It is a fixed fact—we'll celebrate the opening of the Platte river bridge.

The European war cloud seems to have been effected by the summer's drought.

A large number were present at the democratic committee meeting in Louisville Saturday. All the candidates were there.

Whatever may be the condition of other crops, there is no failure in Plattsmouth's crop of school children. It grows larger every year.

The betting in Canada is 3 to 1 that the reciprocity agreement will win in the approaching elections. The Canadians, it seems, know how to treat a best bet.

If the taxpayers want an efficient and faithful worker in their interests they will elect C. M. Seybert as a member of the board of county commissioners. He is a good man for the place.

The people know a good and efficient official after having tried him, and that's the reason why they propose to give Clell Morgan another term. He has been tried and not found wanting in any particular.

Conditions are so disturbed in Mexico that there is talk of postponing the approaching presidential election. A vain hope. When conditions in Mexico become really peaceful, the millennium will have arrived.

Both San Francisco and New Orleans will celebrate the opening of the Panama canal. Let them rejoice and let them dance over the completion of this great work, but it is your good old Uncle Sam that all along has paid the piper.

Kelly Fox's sure election for county treasurer is increasing daily. The voters know he is the proper person to elect, and the most of them are going to vote for him because they know him and know that he has proved faithful to every trust reposed in him.

Beef is almost as high as on that historic occasion when the cow jumped over the moon.

It is now a settled fact that this year's corn crop will be larger than the crop last year. Good!

You are helping the sugar trust right along now—twelve pounds for a dollar. Taft did it with his little veto.

Automobiles are not driving the horses out all right. The prices of good horses are still at the top notch and the demand just as great as ever.

It would be the proper caper if we could celebrate the opening of the Platte river bridge and post-office building on the same date. Don't you think so?

Jack the Hugger is abroad in St. Louis, and it is said the female patrons of excursions to that city have greatly increased in numbers.

The center of population has been moved from a rattlesnake den near Bloomington, Ind., into the city limits. We hope it is carefully conserved and safeguarded.

It used to be enough to advertise that a horse was "sound, kind and warranted not to kick," but now you must show that he won't shy when an aeroplane alights in the next field.

There is no man who should think himself bigger than his party, and the man who does will soon find a landing place, something similar to that discovered by the late Senator Burkett. "Let the people rule."

Mr. Roosevelt says that arbitration might not result in "peace with righteousness." Yet if he felt that he had not got righteous judgment in a lawsuit, he would probably not set out to lick the defendant.

The republicans of Lincoln done a good job when they selected Burkett for chief fungleman at the Taft reception. Burkett is deader than a door-nail, politically speaking, and it doesn't make much difference as to whether he offends the insurgents or not.

The secretary of state of New York has declared that the word "hell" must not be used as the name of a restaurant. Some other method must be employed to advertise the piping hot viands that are served at the new eating place.

The United States is soon to rank second only to England in the strength of its navy. But think about the cost of this rivalry to both nations. No wonder they are anxious to sign peace treaties. Signing one treaty is better than signing innumerable checks.

A republican who voted for Taft said last Saturday in our hearing that he did not think he would have the audacity to put his foot upon Nebraska soil after vetoing the farmers' free list bill. But he is coming just the same to deny all he has said in the east. He can't fool the people of Nebraska very much.

When you vote for Don C. Rhoden for sheriff you are willing to support a gentleman who has the courage to perform the duties of the office without fear or favor. He is a citizen born and bred in Cass county and reared on the farm. He is well fitted for the position.

So far the election in Cass county has not as yet created any particular excitement, the people having about made up their minds which way they intend to vote, and there is evidently some surprises in store for those who are running for office. No one has any cinch on this election, that's one thing certain.

The La Follette forces have effected a state organization, and it is surprising to see the many prominent republicans who are taking part in the La Follette boom. Of course, the postmasters and federal office-holders will still stay with their master until the last minute and then run to the other side.

Will Maupin's Weekly, published at Lincoln, is doing more good work for Nebraska than any one paper in the state. Every issue is filled with good food for the Nebraskan who is for Nebraska first, last and all the time. It is a publication that should reach every hamlet in the state, and the community where it would more generally circulate would be the most benefited thereby.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley is completely exonerated by the president. As his job as chief chemist of the department of agriculture pays only $5,000 a year the loss of his place would have been a matter of slight concern to a man of Doctor Wiley's ability. But the decision that he is to remain is a matter for much congratulation to that portion of the public which prefers to eat pure foods.

We had thought to pass through this campaign without hearing of any lying reports. But we understand that there is a report in circulation up at Murdock that Don Rhoden will appoint a certain man his deputy, if elected. Now, dear reader, don't believe anything of this kind. Don Rhoden has not signified his intention of appointing anyone, and won't until after the election.

Because a man is "a good fellow" is no reason why he should be kept in office until after he has made a fortune and then some. The people of Cass county who believe in giving others a chance at the pie counter will vote for James T. Reynolds for clerk of the district court, especially when the qualities of the candidates are on equal footing. Mr. Reynolds is one of the best qualified men in Cass county for this very important office.

