

FREMONT, THE MAGIC CITY OF NORTH-EASTERN NEBRASKA, A BEAUTIFUL ONE

A City Where Prosperity Reigns Supreme, and Beauty Adorns the Surroundings—Where They Boast of One of the Best Organized Commercial Clubs in Nebraska.

The Nebraska newspaper man who attended the democratic state convention at Fremont Tuesday and fails to say a good word for that city and her business men in general will certainly prove himself very ungrateful.

When it was first announced that the convention was to be held in Fremont it was thought by many that the committee had made a mistake in its selection. The editor of the Journal even thought so, but we have been fully convinced to the contrary.

It has been fifteen years since we last visited the beautiful city, and it would take an entire page of the Journal to relate the many changes that have taken place since that time, and it will be impossible to do justice to the many enterprises which have become a part and parcel of Fremont in that time, and we will speak only of the manner in which the Commercial club, which is made up of the business men of the city, entertained their guests.

This was perhaps the largest democratic state convention that has assembled in Nebraska in many years, and those who attended on this occasion returned to their various homes feeling that "it was good to be there," and also feeling that Fremont never does things by halves. The reception committee met every train and greeted the visitors with hearty hand-shakes, and gave them cordial greetings. Mayor George F. Wolz (that prince of good fellows), while a republican, was incessant in his labors to make the boys feel at home, and he most surely succeeded. He circulated among the delegates, and did not attempt to go to Lincoln to attend the republican state convention, because he preferred to join the democrats, "for one day at least," in order to show the delegates that Fremont cannot be outdone in the way of entertaining.

Every available automobile in the city was brought into use, and the visitors were invited to ride over the city and view the many points of interest. We availed ourselves of this opportunity, and while the trip was made in short order, we noticed more fine residences and beautiful lawns than any city of the same size of Fremont in the west. We say this without any fear of successful contradiction. The streets are paved, concrete sidewalks in every direction and on all streets, which denotes the thrift and prosperity of the citizens.

Talk about your electric systems, Fremont is right "in the swim" with the latest, with electricians, which makes a fine light and shows up the city in good shape. Anything that is good for any other city is not too good for Fremont, and they will have it if within their power to do so.

Fremont is one of the best business points in Nebraska. They have many manufacturing establishments, many of which have been secured through the influence of one of the best organized Commercial clubs in the state, which works in harmony for the best interests of their city, and it is no wonder they point with pride to one of the best, liveliest and most beautiful cities extant. Long live Fremont, and may her good people ever be prosperous and happy.

DEATH OF A PIONEER LADY OF CASS COUNTY

Mrs. Louisa J. Nelson Passes Away at Her Home, Five Miles South of Plattsmouth.

Mrs. Louisa J. Nelson, wife of Isaac Nelson, living five miles south of town, died at her home this morning at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Nelson was born in Trumbull county, Ohio, April 22, 1838, but had lived in Cass county for many years. She leaves a son and two daughters, namely: L. W. Nelson and Mrs. S. McNurlin of Weeping Water, and Mrs. Charles Martin of this city.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Nelson home. Interment will be made in the Horning cemetery. The Journal will print further particulars in a future issue, giving a biographical sketch of this excellent lady.

Gases in the Body.

The accumulation of gases in the body is a source of great inconvenience and even suffering. A reliable remedy in such cases is Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine, which regulates the digestion, cleans out the organs and keeps them in perfect working order. It is to be recommended in diseases of the stomach, the liver and the intestines, because of its beneficial effect on these most important parts of the digestive system. It will cure constipation and give a prompt and decided relief in headache, sour stomach, flatulence, rheumatic and neuralgic pains, backache and heartburn. It should be employed in all cases of indigestion, nervousness, nausea and vomiting, loss of appetite, colic and cramps, as well as during convalescence and wherever a good laxative tonic is indicated, at drug stores. Jos. Triner, 1333-1339 South Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill.

GOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND

Is effective for coughs and colds in either children or grown persons. No opiates, no harmful drugs. In the yellow package. Refuse substitutes. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Everybody wants to try a sack of Forest Rose flour. Why? Because they have heard that it is one of the best grades of flour put on the market. Try a sack and see if you don't think so.

