THE DEATH RECORD OF THE AMERICAN RAILROADS

Year's Record Is Less Than One Passenger Killed Per Day.

It is becoming safer to travel on American railroads. Even so, however, the annual slaughter is greater than that sustained in any battle of modern times, says the New York Journal of Commerce. During the year ended June 30 last the casualty bill exceeded 160,000, or 3,000 weekly, or about 430 daily. That is to say, railroad accidents occur at the rate of one every three minutes from one year's end to the other. The deaths totaled 10,396, but of these only 356 were passengers, against 421 in 1910. An average of only one passenger each day does not appear extraordinary when the number of people using trains is taken into consideration. Of the total killed fully half represented persons trespassing on the property of the railroads, walking on the tracks or stealing rides on trains. There was one employe killed to every 458 employed, and one injured to every thirteen in the service. These figures leave room for improvement. It would be interesting to know just what percentage could have been avoided by the exercise of reasonable care on the part of the servants grown callous to danger through familiarity with it.

FIENDISH ACTS OF MANCHUS

Butchery, Fire, Rapine and Desolation in Nanking.

AGE AND SEX NOT SPARED.

Women and Children Are Stabbed or Shot on Sight and Homes of Rich Looted—Insurgents Powerless to Prevent Massacre of Innocents.

Nanking, Nov. 11.—Nanking today is desolate. Fully 1,000 of its inhabitants lie massacred and numerous business houses and dwellings have been looted and burned. Ninety thousand persons already have fled the city and still others are joining the exodus. Along the railway leading from the city a long snake-like line of humanity is trudging, seeking safety.

It was the hand of the Manchus that brought the devastation. While the republicans were in camp three miles away awaiting ammunition and reinforcements the Manchus began the work of carnage. Men, women and children were slaughtered. Neither youth nor age was taken into account. White, the emblem of the revolution, marked its wearers for instant death. Chinamen with white shoes, a sign of mourning among them, or even a handkerchief, were ruthlessly slain. Queerest heads were everywhere to be seen.

The rebels made a demonstration, but did little shooting and there were few fatalities. Reinforcements are coming from every direction. They are raw and ragged recruits, but are determined and the final battle promises to be desperate.

Foreigners are being treated with the utmost consideration. When the gates were opened the people thronged toward the country, each carrying his belongings and driven by the imperialists. Soon afterwards the carnage began.

Order for General Slaughter. Since the night of Nov. 3, when the first attack was made by the revolutionists, the Tartar general has endeavored to terrorize the inhabitants by wholesale executions. Those whose names had been cut off were beheaded, but when the order for a general slaughter was given, the whole native city was invaded by the Manchus soldiers, who massacred men, women and children. Even the aged and babes in arms were shown no mercy.

Thousands of Chinese poured from the gates until it was estimated that fully 99,000 persons, representing every class the merchants, the gentry and coolies, had gotten away. Meanwhile the Manchus scoured the narrow streets of the city and the houses of the wealthy merchants were sacked. Any unwilling victim was beheaded immediately.

The press correspondent saw several women executed and their children stabbed and trampled under foot. The order answered to be that anyone wearing anything white which suggested the white badge worn by the reformers must be killed forthwith. A white pocket handkerchief marked the possessor for death. White shoes, which are worn by the Chinese as a sign of mourning, was a signal for the execution of the wearer.

PRESS BERATES KAISER'S SON

Attitude of Crown Prince in Moroccan Affair Criticized.

Berlin, Nov. 11.—The attitude of Crown Prince Frederick William during the debate in the reichstag when he openly demonstrated his pleasure over the criticisms of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's policy in the Moroccan affair with France, is sharply condemned by not only the friends, but the opponents of the chancellor.

The Berliner Tageblatt, the Vosische Zeitung, the Vorwaerts, the Cologne Gazette and the Frankfurter Zeitung join in describing the incident as a frivolous and dangerous exhibition. The papers see no occasion for serious concern when the heir to the throne so demonstratively shows his discontent with the policy of the emperor and his responsible advisors and express the fear that the impression has been given abroad that the future emperor is heading a new German war party.

FIND BODY OF MAN IN SHARK

Dozen Floridians Fight "Tiger of Sea" Which Devoured Comrade.

Pensacola, Fla., Nov. 11.—After a fight of nearly an hour, in which the fish was perforated with rifle bullets, a dozen men killed the giant shark which devoured Jules Antoine. The monster was over twelve feet in length.

When the body was cut open almost the entire corpse of Antoine was found inside. The boots bore the imprint of the sextuple rows of teeth.

