Typhoid fever is prevalent in this neighborhood, and it behooves each individual to use all precaution in keeping their premises clean and sanitary. Some alleys in our little town are in a horrible condition, and it is all because the users do not think. Such alleys are sickness to pass through in daylight and dangerous at night.

The ball game between Mynard and Murray last Saturday was a good one. The score stood 11 to 14 in favor of Murray, with the last half of the ninth inning due Murray unplayed. The score

OWNER OF WATER PLANT HERE TO FIND WHAT IS WANTED FROM COMPANY

George F. West, Recent Purchaser of Plant, Says that He Will Put In All Reasonable Improvements, and Accept Any Reasonable Franchise, or Sell At A Fair Price.

That George F. West is making a favorable impression in regard to the local water works situation cannot be doubted. West is said to have purchased the Plattsmouth water plant about a month ago. He is a Portland, Maine, capitalist, and owns a number of water plants. He is an expert in all that makes up a water plant and system and does not have to take the word of others to tell him whether a plant is capable of giving good service or not.

Mr. West got in touch with the mayor and the Commercial club officials yesterday and told them he was going to spend at least $10,000 in improving the plant. After looking over it he saw that a new pumping house, a new boiler and a new pump were needed.

He talked to the city officials and Commercial club officers about a new franchise. He said that he desired to find out what the city wanted and that that was the object of his visit here. He is willing to make all reasonable improvements, give as reasonable rates as possible and accept a franchise as favorable to the city as will leave him a reasonable return on his investment.

If the city desires to buy the plant, he said, he will be willing to sell it at a price agreed upon by experts called in by both sides, or in any other way that will be satisfactory to both sides.

Mr. West will meet the city officials and members of the Commercial club tomorrow morning in a conference, and the entire water situation will be discussed.

There is an element here that is in favor of the city buying the water plant, and also the light plant, and run the two together. They believe that the city can pay for the bonds used for buying the plants out of the profits and from the savings to the city because of free light and water. At the present time the city pays thousands of dollars a year to the water and light companies.

The franchise of the water company will expire in the spring.

LOCAL NEWS

Glen Perry Seriously Injured.

On last Thursday, while drenching one of his horses, Mr. Glen Perry was quite seriously injured. At first his internal injuries were thought to be very slight, although he suffered considerable pain in the abdomen and side, where he struck as he was thrown across a log from the blow received by the animal's head. Later the abdomen began to show abnormal proportions from the inflammation brought on by the injury, and he was compelled to be placed in ice bags to reduce the swelling; his suffering had greatly increased and considerable alarm arose for his recovery.

READ THE CASE FULL PAGE ADVERTISEMENT

You Will Find It on the Last Page of This Issue of the Journal.

Mr. M. E. Manspeaker, agent for the Case Farm Machinery, and located in Plattsmouth, is using considerable newspaper space the past few months in telling farmers of Cass county the many good qualities of the Case Farm Machinery. For several weeks he has been running a two-page advertisement in the News-Herald of this city, and coming to the conclusion that he could not reach all the farmers in the county through one paper, he has contracted for one full page in the Journal each week up to the first day of November.

These advertisements will no doubt be very interesting to the farmers and all users of heavy work machinery of every description. The J. I. Case company are too well known for us to attempt to give them an introduction to the farmers; all that Mr. Manspeaker wishes to do with the aid of these advertisements is to tell the farmers and users of this sort of machinery the many good qualities, where and how this general purpose line of goods can be employed; how it will lessen your work and make you more money from practically the same investment in lands.

There is scarcely an implement of any sort for the advancement of farm work and money-savers for their owner that the J. I. Case Company do not manufacture. They are the guaranteed perfection line, and meet the requirements of all classes of farm work. This is the line along which Mr. Manspeaker wants to talk to you on, and he will spend considerable time and money to further advance the line of J. I. Case Farm Machinery.

Sells Good Farm.

C. F. Harris completed a deal on last Monday whereby H. H. Shrader and Frank Yost became the owners of what has long been known as the Churchill farm, owned by J. W. The new purchasers are excellent citizens and we are pleased to see them remain with us in place of going elsewhere to invest their money. C. F. Harris is there and can sure deliver the goods when it comes to a land deal. He understands the real estate business thoroughly. Talk it over with him if you want a farm.