Postmasters in Politics.

The Plattsmouth Journal wonders if postmasters are compelled to take part in every little political stunt that is pulled off, and then states that the postoffice department might be surprised at some of the activities postmasters in certain parts of the state are taking. In the old days, we believe, the postmaster was the whole cheese in the party conventions, but we understand Mr. Hitchcock has given orders to his postmasters to stay out of politics in the future. It is a good idea, and it remains to be seen whether or not the postmasters will obey the order.—Nebraska City Press (rep.)

Can't look well, eat well or feel well with impure blood feeding your body. Keep the blood pure with Burdock Blood Bitters. Eat simply, take exercise, keep clean and you will have long life.

Plattsmouth Represented.

The directors of the Commercial club met this morning and elected the secretary, E. H. Wescott, to represent Plattsmouth on the trip which the Nebraska Publicity league is taking to Boston to attend the national convention of Publicity Leagues. Mr. Wescott departed for Omaha this afternoon, from which point the representatives will depart at 6:30 this evening. The selection of Mr. Wescott to represent the Plattsmouth Commercial club is a good one, and being a very close observer, he will be able to give such information as will prove of much interest to the club and the citizens in general.

Poison From Ivy.

For poison from ivy and other plants apply sweet spirits of nitre without dilution. Weak ammonia solutions are also good; likewise an application of lime-water. Still another excellent application is a saturated solution of boracic acid. Boiling water is needed to dissolve this powder. A boracic acid solution makes it little alum of lead added to the more effective. If one becomes poisoned easily it is well when going about the woods or on picnic jaunts to anoint the face and hands with cold cream or some oleaginous preparations, thereby lessening the danger of becoming infected.

Forest Rose Flour. The next time you need a sack of flour try a sack. You will find it the best on the market.

"JOLLY EIGHT" ENJOYS A PLEASANT AFTERNOON

Ladies Composing the Club Most Delightfully Entertained by Mrs. William Heinrichsen.

Mrs. William Heinrichsen yesterday entertained the Jolly Eight Card club in a very charming manner. Seven games were played to determine the championship for the day, the first prize being won by Mrs. Roy Burdick and the second prize by Miss Olga Sattler.

A delicious luncheon was served at 4:30, after which the guests departed, declaring that it was the best meeting they had had for some time. Those present were: Mrs. Henry Timms, Mrs. Olga Crookery, Mrs. John Sattler, Mrs. William Mason, Mrs. Antone Kanka, Mrs. Roy Burdick, Mrs. Fred Reasoner of South Dakota, and Miss Olga Sattler.

Pollard Gets Snubbed.

The naming of S. W. Burnham, in the republican convention at Lincoln Tuesday, as a member of the committee-at-large on resolutions, was a direct slap in the face of E. M. Pollard, former congressman from the First district. Pollard had been slated for the place, but Jefferis named Burnham, however. Rosewater and Burkett immediately landed on Burnham. He said that he had not expected to be named and had nothing to do with the matter. Pollard was thoroughly angry. Burnham offered to resign, but the mistake had been made and could not be remedied. The place on the committee would have furthered Pollard's congressional aspirations. Jefferis is now a marked man for the friends of Pollard.

HAY FEVER AND SUMMER COLDS

Must be relieved quickly and Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will do it. E. M. Stewart, 1034 Wolfram St., Chicago, writes: "I have been greatly troubled during the hot summer months with Hay Fever and find that by using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound I get great relief." Many others who suffer similarly will be glad to benefit by Mr. Stewart's experience. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Tumbled Off the Chutes.

Last Friday Willie, son of Sam Hart, took his father's dinner to him at the coal chutes. In attempting to climb over a car, with two rails on one arm, he lost his hold and tumbled down, striking the planks, and rolled off the chutes below. His injuries were a dislocation of his right wrist, the tearing loose of the ligaments and his face was bruised. Of course the dinner was dislodged from the rails, but that was a minor matter compared with Willie's condition. He is getting better fast. Willie sells papers and is a hustling agent.—Weeping Water Republican.

Don't use harsh physics. The reaction weakens the bowels, leads to chronic constipation. Get Doan's Regulents. They operate easily, tone the stomach, cure constipation.

