IN HONOR OF MRS. W. E.
CRABILL OF KANSAS

A Number of Lady Friends Delightfully Entertained at Home of Mrs. J. W. Crabill.

From Saturday's Daily.
A number of lady acquaintances of Mrs. W. E. Crabill of Wakeeney, Kansas, were entertained at a most delightful Kensington at the pretty home of Mrs.
J. W. Crabill yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Marvella Howard and Mrs. J. W. Crabill. This pleasant social affair was in honor of Mrs.
W. E. Crabill, a former Plattsmouth girl, who has been visiting relatives and friends in the city for the past several weeks, and who will return to her home in Kansas in a few days.

The time was very pleasantly passed in plying the busy needle, which was most enjoyably inter-persed with social conversation, vocal and instrumental music, all of which greatly assisted in making the entertainment a most splendid one. Delicious and cooling fruit punch was served throughout the entire afternoon, it being quite warm, and the punch bowl was patronized quite frequently. A lovely luncheon was provided by the hostesses, which the ladies likewise thoroughly enjoyed and which further augmented the pleasures of the afternoon.

Those who enjoyed this occasion were: Mesdames Robert Brissey, sr., Robert Brissey, jr., Mae Morgan, E. H. Wescott, C. E.
Wescott, C. W. Baylor, L. Cecil, S.
Cecil, A. J. Crabill, Kennedy, Amoila Swift, F. J. Morgan and H. Northcutt of Omaha.

BURNING GRASS MAKES A BAD-LOOKING FIRE

Dovey and White Homes Seemed Threatened Till Flames Were Kept From Spreading.

From Saturday's Daily.
The burning of dry grass and weeds on the side of the bluff east of the Dovey and White homes in the northeast part of town brought out the fire department at about 8 o'clock last evening, and, incidentally, a large crowd. The fire at one time looked as if it would spread up the hill, in which case the Dovey and White homes, with the barns, would be in much danger.

Many volunteers, including a large number of small boys, waded through the dense smoke and aided in keeping the fire from spreading. It had almost burnt itself out before the fire department got water on the flames.

The boys made an excellent run up the hill, only to learn that the hose was not long enough. In about twenty minutes after the alarm was turned in the firemen were doing business, and kept at it for over an hour.

Simon Clark was wearing a smile this morning that wouldn't come off. He received word this morning that Mrs. Robert Stivers his daughter, was the mother of a brand new baby, and now it is Grandpa Clark. Mrs. Clark is now with her daughter at Glenwood.

Louisville, 5; Greenwood, 4.

The game here between the home team and Louisville was a close contest, the visitors winning by a score of 5 to 4. The features of the game was the battery work of Gotsch and Wolf, Gotsch striking out eleven men and allowing but three singles, while the pegging to second base was Wolf's long suit. The score was tied in the eighth inning and the visitors annexed one run in their part of the ninth, while the locals were cut off by the most sensational catch of the game, when J. Salberg made a running catch to right field and followed with a catch of a line drive which looked out of his reach. With the stick Salberg, F. Ossonok and Wolf were stars, each connecting three time for safe ones. The locals worked a bunt out to perfection in the eighth, which was partly responsible for the scores it took to tie the game. Stokes was hit freely and received some poor support, but managed to keep the score down by holding the visitors on the bases. Saturday, August 13, the local team plays the fast little aggregation from Cedar Creek and a good game may be looked for.

William F. Hogeboom.

William F. Hogeboom of La Platte died Sunday, August 6, at the South Omaha hospital, where he had been taken for treatment for a chronic kidney trouble. He had been in feeble health for some time and lately his condition grew much worse and he was taken to the hospital for skilled treatment, but all to no avail, death ensuing to end his pain.

William F. Hogeboom was born at Sheboygan Falls, Wisconsin, October 26, 1841, where he resided for a number of years. He came to Sarpy county, Nebraska, June 15, 1855, and had since continuously resided here. He was a member of Company D, Second Nebraska cavalry and saw some service in the early history of Nebraska. He was never married and is survived by his aged stepmother, and also by one sister, Mrs. J. Luce of La Platte.

DO FARMERS TALK TOO MUCH ABOUT THEIR CROPS?

Some Truth in Contention That Farmers Talk Too Much About Their Crops.

A Cass county farmer comes to the front with the suggestion that the farmers are foolish to give out any advance information about their crops, and that the proper way to deal with the experts who come around or send around to find out about corn, wheat, oats, etc., is to tell them it is none of their business. His idea is that this information is used for the benefit of the speculator and the grain handler, and that the producer gets the worst of it.
Theoretically, there is something to this contention, since a large use of this advance information is in discounting the future. Practically, however, information as to the condition of crops and the prospects for yields cannot be withheld or concealed.
The farmer's fields lie out in the open; and the ability to accurately observe and to estimate yields is not confined to the producer. Besides, the farmers have been accustomed so long to answering questions about crops that he couldn't help telling when asked.
It is not entirely clear, either, that information about crops, actual and prospective, is entirely the business of the agriculturist. The principal reason is that as crops are the business barometers of each year and so much is dependent upon the yields that to clap a cover on this barometer would be about as foolish as putting one on that which adorns our weather bureaus.—Lincoln News.

FIRE BOYS PUT ON AN EXHIBITION DRILL

A Large Crowd Watched Fast Work on the Part of One of the Hose Reels.

From Saturday's Daily.
The fire boys put on some good drills after supper last night, and their work was watched by a large and approving crowd. The two wagons started out from the fire quarters on a race to see which could first get water on.
The red wagon ran down to the Riley hotel corner, made a quick connection and uncoupling and had water spouting out the nozzle in jig time. The other wagon had a little hard luck, and as the water was turned on too soon considerable more hose had to be taken from the reel before the nozzle could be hooked on.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Kinnaman went to Omaha today.
