What about Congressman Latta for governor? He would fill the bill.

We should get rain pretty soon, the chautauqua season has opened up.

Cass county is entitled to sixteen delegates to the democratic state convention at Fremont.

Hon. John Morehead of Falls City is favored by the leading democrats of Lincoln for governor. He has many friends all over the state.

The people of Nebraska City are happy in knowing that their new Burlington depot is a sure thing. The Lord knows they have needed it long enough.

The reciprocity bill seems certain to pass without amendment, although the impulse to fill it full of jokers is too strong for some of the senators to resist.

Some people favor substituting ice cream for explosives July Fourth, and stomachs really seem more desirable than lock-jaw.

The queen naturally wept during the coronation, as her carefully prepared dinner must have got very cold during an eight-hour ceremony.

Judging by the chorus of "How dry I am's" from the troops returning from Texas, we judge they walked all the way and that the roads were dusty.

Strange to say, the senators who used to wear the sugar trust tag in place of a boutonniere, have got to the point where they keep it inside their coats.

It is a fortunate circumstance for the officers of the weather bureau these days that the initiative, referendum and recall cannot be invoked in their case.

John Kuhl, speaker of the house, was in Omaha the other day, probably to start a boom for him for governor. John is like several others—too light in the upper story.

Hiram Maxwell has invented a noiseless cannon, but it will never be popular for Fourth of July celebrations.

The sagacious newly married couple will carefully sweep up the rice offered by attentive friends and offer it to them in the form of a rice pudding at some future social function.

The next house of representatives will contain forty-two more members than the present congress, which will be a revelation to those who thought congress was already as unwieldy as it could get.

It is gradually dawning on the American people that the great majority of them get little or no benefit from tariff taxes. How many of our readers can tell of any benefit that they get from artificially raised prices?

If the mention of La Follette for president was put out as a "feeler" it was singularly successful. It has resulted in a considerable display of feeling in the standpat papers.

The true way to test the fervor of a boy's patriotism is to see if he is willing to go out of town a mile from any house and discharge his firecrackers in honor of the nation's birthday.

Champ Clark says he is not going to run around the country chasing the presidential nomination. The fact that he has quit the chautauqua platform indicates also that he has decided it is unreasonable to expect the presidential nomination to chase all over the country looking for him.

"Harmony" should be the watchword of all good democrats. Nothing can be gained by pandering over the differences of the last campaign. Democrats always have a hard fight in Nebraska, to say the least, and they must get ready to march in one solid phalanx if they expect success. We have a great chance to win in the election this fall by staying right together and throwing aside all ill-feeling engendered in the last campaign.

The Journal editor has received a letter from Hon. C. W. Pool, ex-speaker of the house of representatives, in which he says it is too early to begin a campaign for governor, notwithstanding his name has been very frequently mentioned for the position. If the race he made for secretary of state a year ago is any indication as to Charley's popularity, he will certainly prove a popular candidate for governor. He ran so close to the successful candidate for secretary of state that we shall always think there was skuldugery in counting in the other fellow.

Our good friend, H. D. Travis of Plattsmouth, who has been mentioned favorably as a possible candidate for the supreme judgeship this fall, will not be a candidate for that position, but his friends insist that he shall succeed himself as judge of the second judicial district, a position he has acceptably filled for several years. Judge Travis is an able lawyer, genial companion and possesses in a marked degree that turn of mind so necessary for one occupying the bench that his reelection is assured.—Tecumseh Journal-Tribunal.

Many well known farmers were conspicuous by their absence on the Fourth.

Showers are "on their way," the forecast says. Sure. But on their way where?

The Fourth is passed and many people are glad of it, but there is another coming in about 364 days.

What's the use of getting hot? We have to take the weather as it comes whether we like it or not.

The federal court order dissolving the powder trust is not likely to effect the popularity of the powder puff.

Every person who wants to increase the price of his own commodities seems to regard the "protracted dry spell as a sufficient pretext."

The harvester trust is being investigated by congress and it is inferred that Senator Lorimer, in view of all the circumstances, refused to intercede.

Democrats, get together and "let byones be byones." Let us heal all the old sores. That is the way to do it if we possess the true spirit of democracy.

Fourteen lumber trust men are presented with indictments, which papers it is now fashionable to frame and hang by the side of your college degree.

The arbitration treaty with England is nearly ready, but the senate will observe its rights to deposit chestnut burrs beneath the British lion's tail.

If Queen Mary is the raging beauty the correspondents at the coronation represent her to be, why is it that none of her photographs reveal the fact?

Does the signal service know any more about the weather than anyone else? It doesn't look that way. The rains do not come as predicted by that department.

Many college students are now getting trips to Europe by feeding cattle on the freight boats. This is much preferable to serving course dinners to the smart set as summer hotel waiters.

Chancellor Day says the laws are made by ignorant people. The chancellor is slightly mistaken. On the contrary, the laws are largely made by shrewd persons who know exactly what they want.

The man who invented confetta should have a life sentence and the man who brings it to town should be ducked in the Missouri river. It is altogether unnecessary and makes the streets of a town look bad.

George P. Barton, democratic candidate for sheriff, spent the Fourth in Plattsmouth, and made a good impression with many people.

