurer.

At a later date President Pollard will appoint membership committees from each town in the county. A constitution and by-laws also were to be adopted at a later meeting.

A movement that had its start a short time before organization of the new county club received a further impetus at Monday's meeting. It was in the form of a petition drawn up by good roads enthusiasts of Louisville petitioning the board of county commissioners of Cass county to make a levy sufficient to raise a fund of $15,000 to be used for dragging the roads in Cass county under the supervision of the board. This petition, which has not as yet been circulated, is to be signed by the taxpayers of the county, and, besides calling attention to the need for the levy, urges the need for better roads, believing that money judiciously spent will be of great benefit to the county.

Among the prominent delegates who took an active part in the formation of the new association were Dr. E. D. Cummins of Plattsmouth, who claims the distinction of owning the first automobile in Cass county, it having been purchased in 1902. Charles Noyes, the second owner of an automobile in the county, was also present.

Other enthusiasts at the meeting were: T. L. Davis, Weeping Water; W. M. Phelps, Nehawka; L. P. Walcott, Weeping Water; W. K. Sargent, Elmwood; F. H. Stander, Wabash; S. F. Gairardet, Weeping Water; M. H. Tyson, Elmwood; J. M. Teegarden, Weeping Water; Charles Philpot, Nehawka; B. L. Philpot, Weeping Water; Willard Clapp, Elmwood; L. G. Toff, Nehawka; J. S. Ronghe, Nehawka; Ed Schullof, Plattsmouth; Louis Frederick, Cedar Creek; August Stander, Louisville; H. H. Schwartz, Elmwood; W. F. Diers, Louisville; C. A. Richey, Louisville; John Ulrich, Mynard; J. R. Noyes, Louisville; W. F. Schlieferl, Wabash; Frank P. Sheldon and Ray Pollard.

NEW POSTAL SAVINGS BANK IN PLATTSMOUTH

Instructions to Be Given Postmasters at Nebraska City on June 19 and 20.

Postmaster Schneider has commenced preparations for the installation of the postal savings bank in Plattsmouth, which will commence operating in the Postoffice here on June 26. Mr. Schneider has received instructions to meet with a class of ten postmasters from Iowa and Nebraska at Nebraska City on June 19 and 20. The necessary instructions will be given this class by Postmaster McCarty of that city, who has received instructions from Washington.

Miss Aileen Rennie has been placed in the postoffice in the general delivery department, and entered upon her duties this morning. This change is made in order to relieve Frank Claidt, who will take the clerkship of the new government banking house of this city.

Announcement.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the nomination of the office of sheriff, subject to the decision of the voters at the coming primary. I ask them to place me in nomination on the democratic ticket.
D. C. Rhoden.

Visited by Stork.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Sinnott last evening, leaving a fine twelve-pound baby boy, who will make their home joyful for twenty-one years. Mrs. Sinnott and the babe are doing well.

"SOCK SHOWER" GIVEN IN HONOR OF GROOM-TO-BE

Pleasant Evening Enjoyed at the Bachelor Quarters of Carl Cole, Near Mynard.

Mr. Carl Cole of Mynard entertained a number of the boys in a very delightful manner at his bachelor quarters Saturday evening, the occasion being in honor of Charles Barnard, whose marriage to Miss Gertrude Cole will occur in the very near future. This occasion was in the nature of a sock shower and was one of the most enjoyable social events of the week.

The boys had come prepared to have a genuine good time and we have it (very confidential) that they sure did have it, as a number of games and amusements had been planned so that there would not be a dull moment. Laughter and good cheer prevailed throughout the entire evening. The groom-to-be was showered with all kinds, sizes and colors of hose, after which a mock wedding was indulged in, which caused considerable merriment. Mr. Charles Barnard was the groom, Earle Cole was best man, Carl Cole the bride, he carrying a large bouquet of flowers and being attended by C. L. Wiles, who acted as the bride's father. The wedding march was played by Sherman Cole, and the ceremony was performed in a very dignified manner by Ernest Hutchinson, who acted as the clergyman. Following the ceremony, delicious refreshments in the shape of ice cream and cake was provided by the host, and to which all the boys did ample justice.