The Nebraska City presbytery adopted resolutions antagonistic to Hamer and Oldham. The chances are a thousand to one that the members of that body do not know a single thing against either gentleman, and took the word of two or three gentlemen who receive so much per for agitating constantly. Yet there are those in the church who often wonder why the church is ceasing to attract men.—Will Maupin's Weekly.

The people of Cass county are presented this year with the opportunity of electing to the office of clerk of the district court a man who stands forth as one of rigid honesty and unblemished character, and a man whose competency is equal to that of anyone, in or out of office. We refer to James T. Reynolds, and are glad we have so excellent a man as a candidate for this office. He should receive the support of every voter who does not believe in keeping one person in office a lifetime.

The road leading from Plattsmouth's city limits to the Platte river bridge should be placed in proper shape before the opening of the Platte river bridge. And whose duty is it but the county commissioners to see that this is done? It is their duty to see that this road is put in proper shape as much as it is to have roads in other sections of the county repaired and placed in passable shape, and the work should be commenced at once.

The democratic party seems to be on top right now, and if no desperate mistake is made we are sure to capture the presidency next year. We do not want to get too much excited over who shall be the democratic candidate for president. We have plenty of good men, any one of whom would be a great improvement upon the man who at present is endeavoring to fill the bill. Throw aside all jealousies and bickerings, and let us all get together for one common purpose—saving the people of the country from the clutches of the desperate gang into whose hands they are about to fall.

EGGS AND THE HEN.

How important a factor the hen is in the commercial life of the nation has often been pointed out. It has been given additional emphasis by a recent bulletin issued by the United States department of agriculture, which contains much besides of interest to egg producers, dealers and consumers.

It is shown that the products of the American hen reach annually a total value of $620,000,000, ranking thus in dignity with the wheat crop and the hay crop, and causing the oat and potato crops to have to combine to make as good a showing. It is not entirely out of hailing distance from the great totals of the corn and cotton crops.

Eggs, then, constitute one of the nation's most important crops, and the department of agriculture is devoting to it a measure of study and investigation befitting its importance.

The special efforts of the department, the results of which are embodied in the recent bulletin, were directed toward eliminating the $45,000,000 loss that annually takes place in the marketing of eggs—quite a serious tax on the trade, and heavy burden, of course, on the ultimate consumer.

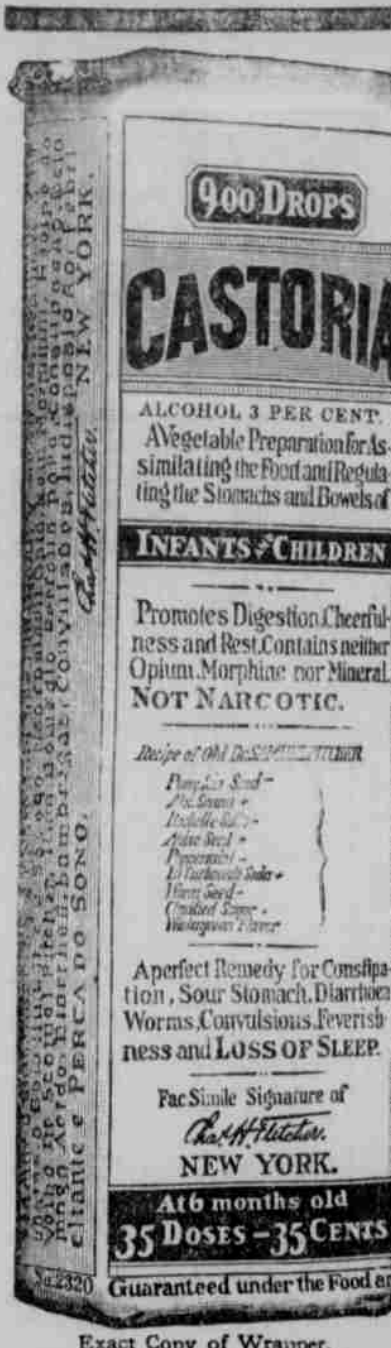

The bulletin shows that this loss is due to the careless treatment of the eggs which takes place on the farm, and in the country store—a result, of course, of the lack of proper knowledge. It is this lack the bulletin aims to supply. The plan of dealing in and paying for eggs according to their quality is urged instead of according to number regardless of quality.

Conserving the busy hen and her products is indeed one of the most beneficial activities in which the department of agriculture can engage.

HANDICAPPED

This is the Case With Many Plattsmouth People.

Too many Plattsmouth citizens are handicapped with bad backs. The unceasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and stooping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest, and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief, but cannot reach the cause. To eliminate the pains and aches you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sick kidneys—thousands testify to their merit. Can you doubt Plattsmouth evidence?

Frank S. Brinkman, Eleventh street, Plattsmouth, Neb., says: "I can vouch for Doan's Kidney Pills, knowing them to be a good kidney remedy. My back at times became so lame that the simplest movement was painful and I had frequent headaches and dizzy spells that caused me no end of annoyance. Mornings on arising, I could hardly drag myself about. In spite of the many remedies I tried I found no relief until finally I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Rynott & Co.'s Drug Store. They effected a prompt and permanent cure."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
