LARGE CROWD SAW SOKOL EXHIBITION

South Omaha and Plattsmouth
Teams Put Up a Fine Show for Audience.

A large crowd was present at the Sokal hall Sunday afternoon for the turning exhibition of the Sokols of Plattsmouth and South Omaha. The local boys put on their best drill first. Attired in their new costumes they made a fine appearance.

Emil Janousek was elected turning teacher for the day, as Jack Novy, the regular teacher, could not be present.

First on the program was work on the turning pole. Next Emil Janousek did the giant swing, going around the pole five times. He received great applause for the act. Next came the bar work, which was cleverly done and much applauded.

The South Omaha team put on a fine drill and was given a vote of thanks by the local boys.

Those turning for the Plattsmouth team were: Joe Vostrejs, J. F. Sedook, A. H. Koubek and Tom Gradavill.

The day proved a success from every standpoint.

Here From Plainview.

From Tuesday's Daily.
Mrs. Fred Ebinger of Plainview, Nebraska, was in the city yesterday visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. George Weidman. Mr. and Mrs. Ebinger came from Plainview to Havelock in the automobile and had planned coming on to Plattsmouth yesterday, but learned at Havelock that we had a heavy rain here the night before and the roads were so muddy that they could not make the trip, so Mrs. Ebinger came down on the train, accompanied by Mrs. Hans Goos, also of Plainview. Mrs. Ebinger and Mrs. Goos, accompanied by Mrs. Weidman, returned to Havelock this morning, where they met Mr. Ebinger, returning to Plainview in the automobile. Mrs. Weidman will visit with her daughter for a few days.

Plattsmouth Vs. Glenwood.

From Tuesday's Daily.
The tennis club of Glenwood sent over to Plattsmouth yesterday morning for some of the tennis players of this city to go over there for some matches with the Glenwood players. Morgan and Patterson went over in the morning and cleaned up everything in sight, and George and John Falter went over in the afternoon and were equally successful. The Glenwood club has a fine court and they showed the local boys a royal time.

Guy McMaken came over home from Red Oak Sunday evening, returning Monday evening. They have about completed their concrete and paving work at Red Oak and will move to Clarinda this week, where they have another large contract to look after.

Mother Dies.

Friends in the city of Miss Blanche Bell, who taught in this city for the past two years, and who is intending to teach near her home at Memphis, Neb., during the coming winter, received a telephone message from her today conveying to them the sad intelligence of her mother's death, which occurred this morning, after several weeks' illness with typhoid fever.

A VERY PLEASANT EVENT
WEDNESDAY EVENING

An Evening Enjoyably Spent at the Kaffenberger Home, Near This City.

Last Wednesday evening a very delightful occasion occurred at the Kaffenberger farm, seven miles west of Plattsmouth. A large crowd attended, the porches and swing were lit up with colored lanterns. The evening was passed with very delightful music. Mayme Heil and Dora Kaffenberger sang two solos, which everybody praised highly. Amusing games were also played, of which all took part and enjoyed.

At the usual hour lunch was served, to which all did justice. At a late hour all departed for their different homes, declaring they had had a very nice time.

Those who took part in this delightful occasion were: Misses Mayme and Adelaide Heil, Florence, Pheme and Robin Richardson, Marie Hiber, Helen Horn, Sarah White, Viola Becker, Clara Parakening, Vera Propst, Hermanna Kalopek, Edith Baumgart, Florence Weinheimer of Illinois, Mildred and Anna Snyder, Dora and Ola Kaffenberger; Messrs. Mayme and Dwight Propst, Louie Baumgart, John Parakening, Bryan Snyder, Joe Hiber, John Cloldt, Will Wetencamp, Walter and Ollie Nickel of Illinois, Sam Rhoden, Elmer Holstrom, Fred Edwards, Roy Weinheimer of Illinois, R. Heil, Mr. and Mrs. John Kaffenberger; Mr. and Mrs. Will Wehrlein, Mr. and Mrs. George Kaffenberger and Mina, Goldye and Gladys Kaffenberger.

The Apple Market.

The apple market seems to be way off in Cass county at the present time. The prices offered are not sufficient to pay the farmers for gathering them and bringing them to town. Many are feeding their surplus apples to the hogs. There are some very fine winter apples, but the market has not yet opened for this class, and the market will have to raise somewhat on winter apples before the farmers will offer any for sale. Louie Rheinaekle brought to this office Saturday from the orchard of Uncle Ben Beckman two of the largest and prettiest apples of the Wolf River variety we ever laid eyes upon, but we are informed there is scarcely any demand for this quality. Apples are plenty in Cass county, sure.

A GIRL KNOWN HERE DROWNED IN ATLANTIC

Miss Carolyn Mercer Was Taking Ocean Trip for the Benefit of Her Health.

The following account of the suicide of a woman well known in Plattsmouth is taken from the Omaha Daily News:

A wireless message received Sunday, addressed to W. Farnham Smith, stated that Miss Carolyn Mercer had fallen overboard from the steamship Minneapolis, twenty miles from the New Jersey coast.