An Old Friend Calls.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Gruber of Union were in the city today looking after some business matters, and while here Uncle Simon favored the Journal with a brief visit. Mr. Gruber is one of the substantial farmers of Liberty precinct, a rock-ribbed democrat and one of the Journal's best friends. While in the office our old friend left a five-dollar William with us to pay for the Journal, and a year or more ahead. Thanks, Mr. Gruber.

Hives, eczema, itch or salt rheum sets you crazy. Can't bear the touch of your clothing. Doan's Ointment cures the most obstinate cases. Why suffer? All druggists sell it.

Mrs. M. B. Howard and Mrs. John Axmaker, who have been for the past few days at the home of the late Mrs. Nelson, returned to their homes in Greenwood this morning.

DANCE.

Given by the Jolly Six Dancing Club at Coates Hall Saturday, July 29. Admission, 50c. Ladies free. Everybody invited.

A man who bought a pair of Saturday special pants at 95c, was in to get another pair Tuesday, and was disappointed to know they were all gone. It pays to buy all you want of these specials as soon as you can.

IF WE would sell you goods at these clearance prices all year round, the whole country would be here to buy them. It would break us up. The only reason why we can sell them this way is because they are remnants and odds from lines that have sold at a reasonable profit during the season. All we are trying to do now is to clean them up and get at least part of our money out of them before the Fall goods arrive. The wise buyers appreciate this and are stocking up to their great advantage. You'd better do the same. Remember men's fine suits—$9, $14, $18.

"THE WORLD'S GREAT STUMBLING BLOCK"

Rev. Wilkinson Discusses Hypocrisy and What Constitutes a Hypocrite.

Last evening at the Christian church Rev. Wilkinson discoursed on the theme of "The World's Great Stumbling Block," which he defined as "Hypocrisy," and also defined hypocrisy, or rather a hypocrite, as being one who did wrong and tried to have people believe he did not do it and that his actions were right. In his address the speaker said in substance:

"The great objection which many people offered against the church and of becoming members thereof, was that there were so many hypocrites in it, and that they did not wish to be aligned with them. They generally say, too, that 'I am not and not just what I am.' I am a sinner and do not pretend to be anything else. Now, that is an honest confession, but it has not changed the sinner into a Christian, for he is still a sinner and he has objected to joining the church because he saw some who have enrolled themselves as members who were not just what they should be. Look at the secret orders of all kinds. They have some members who are not what is desired, and they have the black ball to keep their membership clean, and it would be expected that in the church, which throws its doors wide open for the reception of anyone who it can benefit, that some would creep in who were not what they should be, but it is the mission of the church to make them better, which it strives to do, and in most cases does. Again, it is not the Christian that is the hypocrite in the church, for one could not be a hypocrite and a Christian. That would be impossible, and when one looks at the matter without prejudice, he sees it is the sinner under his proposition which is keeping him from being a Christian. Take, for instance, a man who has committed a misdemeanor and has had to serve time for the same and he is free again, should he go to the lodge and knock for admission, the ballot would say, 'No, we cannot accept this man, for he is not what we would like for an associate.' But when he seeks admission into the church the church says, 'Yes, it is our mission to take him and do what we can to make him a better man and a good citizen,' and the doors swing open for him. Now, the case is the same with the drunkard, the abandoned woman or any other person in similar circumstances.

"You who object to joining the church because there is someone therein who you do not think worthy, might as well say, 'I will not live in Plattsmouth because someone lives here that I consider is not fit to associate with; therefore, I will move to some other town.' Will he go to Glenwood, or Nebraska City, or Omaha, or out of the state to Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Colorado or the Dakotas, or will he have to leave the United States? Then where will he go, to China, England, France, Germany or Russia? No, he will find the same conditions there, and when he leaves this world, unless he joins the church, he will find the same conditions.

"Now, the church, whose mission is to make the world better and its citizens more comfortable and to increase goodfellowship, will continue to accept those who may need its help to become better citizens and it will thrive, no matter what the world may say. It is apparent that the one who only has for his reason that there are some in the church whom he does not choose to associate with, is staying out and is using this for an excuse, which makes him a hypocrite, and in the same category as the one he objects to associating with."