To make identification certain a tattooed wreath, about an anchor, was plainly discernible upon Antoine's back.

In bestowing this gift upon the corporation, organized especially to receive it and apply its income to the purpose indicated, Mr. Carnegie, in a statement given out at his home in Fifth avenue, said he intends to leave with the corporate body the work of founding and aiding libraries and educational institutions which he, as an individual, has carried on for many years.

LORIMER VOTED ON STAND

Says "Trough" Means Bar, Not Place Where Bribes Are Paid.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—What was meant by the "trough" in Springfield at the time of the election of Senator Lorimer in May, 1909, was explained before the senate investigating committee by John E. DeWolf, a Democratic state representative who voted for Lorimer.

DeWolf was questioned concerning a statement in the testimony of Representative Charles White, confessed bribe taker, that the day before the election of Lorimer DeWolf asked White whether the latter had been "up to the trough?"

"Did you tell White you had been up to the trough and ask whether he had been up?" asked Attorney John J. Healy.

"I did not," replied DeWolf. "Or rather I should say I never referred to the 'trough' except to mean the bar in Springfield the 'trough' always meant the bar."

STANISICS STILL HOLDS THE FORT

Accused Man May Not Be Forced Back to Lincoln.

LAWYERS DISCUSS PROCEDURE

Paul F. Clark of Lincoln Formally Files for Congress in the First District—Foregraves Requisition Case is Up.

Lincoln, Nov. 11.—Theodore Stanisics, held in Utica, N. Y., and wanted in this state on the charge of arson, may and may not be compelled to return to Nebraska. The local man is under sentence of seven years in the state penitentiary for procuring Roy Wilscam to fire a house in this city. Later Stanisics appealed his case to the supreme court after being released on a $5,000 bond.

He is said to have disposed of much property here before his departure. An effort was made in the district court, where his bond still is, to have the man brought into court or declare the bond forfeited. An attorney for the defense, however, stopped the proceedings by contending that the district court had no jurisdiction in the matter now that the case was on appeal to the state supreme court. It will come up at the next sitting, Nov. 20. The matter was not ruled upon by the judge who heard the matter, but it is probable that this method will fail.

Attorney General Martin asserts that if the man does not show up before the date of the hearing, set for Nov. 20, then he will file a motion asking that the appeal be dismissed. In this event the matter will then stand as it came from the district court and Stanisics can be recalled from New York if the chief of police of Utica still has him held there.

The hearing on a requisition from South Dakota for the return of Mrs. Irene Foregraves from this state to the neighboring state to the north will be held before Governor Aldrich today. The woman is wanted at Fairfax, Gregory county, on the charge of having maintained a disorderly house. The offense is punishable in South Dakota by imprisonment in the state penitentiary.

STATE TEACHERS END CONVENTION

Resolutions Govern One Provision of Child Labor Law.

Omaha, Nov. 11.—The Nebraska State Teachers' convention closed with an inspiring program at the Auditorium. The farewell session of the great gathering, which brought more than 4,000 of the brightest minds in the state together in Omaha, was largely attended.

The resolutions recommended the enforcement of the law prohibiting the use of tobacco by boys under sixteen, but condemned the provision of the child labor law prohibiting employment of children under fourteen at gainful occupations as "baneful." Useful employment for children out of school hours and during vacations was advocated rather than frowned upon.

A campaign was launched by German teachers at the meeting of that department of the Nebraska State Teachers' association to bring about a better understanding of the German language in Nebraska.

Teachers of German throughout the state will be requested to cultivate the acquaintance of the "hoch Deutsch" in their communities and secure from them information and help in the teaching of the fatherland tongue.

Professor Amanda Heppner of Lincoln lectured on the principal German communities which she has visited numerous times, and illustrated her talk with stereoscopic views. Student life in Germany was explained, from life in the graded schools through the college courses. The hardships of German "Frau" life were detailed.

Lyman disappeared at the same time and was arrested near San Francisco. Dr. Lyman had a spectacular social career in Pasadena.

The federated committee decided to let the strike situation mark time until the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, which opens in Atlanta, Ga., next week.

J. J. SWOFFORD INDICTED

Former Kansas City Merchant Charged With Misuse of Mails.

Kansas City, Nov. 11.—J. J. Swofford, formerly president of Swofford Brothers' Dry Goods company here, was indicted here by a federal grand jury on a charge of using the mails to defraud. The indictments charge that Mr. Swofford sold through the mails $200,000 worth of stock of his firm to various persons.

The company is now defunct and it is charged that Swofford concealed the real condition of the business and assured buyers that the stock would pay big returns, when it was practically worthless.
