"THE WOLF" TO APPEAR HERE SEPTEMBER 16TH

This Company Will Appear in a
Return Engagement Saturday
Night, September 16.

Those who see "The Wolf" at the Parmele theater Saturday evening, September 16, will find themselves in the vast woodlands of northern Canada, where the breezes are fragrant of pine. It is autumn and the scene that is laid before the eye is the clearing in front of the house of old McTavish. His is a lonely home. There only lives with him his daughter, golden-haired Hilda. His house becomes the rendezvous for a party of American engineers, led by McDonald, the genius of the wilderness, the man whose acute, broad mind makes it possible for the building of railroads over steep mountains and through valleys. In his profession a giant, in his moral nature a satyr is McDonald. And even as he is a guest at the house of McTavish, there are two men at his elbow who have for two years been hunting him—men who have a single idea as to what they will do when they meet him. They are resolved to kill him. For McDonald had in years back met Annette, a pretty half-breed Ojibway girl—a good girl, a communicant of the church; more French than Indian; a child who had all the simplicity of her Indian mother, while she had the teachings of the good Christian father of the remote parish.

McDonald, conscienceless, had courted her, won her confidence, betrayed her, then left her to bear her shame. And she had not been able to bear it. She had wandered, half crazed with grief and shame, into a blizzard, and she had died in the swirling snow. Her half-breed brother, Julius Beaubier, a splendid young French-Canadian, only learned of Annette's existence when her father was on his deathbed. The young man is left heir to a big fortune and immediately starts in search of his little sister with the idea of educating her and surrounding her life with luxuries. He traced the child to her home, only to discover the frightful death which she had suffered because of McDonald's treachery.

He meets Baptiste LeGrand, the girl's clean-hearted lover, who was to have married her; but it was while LeGrand was away in the north working for the Hudson Bay company that McDonald appeared and with his suavities and worldliness misled the girl into believing that his love was honest and that he meant to marry her.

Julius and Baptiste have been hunting this man for two years. Julius, by artful talk, in which he causes McDonald to believe that he also is a libertine, has gotten from McDonald's own lips the pitiful story of Annette. There is a further situation that makes Julius' anger against McDonald rise even up to the white heat that it has always been. Julius is in love with Hilda, and it is plain that McDonald is seeking to injure this girl-woman as he did little Annette. He has filled her head with fascinating stories of the beauty of life in the great cities—the operas, theaters, handsome gowns, glittering jewels.

This is the situation, and how it all works out forms a theme of human interest from which the attention of the audience cannot be diverted while it works before their eyes to its tragic end, and this end furnishes one of the most tremendous emotional scenes ever presented on any stage.

"The Wolf" is sure to meet with a heavy reception on its return.

A MOST ENJOYABLE EVENT LAST NIGHT

Given in Honor of Miss Hallie and Mr. Pollock Parmele, Who Depart for School.

From Saturday's Daily.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Parmele gave a farewell dance last night to their daughter, Miss Hallie Parmele, and their son, Pollock Parmele, who will leave next week for the school year. The affair was held at Coates' hall and was attended by about twenty-five couples. Miss Parmele will return to Monticello college at Godfrey, Ill., and Pollock will attend the Western Military academy at Alton, Ill. The two schools are not far apart and both near St. Louis. The dance proved one of the most enjoyable affairs of the summer season. The music, which was by the M. W. A. orchestra, was well selected and the programs, with covers in gold print, were very pretty. Those present were: Misses Frances Weidman, Nora Rosencrans, Helen Gass, Jeanette Patterson, Teresa Dovey, Margaret Donelan, Edith Dovey, Ellen Pollock, Lucile Gass, Charlotte Fetzer, Marie Donnelly, Madeline Miner, Catherine Dovey, Helen Dovey, Ione Dovey, Florence Dovey, Marie Douglass, Helen Bixby of Omaha, Alice Woodworth of Omaha, Cleo Applegate, Lillian Cole, Claire Dovey, Hallie Parmele, Mr. and Mrs. Rae Patterson and Messrs. Nelson Jeans, Carl Schmidtman, Sam Windham, Major Arries, Dwight Patterson, Reuben Saxon, George O. Dovey, Lynn O. Miner, John Falter, Jack Patterson, Ben Windham, Fred Mann, Paul Morgan, John Woodworth of Omaha, Clarence Staats, Fritz Fricke, Matthew Herold, Livingston Richey, Grosvenor Dovey, Cal Taylor, Bruce Rosencrans, Glen Rawls, Pollock Parmele.

Fred Baumgart, residing west of this city, was a visitor in town today, and while here called at this office and asked us to take his name off the Semi-Weekly list and put him down for the Daily. We are very much pleased to put him on our ever-increasing Daily list.

WEeping WATER.

Wednesday morning the Missouri Pacific agent sold 242 tickets to the state fair. That is a pretty good crowd for one day, with a number of autos making the trip.

