FIRST MORN OF AUTUMN PROVED PRETTY COOL

Early Morning Thermometer Was the Lowest in Four Months.

This is the first day of autumn and the event was celebrated by giving us the coolest morning in four months; for the thermometer dropped to below 50, standing at 49 at 8 o'clock. It was probably a degree or two colder than this earlier in the morning. This has been a remarkable summer in almost all parts of the northern hemisphere, and it is probable that the winter in the southern hemisphere has been just as remarkable, as unusual conditions on one part of the globe usually have their effects on other parts.

While the first day of fall started out pretty cool, it warmed up rapidly when the clouds and fog disappeared. Yesterday it was rather disagreeable. It rained lightly most of the day and the temperature was a little too low for comfort.

FATHER SHINE TALKS TO HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS ON "TRAINING OF THE SOUL"

Tells of the Virtues That the Young Should Strive For—Makes a Plea for More Politeness, a Lost Virtue in This Country Tells How to Cultivate Habits of Virtue.

Rev. Father Michael Shine of St. John's Catholic church talked at the high school assembly this morning on "The Training of the Soul." He defined man as a creature composed of body and soul. It is the soul that you are educating, he said. As a part of the soul are the faculties of will, memory and understanding. The soul is the seat of the mind, the reason, the understanding, the intelligence.

The speaker told his hearers that in training the soul they were acquiring habits which were either virtues or vices. Virtue is a habit that makes us strong. A habit is simply a quality of the soul that is acquired by repeated acts.

He said that study is a habit, also a virtue. The more you study in the right and proper manner, the easier it is to make study a habit. He spoke of the four cardinal virtues—justice, prudence, temperance and fortitude. Justice is the quality by which you give every man his dues; temperance is moderation; fortitude is strength, power, that staying quality we have that no matter what difficulties come in our way, we are able to meet them bravely; prudence is that virtue by which we do not act precipitately.

Then Father Shine took up what he termed the natural virtues. He first referred to politeness, which he said was becoming rare in this country. It springs from justice. In manifesting our rights we should not do so in a harsh and unnecessary manner. We all have certain likes and dislikes; there are people that appeal to us and those that repel us, but we can be polite to those that we do not like.

Father Shine next spoke of the virtue of broad-mindedness. The world is filled with many minds who possess many opinions, and we should give due credit to the opinions of others. The field of knowledge is so vast that no one mind can comprehend it. The more education and knowledge and experience a man gets the more does he realize what an infinitesimal thing the mind of man is. It is narrowness and bigotry to always believe one's self absolutely right and others wrong.

Next the speaker took up the virtues of honesty and truthfulness. Honesty, he said, means uprightness; it means acting in an honorable way. Truthfulness is speaking exactly what is in one's mind. At the close of his address Father Shine gave a very interesting and effective summing up of his talk.

Superintendent Abbott announced at the close of the exercises that Prof. Larson would speak at the assembly next Thursday morning and that Miss Gora Anderson, a high school teacher, would hold the center of the stage two weeks from today. Attorney A. L. Tidd, Miss Mary E. Foster, county superintendent; Rev. W. L. Austin and Rev. L. W. Gade are some of the assembly attractions for later on.
