They have been on an extended visit through California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and they say that while they have seen some beautiful towns and good agriculture country, yet they have seen nothing to compare with Three Forks and the progress that has been made in the farm lands adjacent to the city.—Three Forks (Mont.) Herald, August 3, 1911.

Funeral of F. M. Young, Sr.

One of the largest funerals held in Murray for many a day was that of F. M. Young, sr., on Wednesday afternoon, August 9. The services were held at the Christian church, conducted by Rev. Williams, the church of which Mr. Young has been a member for many years. The services were held between the hours of 2 and 3, at which time the business houses of the mourning little city of Murray were all closed to give all an opportunity of attending the last sad rites of a beloved citizen of their midst. F. M. Young was a man who had lived near Murray for the past fifty years or more, all of which time had been devoted to the upbuilding of the community and his home. The community was made better by having such a man as this in their midst, profited by his teachings, and will be greatly missed by all. Of late years he has lived in Murray, and while he has not been in good health for some time, he has been kind and loving, by which method he has gained the everlasting friendship of all. The remains were carefully laid to their last resting place in the Young cemetery, east of Murray, a large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives attending the services at the cemetery. The pallbearers were: A. L. Baker, Oscar Gopen, Henry Creamer, Major Hall, Colonel Jenkins and Colonel Seybolt. Thus the closing chapter of a noble life is ended, and all that remains is the many good deeds and kindnesses shown his fellowmen through all his long and useful career, and the aching hearts can only be soothed by the accumulation of life's ever-changing events, with the hope that they will some day meet this grand old man in a land more fairer than this.

Prejudice.

A person forming a prejudice against something and refusing to consider arguments and even facts, is a fanatic. A prejudice never proved anything, never helped anybody; it keeps a man blind. The most common prejudice is against proprietary medicines manufactured in large quantities. It is, in some instances, justified, but in certain cases most unjust. Take, for example, Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine. Lay aside your prejudice and convince yourself that this preparation consists of pure red wine, fully matured, and of selected herbs, the use of which you might suggest yourself to a friend suffering from a stomach or intestinal trouble. You will find that it is very valuable in constipation, dull and sick headache, in rheumatic and neuralgic attacks, in backache, in colicky pains in the abdomen, in disturbances of the digestion and in cramps. Your prejudice will vanish. At drug stores, Jos. Triner, 1333-1339 So. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill.

6,000 Bushels of Apples.

What do you think of one Cass county man having 6,000 bushels of apples this season? This seems like pretty much apples, but that is the amount that the champion apple raiser, Frank Moore, expects to have this season. We are informed that contractors have already tried to deal with Mr. Moore for the harvest of the large crop, but up to the present time he has not closed. He may place them on the market himself.

Pitman & Davis, the genial hardware merchants of Murray, have secured the contract for putting a new and modern heating plant in the large Woolsey residence at Wyoming. The work has already commenced on the excavation. Mr. Woolsey knows where to get the right kind of work.

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF CASS COUNTY SCHOOLS SHOWS GOOD CONDITIONS

Value of School Property is Large, and There is Scarcely Any Indebtedness—Average Salary of Teachers is About $50—Of 165 Teachers in the County, 143 Are Women.

Miss Mary E. Foster, county superintendent of schools, has just finished the annual report of all the public schools in the county, which is prepared each year for the state department of education.

The report shows that there was a total of $22,384.41 in the hands of the school treasurers of the county at the close of school last year.

The receipts have been as follows: From county and township treasurers, $102,882.69; from tuition of non-resident pupils, $3,540.78; from fines and licenses, $5,200; from all other sources, $2,039.90; total, $115,948.48.

The amount collected for tuition by some of the cities and towns of the county follow: Plattsmouth, $663.15; Weeping Water, $513.15; Louisville, $264; Greenwood, $811.75; Nehawka, $102.75; Elmwood, $782.

A total of $14,710 was paid to male teachers during the year, and $64,690.45 to women teachers.

The fuel bill for all the schools in the county amounted to $5,368.56.

A total of $578.48 was spent for books under the library law; $4,986.30 was spent for text books and supplies.

The amount of money now in the hands of district treasurers is $28,102.73.

The value of the school houses in the county is $186,773.72; the value of school sites, $20,396; the value of text books, $12,112.15; the value of maps, charts, etc., $5,420.75; the value of all other property, $2,951.

The amount of outstanding school bonds is $31,300; other indebtedness, $97.60; making a total of only $31,397.60 for the entire county.

The census shows that there are 6,142 persons of school age in the county, 5 to 21 years, 3,041 males and 3,101 females.

The number of males subject to the compulsory education law is 1,748; females, 1,796; total, 3,544.

The number of males subject to the compulsory education law who attended school the required time is 1,509; females, 1,544; total, 3,053.

The school enrollment in the county was 4,564. The average daily attendance: Males, 1,599; females, 1,722; total, 3,321.

There are 108 school houses in the county, of which two are classed as poor, 36 as fair and 70 as good; one is of stone, 92 frame and 15 brick.

The report, compared with last year, shows that the number of persons of school age in the county is 124 less this year than last.

There are 165 teachers in the county, of which all are women but 22.

The average of all the teachers in the county is approximately $50 per month for the school year.

KNOW MANKER TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Attorney A. L. Timberlin of Omaha Tells What He Knows About the Unfortunate Banker.

C. A. Manker, the former Pearl, Ill., banker, who stabbed himself fatally in his cell at San Francisco when told that requisition by the state of Illinois for his return on the charge of embezzling $45,000 had been honored, conducted a bank at Louisville, Neb., some twenty-five years ago, according to A. L. Timberlin, an Omaha attorney. Mr. Timberlin was a personal friend of the dead banker.

"I knew Cary A. Manker well," said Mr. Timberlin, in speaking of the tragedy. "He conducted a bank at Louisville some twenty-five years ago when I lived there, and we got to be very close friends. I think the bank was organized by the Manker family; Cary Manker was married at Louisville. I was acquainted with both parties before and after their marriage.

"Everything in connection with his career at Louisville was straight-forward, according to my recollection. I remember that he was given to engaging in financial enterprises which promised to yield big returns in a hurry, and he seemed to be successful in his operations at Louisville."—World-Herald.