W. H. Lyman and wife returned home last Friday from their visit in various points in South Dakota, stopping for the most part with their daughter, Mrs. Lanberg, in Spearfish.

Messrs. F. A. and Jesse Davis departed Sunday for Waverly, Ia., having received news of the death of their brother, F. T. Davis. The funeral was held Monday, and they returned home Tuesday.

Charles Crew has been quite sick the past few days. His nervous system is the main cause, and the past summer he has been in poor health, but his doctor says he is going to come out all-right.

Mrs. Harry Kuhney of Plattsmouth and Mrs. Roy Mayfield of Hubbard, Neb., visited with Fred H. Speck and family. The former returned to her home Monday afternoon. Mrs. Mayfield will remain here for a few days.

Ben Olive quit his job clerking in Ambler Brothers store and will go to school. Frank Wilkinson, who has been clerking in the Meier drug store, will clerk for Ambler Bros. & Co., and Clarence Flamme of Berlin comes here to attend school and will probably assist in the Meier drug store.

W. A. Price and Joe Tuma, who visited Saturday and Sunday with their brother-in-law, W. P. Sitzman and family, of this place, returned to their home in Omaha Monday morning. They were accompanied by the former's wife and daughter and Miss Bessie Tuma, who have been visiting here for a week.

Miss Bertha Jameson went to Omaha last week and had her tonsils treated. On Thursday one was removed and on Saturday the other one. The latter operation was so serious that it was thought for a time she could not recover, and she was taken to a hospital for treatment. She returned home Monday evening.

Mr. Frank Day delivered 5,000 pounds of popcorn to the car last Monday, to be shipped to a Kansas City buyer. He sold for 2 1/2 cents per pound and it was the bulk of two years' crop raised on an acre of ground, he having sold quite a lot of it to local purchasers. He recently sold all his hogs and says he has a lonesome place out there now with nothing but a few chickens and his horses.

PACIFIC JUNCTION.

"Doc" Williams is here from Alliance, Neb., visiting old-time friends. He was formerly a switchman here. He also visits his mother at Greenwood.

Ethyl Haynie has resigned her position in the postoffice and gone to spend a few weeks at her home in Plattsmouth. She will then go with her brother to Monticello, Ark.

E. A. Purcell was over at Lincoln Monday attending the fair and visiting the head offices of the Foster Lumber Co. He reports fine aeroplane flights at the fair.

Mrs. Lee Haynie is at home again, after visiting her people at Cedar Rapids. Lee spent his vacation keeping store for her, and is again back at his job in the ticket office at the station.

Born—September 16, to Mr. and Mrs. John Jardine of 1616 N. Wabash avenue, Colorado Springs, a daughter, Mrs. Jardine was Miss Mary Fluharty, and is well known in Pacific Junction.

Uncle Silas Rogers is carrying a shot around in his arm as the result of a fusillade Tuesday night, probably intended for some noisy dogs that were disturbing the quiet. He was passing along the street, when whizz came a charge of shot past him—and two more. After it was over there was one dead dog.

D. O. Miller, west of the Junction, believes that early rye for fodder is a profitable crop, especially on land liable to overflow in the spring floods. It can be cut and put in a silo before the June rise, and in time to permit corn to follow on the same ground if the season is favorable. He also has some wide-awake pointers for making profitable moves on the farm.

UNION.

Miss Bessie Edwards of Plattsmouth came down Saturday for a few days' visit before the opening of her school in district No. 12.

Mrs. Eli Eaton departed Monday for a visit with her sons, Antone Johnson at Kansas City and Julius Johnson at Coffeyville, Kansas.

Charles Garrison and wife went Saturday to Burlington Junction, Mo., where Mrs. Garrison will remain some time to take treatment for rheumatism.

John Taylor and wife, accompanied by their daughter, Mary, came Wednesday evening from Verdon to visit their daughter, Mrs. John F. Hoback and family.

Frank Smith and L. B. Egenberger, Jr., of Plattsmouth, came down Saturday and spent the day at the home of Claudius Everett and wife, northeast of town.

Winfield Swan and wife, James Pittman and wife and Jack Chalfant, who were part of the crowd of twenty-two that went from here to Colorado and Wyoming, arrived home last Friday.

Mrs. Etta Bryan of Anaconda, Mont., arrived last Friday to make a visit with her sister, Mrs. W. M. Barritt. Mrs. Bryan is accompanied by her daughter, Miss Esther Bryan, who will attend the State Normal at Peru.

Miss Ina Davis, who spent the past few months with friends here and in Plattsmouth, departed on the Wednesday evening train for her home in Los Angeles, Cal., and many friends here and elsewhere regret her departure.

Henry Becker departed Sunday for Grand Island, where he takes up a course of study in a business college. Henry has the advantage of a good, common school education and natural talent that will boost him along in his college work.