Miss Mercer sailed last Saturday with her sister, Mary, and Dr. Nelson Mercer and wife. It was largely on account of Miss Mercer's health that the trip was taken. She had been ill for a period of years with nervous disorders which manifested themselves in hysteria and ideas of self-destruction. She was 35 years of age and born in Omaha.

Carolyn Mercer was the eldest daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. S. D. Mercer, and granddaughter of the late Mrs. Nancy Hulst, Mrs. R. Beecher Howell is a cousin and Nelson Hulst, a millionaire mining engineer, of Milwaukee, is another cousin.

Definite details of the death of Miss Mercer have not been received. Captain Harker of the Minneapolis sent this wireless to the New York police: "We miss Carolyn Mercer, five feet, six inches, 110 pounds, light brown hair, clothing marked 'C. M.' If body washed up, notify W. Farnham Smith, Omaha club, Omaha, Neb."

Before leaving Omaha with his wife and sisters, Dr. Mercer rented his home at Fortieth and Cumming street, with intentions of remaining abroad for two years at least.

Miss Carolyn Mercer was educated at Sacred Heart and Brownell Hall and finished at a New York school. Miss Mercer had figured prominently in social circles in Omaha, although she had made her home elsewhere for several years. She lived in Boston for some time and studied for the stage, but her health failed before she made her debut. Lately she had been in sanitariums in both California and Chicago.

A year ago Dr. Mercer made the trip around the world with his sisters in the hope of benefiting Miss Mercer's health. She was one of the Country club golfers in the early years of that organization and was an enthusiastic and successful follower of this game.

Miss Mercer is the fifth member of her household to be taken by death in the last half dozen years. The first was George Mercer, oldest son of the family and a former councilman; the second was Mrs. Nancy Hulst, grandmother and a pioneer settler in Omaha; then came the death of Mrs. Mercer, followed by that of Dr. Mercer about three years ago.

Dr. Mercer left a large fortune to the three children who survived him, and Miss Carolyn Mercer was reputed to be one of the wealthiest of Omaha's unmarried women.

A Card From Miss Tighe.

The Journal is in receipt of a card from Miss Lillian Tighe, dated London, August 22, 1911. Miss Tighe was the chief winner in the World-Herald contest for a trip through Europe. She says: "Left Paris yesterday, after a week's stay there. Crossed the channel and visited London. Will go to Edinburgh today and leave Saturday morning for Glasgow. I sail for home Saturday afternoon. Visited all the principal places of interest in Germany, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland and France. Spent one day sailing up the Rhine river. The trip was most delightful. Will stop at Niagara Falls on my way home." Miss Tighe has evidently enjoyed her trip, and we are safe in saying that she can give a most accurate account of her sight-seeing in foreign countries. She has probably reached home by this time, and if she has we trust she will furnish the Journal with an extended account of her trip in foreign countries.

Congratulates Commercial Club.

One of the most prominent farmers in the vicinity of Plattsmouth heartily congratulates the Commercial club for its enterprise and foresight in sending a man from Plattsmouth to accompany the Nebraska delegation to Boston. It was a splendid thing for Nebraska, he said, and incidentally for Plattsmouth and Cass county. It is such things that makes our land more valuable and our communities more prosperous.

Freak of Lightning.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Fred Patterson brought to the Journal office today a strip twenty feet long cut from a tree by lightning. The bolt split the tree from top to bottom and hurled seventy feet away a strip of the tree that was no thicker than a rope. The tree was struck during the storm two weeks ago Sunday. It is an old tradition that a tooth pick made from a splinter of a tree struck by lightning will keep one from having the toothache. Parsons suffering from such should consult Mr. Patterson, who can supply toothpicks for some time to come from the strip he brought to the Journal office.

WAGNER WAS CAUGHT AT ST. JOSEPH, MO.

Baker Charged With Forging
Check for $20 Says He Remembers Nothing of It.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Henry Wagner, the baker, charged with forging a check for $20 against the Riley bar, was brought home yesterday by Sheriff Quinton and locked up in the county jail. He was caught at St. Joseph by detectives there.

Wagner went into the Riley saloon Friday night just before closing time and gave the bartender, Dave Amick, a check supposed to have been signed by C. L. Heger, the baker, for whom he worked. He left town soon afterwards.

Wagner now claims that he remembers nothing of the incident. "I did not give anyone a check, and did not write one," he says. "I would have remembered about it even if I was drunk. There is a mistake somewhere and I would like to look at that check. I never wrote it and can never be made to believe that I did."

Wagner was arraigned this morning before Judge Archer. The preliminary trial was set for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

FORMER RESIDENT DIED IN OMAHA LAST NIGHT

Mrs. Joseph J. McVey, a Sister of
M. Whelen, Passed Away
After Short Illness.

From Thursday's Daily.