The fellow who thinks that ex-Governor Shallenberger is not in the race for United States senator is just a little bit off in his calculations.

The hottest weather in forty years, many people say. Well, we can stand it if such hotness don't shive itself upon us for forty more years. Many of us will not live to enjoy it.

Great Britain ought to have a coronation every year or two, to enable America to confer special distinction upon a number of special ambassadors who are rich and nothing else.

In an interview with numerous farmers on the Fourth we failed to talk to one who said the corn was injured by the extreme heat, and if we could be favored with a rain within ten days the crop would be a bumper.

The wheat crop can't be so awful bad in Kansas if the following is true: The wheat field on William Hundke's farm, north of Atchison, Kansas, a dispatch says, is producing fifty-one and one-half bushels an acre.

Is San Francisco the proper place to hold the Panama exposition? The people will steer clear of the city of earthquakes. And if it is to be a success this matter should be taken into consideration before it is everlastingly too late.

The democratic state convention meets in Fremont Tuesday, July 25th. Cass county is entitled to sixteen delegates, and these want to be selected with a guarantee that each and every one will attend.

The sweeping investigation of all the express companies in the United States, ordered by the interstate commerce commission, seems to verify the worst fears of the common carriers that the fool commission really intends to make itself useful.

That man Shotwell is now having the time of his life explaining that interview in Washington. Some people are so mean as to say that he wrote the interviews himself at the dictation of Vic Rosewater. Now ain't that awful. Little Vic is up to many little tricks, but we can't hardly believe this is true.

The testimony taken at Washington establishes the fact that beyond contradiction that the sugar trust and the Mormon church were partners and that support of the republican party by the church was in payment for high tariffs on sugar. Other articles recently printed establish another fact. The Mormon church is Smoot, Joseph F. Smith, Cutler and a few other Mormon leaders. It is all "business," and business of the most sordid kind. The church is in business and in politics solely for business reasons.

At any time within sixty days after the date of the first publication of this notice, to-wit: June 8, 1911, any owner of any tract of real estate in said district, or of any unassessed tract therein, may pay to C. BAUMAN AND CONDIT FINED

Sheriff of Dodge and Deputy to Pay $100 and Costs Each.

FOR LENIENCY TO LEVI MUNSON

Given Until July 10 to Make Settlement With Court—"Fainting Bertha" Must Serve Her Time in Prison—Special Quarters for Her.

Lincoln, July 4.—Anton Bauman, Jr., sheriff of Dodge county, and W. C. Condit, his deputy, were brought up before Federal Judge T. C. Munger of the court here for contempt of court in allowing Levi Munson of this city, sentenced to a thirty-day term in the county jail at Fremont for violating the federal liquor statutes, great liberty in roaming about the streets and saloons of that place.

The men were fined $100 and costs apiece, payment to be made by Monday, July 10. In assessing the fine against the Fremont men, Judge Munger scathingly arraigned them, asserting that such open and flagrant contempt of orders issued by the federal court of the land was unheard of.

Sheriff Bauman, following the announcement of the penalty, declared that he had recently gone through a financial crisis and asserted that he would not ask any of his friends for the money necessary to redeem the fines, ending with the plea to the judge that he might as well be committed "right now." Judge Munger told the prisoners that they would have the extra time to make their remittances to the clerk of the court.

MOTOR CAR HITS FREIGHT

Crashes into Rear End of Train When Brakes Fail to Work.

Loup City, Neb., July 4.—The section motor car on the Union Pacific branch crashed into the rear end of a freight train about a mile and one-half east of this town, seriously injuring five section hands. The freight had just left the depot on its return trip to St. Paul and the motor, with seven section hands, was following closely behind to put out a fire just a mile or two out of town. The freight slackened its speed and signaled the motor car, but when Foreman Eneveldson attempted to stop, the brake would not work.

All the section hands jumped before the collision except one. He was cut severely about the head, face and hands. Three others who jumped were also badly hurt. The freight gathered up the injured men and backed in to the depot.

ANTI-GIFT LAW IN DISPUTE

Temporary Injunction Issued Restraining Enforcement July 7.

Lincoln, July 4.—The "anti-gift enterprise" law passed by the last legislature cannot be enforced temporarily, Federal Judge T. C. Munger having issued a temporary injunction restraining Governor Aldrich and Attorney General Martin from enforcing the law against William Gold of Lincoln, Sperry & Hutchinson of New York and the Magazine and Book company of New York, three plaintiffs who filed suit last week. The plaintiffs asserted that the law abrogated contracts and took their property without due process of law. A hearing will be held July 11 for a permanent injunction. The law goes into effect July 7. The law was designed to prevent merchants and others from offering premium inducements to patrons in order to get them to buy goods.

CROP CONDITIONS IN NEMAHA

Wheat is Turning Out Well in Southeast Nebraska.

Auburn, Neb., July 4.—Wheat is turning out good, ranging from twenty-five to forty bushels per acre. James Lockwood near Julian threshed thirty-four bushels per acre and weighed sixty-four pounds to the bushel. On the Codington farm, one piece went a little over forty bushels by weight. Reports from all parts of the county show that the wheat is turning out better than expected and the smallest yield reported is twenty-six bushels per acre.

Corn is holding its own exceptionally well with the hot dry weather. However, it is being damaged some the last few days.