Leonard Dillard, a former resident of this vicinity, now located at Lovell, S. D., spent several days here visiting friends and attending to business affairs. He is one of the members of the firm of Dillard Brothers in the real estate business.

Eli M. Smith, our well known Poland China hog raiser, loaded a half dozen of his fine hogs Saturday and took them to the state fair at Lincoln. Joseph Vanhorn going with him to assist in taking care of them. Mr. Smith's hogs are all fine specimens and we expect them to be tagged as prize-winners.

John Kildow Dead.

John Kildow died at the home of his mother, two miles north of town, last night at 11:30 o'clock. He has been suffering with consumption for a year and death was caused by a hemorrhage of the lungs. He had been visiting a sister in White Cloud, Kas., for some time and returned home yesterday. He was 35 years old. He had been married twice. He was divorced from the first wife and separated from the second. A 13-year-old daughter is with the first wife. He is a brother of Tom and Elias Kildow.

Ben Olive, son of George Olive, proprietor of the Weeping Water Republican, is spending a few days in Plattsmouth and will return home Saturday.

W. H. Kruger returned to Greenwood this morning, after a few days' visit here.

September Travel Bulletin!

The excursion rates to Eastern localities will continue. It is your last low rate change of the Summer to visit your old home or make a tour of the East.

The Dry Farming Congress will be held at Colorado Springs, October 16-20. Special rates will be made.

The colonist one way rates to the Pacific Coast are in effect September 15th to October 15th, only, this year.

The Burlington has through standard and tourist sleepers every day to California—on No. 3 via Rio Grande, Scenic Colorado, and the Southern Pacific and Salt Lake Route; on No. 9 via the Rio Grande, Scenic Colorado, and the Western Pacific.

"On Time" operation. Western people living in the territory served by the Burlington will be interested in knowing something about the punctuality with which the management tries to operate its trains. Fast mail No. 7, from Chicago to Omaha, during the months from April to July inclusive, a period of 122 days, arrived at the Missouri River "On Time" every day. The other exclusive fast mail and express train No. 15, from Chicago to Omaha during June and July, 1911, arrived "On Time" at the Missouri River every day. These are the exclusive mail and express trains that daily bring into the West the great volume of traffic so necessary to the social and commercial life of that region.

SURPRISE TO MRS. J. P. SATTLER ON HER BIRTHDAY

Members of the Jolly Eight Card
Club Give a Pleasant Surprise
Party on Mrs. Sattler.

From Saturday's Daily.

A number of ladies, members of the Jolly Eight Card club, assembled at the home of Mrs. N. W. Chrisinger last evening about 8 o'clock and then proceeded to the Sattler home and tendered Mrs. Sattler a more than pleasant surprise. When the ladies arrived at the Sattler home they were invited into the house and into the parlor, all this being unknown to Mrs. Sattler. When the ladies arrived at the Sattler home they were invited into the house and into the parlor, all this being unknown to Mrs. Sattler. When she entered the parlor, not suspecting anything of the affair and hearing the jovial shouts of "surprise," she was taken by surprise, but recovered and proceeded to show them a good time.

Whenever the members of the Jolly Eight Card club go to the Sattler home they always prepare for a royal good time, as the Sattlers are splendid entertainers. Various games were played, and then, too, the time was very pleasantly interspersed with both vocal and instrumental music.

As a memento of this auspicious occasion, it being Mrs. Sattler's birthday anniversary, the ladies presented her with a beautiful tablecloth, one which they hemmed and in the corner of which was embroidered "Jolly Eight Card Club." This handsome package had been wrapped up in a large number of papers, each paper bearing a name of a guest.

The unwrapping of this gift occasioned considerable merriment.

The guests brought a most elegant birthday luncheon, which was served at a late hour, and to which all did ample justice. All in all it was a most delightful occasion and the guests wished Mrs. Sattler many more as happy birthday anniversaries.

Those who participated in this enjoyable occasion were: Mesdames J. Lutz, H. Ofe, A. Kanka, C. R. Burdick, A. Kroehler, J. Wurga, W. Mason, N. W. Chrisinger, S. Shoemaker, W. Henrichsen, A. Crokary, H. Timm, Misses Olga Sattler and Ferris York.

"Shorty" in Town.

Marion Armstrong arrived in the city this morning for a few days' visit with old Plattsmouth friends. "Shorty," as he is known to all in this city, has been working for the past two months on the Red Oak (Iowa) Sun, and will return to his duties tomorrow evening. "Shorty" is one of the old-time printers of this city and perhaps better known than most of the printers ever produced in this place. He has a good position on the Sun at Red Oak and is doing well.

Many Thanks.

Our old friend, H. C. McMaken, will accept the Journal's thanks for a couple of baskets of the finest grapes that we have ever tasted. There were several different varieties, and they were all fine, which demonstrates that Mac knows how to raise the finest grapes in the land. Many thanks, old friend.

C. A. Baldwin of Weeping Water was here yesterday.