Mrs. Joseph J. McVey, a former resident of Plattsmouth, and a sister to M. Whelen, died last night in Omaha after a ten days' illness. She returned from Denver about two weeks ago and took a bad chill. She soon began to grow worse. Yesterday her brother, Mr. Whelen, was sent for, as she had hurled a blood vessel and was unconscious.

The McVey's lived here about ten years ago. The deceased leaves a husband and three daughters, Catherine, Frances and Nellie.

The funeral services will be held in Omaha early Thursday morning and short services will be held from the 9:58 train here Thursday morning. The burial will be at the Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Omaha Visitors.

Mr. P. A. Wells, a prominent attorney of Omaha, accompanied by Mrs. Dr. Wells, together with Mr. Will A. Sharp, president of the Omaha Can company, with Mrs. Cora W. Sharp and daughter, spent Sunday with friends and relatives in Plattsmouth. The party made the trip with Mr. Wells' new Cadillac 30 horsepower auto, returning to Omaha via Pacific Junction and Council Bluffs Monday morning. Mr. Sharp reports the can business in good condition, his factory being engaged at the present on rushing through 250,000 sanitary cans for the tomato crop, and has contracts for 100,000 coffee and baking powder cans, all of which must be completed by the first of November.

Union Man Arrested.

George Barton brought a man up from Union this morning charged with breaking into a house and stealing a revolver and razor. He was arrested there for running around without any clothes on, and later it was found that he had a revolver and razor belonging to another man. The man gave the name of George Van Meter. He is probably demented. Sheriff Quinton believes that he is the same individual that was seen prowling around Mynard Sunday evening.

Henry Gibbons of Kearney, Neb., spent Monday here.

BASE BALL GROUNDS

One Man Put to Sleep—Another's
Nose Was Broken With a Baseball Bat.

From Tuesday's Daily.

A spectacular fight took place yesterday afternoon at the ball grounds while West Oak and Plattsmouth were playing.

The fight grew out of a request by Clyde Jones to the youngest son of B. B. Worthing, who was carrying water, to give him a drink. The Worthing boy was carrying water for the two teams, and refused to give Jones a drink. The father of the boy said to his son: "Let him go down to the spring and get his own water."

Thereupon, according to one story that is told, Jones went over and struck Worthing on the jaw, sending him to dreamland. It required a bucket of water to revive him to consciousness. At this point all three of the Worthing boys entered the fight. The oldest boy, a young man about 18 years old, hit Jones across the nose with a ball bat, breaking the bones of the ridge of the nose, according to report.

Others picked up ball bats, some to help Jones, others to help the Worthings, but the two sides were separated before any further damage was done.

According to the story told by Jones and his friends, Worthing hit him first, but the police do not give much credence to this account of the affair. Worthing is generally censured for "butting in" into the affair.

No arrests have been made as yet. It is said that Jones has gone to Colorado.

KUHNEY PUTS ON SHOW; IT COSTS HIM "TEN AND"

Women Folk Did Not Approve of Undressing Scene and Police Stopped the Act.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Louis Kuhney was fined $10 and costs in police court this morning for putting on too lively a show at his home last night. He entered a plea of guilty to the charge of being drunk and disorderly.

It being a holiday, Louis went to the source of inspiration too often for his best welfare, and when he went home last evening he started to tear some of the clothes off his wife and another man's wife.

They put up serious objection to this undressing scene and called the police. Policeman Trout responded and placed Kuhney under arrest.

Girl Kills Snake.

Agnes Bajeeck, the 13-year-old daughter of Mike Bajeeck, had an exciting experience with a blue racer snake three and a half feet long at the Bajeeck home Saturday morning. She was playing in the back yard when she saw the snake come out of a crack in the foundation. She ran for a brick, and when she approached the reptile it curled up as if getting ready to strike. She hurled the brick, which fortunately landed on the snake's head. She saw that it was wounded, so she ran for a broomstick and beat the snake until there was no doubt that it was a dead one.

Ed Ingram of Eight Mile Grove is in town today.

POLICE CASES OVER SMALL BOY FIGHT

True Miller Thought Someone
Said One Was Going to Hit
His Brother.

From Wednesday's Daily.

There were two police court cases yesterday growing out of a fight between two "kids." True Miller was fined $2 and costs for knocking down Percy Fields and old man Fitzhorn. His reason for knocking them down is unknown to the men who were most directly concerned. The boys were fighting when Miller came on the scene. His little brother was one of the participants. He claimed that someone was going to hit his brother, and he went in and cleaned up the crowd.

After Miller was fined his father swore out a warrant for Percy Fields, who was one of the men hit. Miller did not see the affair himself, but called a witness who did see it. This witness testified that Fields had nothing to do with the affair as far as he could see, and all he got out of it was a knockdown. Judge Archer then said that if he had known all the circumstances at the morning trial he would have fined Miller more than $2. Fields, of course, was dismissed.

"Suffered day and night the torment of itching piles. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment. It cured me permanently."—Hon. John R. Garrett, Mayor, Girard, Ala.