A number of pictures were shown of the west, of Cripple Creek and the mountains and mines, as well as some Indians. An illustrated song was given, "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning," by Miss Daniels, which was well received, as her voice has now improved after the recent attack of her throat during the first part of the week.

The address this evening will be, "Unpardonable Sin," accompanied with some pictures and an illustrated song. Everybody invited.

Stop and Think!

Why should you pay rent? Why should you buy five acres? Why should you keep your chickens closed up?

Break away from it. Come out to a country where your chickens will not scratch out your neighbor's garden. When you buy, buy right, and do not be held up.

Why not take 20 or 25 acres for the same price as one down here? You cannot support one horse well on five acres, without working out. Quit all this. I will help you to get a bigger and cheaper place.

480 acres for $2,500; $1,300 cash and balance five years' time at 6 per cent. All fenced, small house, good well and windmill, small barn, in good settlement and good neighbors, good school and six miles from good town. This is mostly sandy pasture and hay land; you may farm fifteen acres or more. Milk a few cows, raise all the chickens you want and turn them out. Just stop and think. I don't want you to buy at once. Look at a five-acre farm here and then come out and look at 320, 480 or 640 acres. Can it be? Yes it can. We want you in our country, in the best corn country in the state. I have more places besides this, larger and smaller, all prices and terms. The smaller the place the harder you will have to work. Come out and see me before you buy. I will take care of you and show you around.

C. B. Schleicher, Brady, Neb.

Attend Convention.

Mesdames L. A. Moore and A. H. Kneel were passengers to Louisville yesterday afternoon, where they will be in attendance at the W. C. T. U. county convention, which convened at that place last night and today. Mrs. E. A. Kirkpatrick came up from Nehawka Tuesday evening and was an over night guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. P. E. Rpfner, and then accompanied the Plattsmouth ladies to the Louisville convention.

J. G. Meisinger of Cedar Creek was a visitor in this city today and a pleasant caller at this office this morning. While here he handed us the wherewithal and asked us to push his subscription to this paper ahead for another year, which we were very much pleased so to do.

Paul Morgan was a passenger on the noon train for Omaha.

ENDORSE TAFT AT LINCOLN TUESDAY

Notwithstanding the Protest of the Friends of Senator La Follette.

Nebraska republicans in convention at Lincoln Tuesday gave President Taft and his administration a strong indorsement, and effectively blocked all efforts of a small band of insurgent delegates to arouse sentiment for Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin as a presidential candidate.

The insurgents lacked a leader and were outgeneraled by Victor Rosewater and his delegation from Omaha.

Before the insurgents could get a chance to introduce resolutions from the floor, the regulars had rushed through a motion providing that all resolutions should be referred to a committee which was given power to draw up a final report.

Chairman A. W. Jefferis of Omaha then named a committee of seven members, of which five were strong friends of Mr. Taft, and of which Mr. Rosewater was made chairman.

From this point the possibilities of a fight on the floor over the indorsement of Mr. Taft went glimmering.

Despite their early announcement that they would not assent to a Taft indorsement on any conditions, the insurgents failed to make even a show of fight or objection when the platform resolution was finally presented.

The resolution went through with a whoop by a rising vote, during which several of the insurgents were discovered on their feet.

An attempt to have the convention instruct the resolutions committee to refrain from indorsing any individual candidate met with summary treatment. I. D. Evans of Adams county secured the floor for this purpose, but he was howled down by other delegates and gavelled out of order by Chairman Jefferis before he could read his resolution.

This was as far as the insurgents could get with their fight to prevent a Taft indorsement. From this juncture the much vaunted insurgent opposition slumped to nothing. The Red Willow and Washington county delegations, which had been most active in the movement, quit the contest when it was learned that there was no possibility of a minority report from the resolutions committee.

Out of the total of 855 votes in the convention, it was said by regular leaders that the insurgents could not muster a following of more than 150 delegates.

A Trip to Canada.

Miss Mildred Cummins left this afternoon for Ottawa, Ill., where she will visit relatives for a time. She will join a party at Ottawa, taking a trip through the provinces of Canada, and returning by way of Niagara Falls and Chicago. Miss Cummins expects to be gone about a month. Her father accompanied her to Omaha.

Apples.