Those in attendance at this most enjoyable occasion were: Elbert and Glen Wiles, Lee Cole, John Livingston, Ed Tschirren, C. L. Wiles, Earle Cole, Charles Barnard, Wayne and Dwight Propst, Roy and Sherman Cole, Carl Cole, Ernest and Roy Hutchinson.

A Band of Mercy.

A Band of Mercy will be formed among the young people of this city in the near future, the time and place of meeting not yet having been decided upon. The public will be notified in the papers at a later date as to when the preliminaries will be arranged for a permanent organization. The aim of this organization will be the protection of dumb animals, domestic and others, more especially the birds, who so industriously protect our crops from the insects, an idea so often overlooked. It is not only the cruelty to the animals which this organization will have for its aim, but the moral degradation of the persons who cause that suffering. Some of our most influential and prominent young ladies have kindly enlisted in the cause, and those who are instrumental in completing this organization are very desirous that the young men, all the children and the older people, who are interested in kindness to all living creatures, join this organization and help toward their protection.

Well Qualified.

From Tuesday's Daily.
Hon. William Delles Deneir, the well known Elmwood lawyer, arrived in the city last evening to look after some business in the district court. While here he received a telephone message calling him to Council Bluffs to look after some legal matters in that city. Some of Mr. Delles Deneir's many friends throughout the county are very anxious for him to become a candidate for county judge. There is one thing certain about Mr. Delles Deneir, he is a good lawyer and his long practice and experience fit him remarkably well for the position of county judge.

Crops in Good Shape.

Hon. R. B. Windham returned last evening from a trip by auto through Nemaha, Otoe and Cass counties and was very much pleased at the prospect for good crops this season. Wheat, especially, looks fine and is filling out well. Oats are doing nicely also, and corn is growing as rapidly as a healthful development of the plant will permit. Mr. Windham expects a bumper crop this fall.

A VERY PRETTY BUT QUIET JUNE WEDDING

Henry J. Meisinger and Miss Anna Libershall United in Marriage This Morning.

From Wednesday's Daily.

A very pretty, though quiet, church wedding occurred this morning at the Holy Rosary Catholic church in this city, when Mr. Henry J. Meisinger, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Meisinger, was united in marriage with Miss Anna Libershall, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Libershall, sr. The ceremony was celebrated by Father M. A. Shine, pastor of St. John's church, Father Vleck, pastor of the Holy Rosary church, being absent in Europe.

As the wedding party entered the church Miss Clara Janda played softly the wedding march. The bride wore a beautiful white batiste wedding gown with veil and wreath and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. She was attended by Miss Anna Vetsnik as bridesmaid, wearing a gown of pink blue silk mull and carrying pink roses. The groom wore the customary black and was accompanied by Mr. Joe Libershall as best man, clad in a business suit of gray. Only near relatives of the happy couple witnessed the ceremony. After the nuptials were celebrated the wedding company went to the home of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served at noon.

This estimable young couple have a large circle of friends, who will be pleased at the announcement of their marriage. Both are natives of this county and the bride a native of this city, where she is very popular, having been one of the efficient teachers at the Columbian school during the last year. She is a graduate of the Plattsmouth High school and possesses many accomplishments which have endeared her to her numerous friends.

The groom is the youngest son

THE FARMER AND THE PROBLEM FACING HIM

His is Not the Simple Life of the Old-Fashioned Farming of His Father.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The American farmer has not got his crops planted. He has confided that wonderful atom, the seed, to the tender care of Mother Earth, and he looks forward to that annual miracle by which the coarse dust of the soil is again transmuted to be bread to the eater. The problem which faces him is not the simple life of old-fashioned farming. His father, who kept a dozen cows and raised a few acres of corn and potatoes, could get food for his family and sell enough to clothe and educate them.

The farmer of today is confronted by a multiplication of insect pests, due to the extermination of the farmers' friend, the birds. Acting as an isolated unit, he feels the squeezing power of the trusts on either side. The prices of his machinery and tools are artificially raised by men acting as a unit; the price of his produce is artificially lowered by men acting as a unit.

Furthermore, the wife wants clothes that look as respectable as those worn by the lawyer's or doctor's wife. The children say Harvard and Vassar are none too good for them.

It is no wonder that the furrows are deep in the honest old face as it peers over the fence on some of these long Sunday twilights.
