Great Worry.

Every stress of mind, worry, fright, fear, grief, mental overwork, frequently results in indigestion or some other disturbance of the digestive organs. It becomes necessary to give new strength to the nerves supplying these organs, which can only be done by giving them enough food. Use Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine. It will stimulate the digestive organs, that is, all those organs the food should pass through in our body, and will make them to accept and digest any food. It will clean out the body, cure constipation and all troubles following the same, headache, neuralgia, backache, jaundice, many female disorders, diseases of the stomach and bowels, nervousness and many blood and skin diseases. It will improve the appetite and strengthen the whole body. At drug stores, Jos. Triner, 1333-1339 So. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill.
