Fred Beverage, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beverage, caught his finger in the elevator of a corn sheller last Saturday, tearing the end of it off.

The bazaar to be given by the Presbyterian ladies Saturday, December 2, should be well attended. They are doing hard work to make the dinner and supper good, and the abundance of fancy work will make a nice display. Be sure and attend.

Mrs. Dave Lloyd, who has been in the hospital at Omaha for the past few months, is expected to return home the latter part of this week, greatly improved from her illness. An operation was performed upon her nose for a malignant trouble on Monday, and it is expected that she will be recovered sufficiently to return home within a very few days. Dr. Brendel, the home physician, will accompany her home.

We are informed that George Ray has succeeded in checking the cholera among his hogs and will save about thirty-two out of the herd of sixty-one. This is a pretty good showing, and he has the vaccination treatment of Dr. Greeder of Plattsmouth to thank for it. All that were well at the time of the treatment, are doing nicely. Dr. Greeder does not claim to cure cholera, but he has an absolute preventative if administered in time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rhoder were in Omaha Wednesday.

Torrence Fleming is shelling his old corn crop this week.

Rev. Pollock of South Omaha is holding a series of meetings at the United Presbyterian church in Murray this week. The attendance is very good, and considerable interest is being manifested.

Otto Puls was a county seat visitor Wednesday, driving in with a load of wheat to be exchanged for the popular Heisel brand of flour. While here he paid the Journal office a brief call, renewing for his paper.

Mrs. Frank Campbell entertained the K. N. K. at her home last Saturday afternoon. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all. Two comforts were tacked, which will be found on sale at the bazaar on Thanksgiving day. A two-course luncheon was served at the usual hour.

Dr. Gilmore was down to Nehawka last Friday with his auto, and in preparing for the return trip he was kicked by the engine reversing while he was cranking it for the start. He was struck by the crank on the back of the hand, breaking the skin over the hand and knuckles in various places.

Misses Vera and Frances Moore had quite an experience in a runaway last Saturday evening when coming to the play in Murray. The tongue pulled out of the buggy and the team ran away, passing through town and running on south, leaving the buggy standing in the road. There was no further injury.

Warren Leonard has secured a position with the M. P. Railroad company as night man on the work engine here in the Murray yards. The position consists of simply keeping the fire in the engine to prevent freezing, and pays a salary of $50 per month and will last during the winter months. Warren is to be congratulated and will prove worthy of the position.

The Journal failed to note the complete recovery of Charles Nickels received in the M. P. wreck and his departure about one week ago for Fremont, where he resumed his duties as boiler-maker. We also failed to learn of his making a settlement with the company for such injuries received, which was done some time ago. He received the sum of $1,350 and all doctor and hospital expenses paid.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hast and children departed Tuesday morning for Nebraska City, where Mrs. Hast and children took the train for the home of her parents in Wilcox, Neb. Mr. Hast returning to Murray in the afternoon. Mrs. Hast will remain in Wilcox for the time that Mr. Hast is detained in Murray settling up his business matters. Their household goods are all packed ready for shipment. Mr. Hast has not yet made up his mind just what he will do for the future, but expects to engage in business soon. He will be in Murray for a few days longer.

"Tom Thumb Wedding."

The Tom Thumb wedding and program given Saturday evening by the managers of the Lyceum Course was a success. The evening was beautiful, the church was crowded and each one of the performers did their parts well. At the appointed hour the guests of the Tom Thumb wedding arrived at the church and were ushered in by Lyle Fleming and Walker Gilmore. At 8:30 Miss Isabella Young took her place at the organ, and as she played Miss Leona Davis sang "I Love Thee Truly." Scarcely was the voice of the singer hushed when the familiar strains of the Lohengrin's wedding chorus were sounded, to which the wedding party entered.

The ushers, Lyle Fleming and Walker Gilmore, dressed in evening suits, entered first, followed by the minister, Everett Spangler. Next came the bridesmaids, Clara Churchill and Lena Davis, gowned in pale blue, wearing large black picture hats and carrying yellow chrysanthemums; then the flower girls, Gladys Dull, Helen Gilmore and Lola Chambers, dressed in white.

The bride, Miss Grace Long, was very charming in a beautiful gown of white, made high waist with long train, wearing the tulle veil and carrying a shower bouquet of bride's roses, entered with the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Spangler. Miss Spangler was dressed in pink with a French hat of pink and black and carrying pink roses.

The bridegroom, Ralph Holmes, and his best man, Russell Williams, advanced from the back of the rostrum and met the bride and her attendants. The marriage vows were very amusing. The distinguished guests present was the mother and father of the bride (Ella Hamilton and Erwin Minnie), Miss Bulah Freeze, Miss Leora Farris, Miss Verica McDaniel and William Minford. The mother wore a beautiful gown of lavender trimmed in black. Miss Freeze never looked better than in a beautiful dress of blue with large hat of blue and white; Lena Farris wore yellow, Vera McDaniel pink and the men evening suits.

After a chorus by the little girls the program was finished by older people.

Mrs. W. C. Brown, a graduate of the National School of Oration at Philadelphia, gave a reading. The audience is always glad of an opportunity to hear Mrs. Brown, which was fully demonstrated by the two encores she received.

The next number on the program was a solo by Rev. Ross Williams. Much to the delight of his hearers he appeared in an Irish character song. His make-up was so complete that if his name had not been on the program few would have known him. Mr. Williams has a magnificent voice.

Mrs. J. W. Holmes sang a solo, which was very much appreciated. She has a clear, pretty soprano voice and people love to hear her sing.

The second part of the program was a farce, "How the Story Goes." The characters were taken by Mrs. J. F. Brendel, Mrs. W. C. Brown, Mrs. Addie Stokes, Misses Maud Rusterholly, Fay Diddam, Lola Vallery, Margie Walker and Pauline Oldham. The story deals with gossips and explains how easily a story can grow.

The second number of the Lyceum Course will be given on December 18.

Birthday Surprise.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Beverage entertained a large number of young friends at their farm home Monday evening, the event being given in honor of their son, Alph's, twenty-first birthday. It was planned as a complete surprise to the young man, and was in every way successful. The evening was spent in various games and amusements, and at the proper hour a dainty three-course luncheon was served. After a most delightful evening the guests departed for home, all wishing their friend, Alph, many more such happy events. Following were those present: Leola Vallery, Myrtle Rice, Agnes and Esther Lloyd, Mildred Satchell, Myrtle Mossbarger, Vivian Fitzpatrick, Adel Fitzpatrick, Ruth Beverage, Mildred Snyder, Addie Dill, Messrs. Bryan Snyder, Garland and Tom Tilson, Harold Todd, Frank Marler, James Earhart, Charley Vallery, Richard and Alph Beverage, Fred Oldroge, John Rice, Roy Fitzpatrick, Arthur Jones, Frank Dill, Harry and Russell Satchell, Carl Gregory, Don Shepherdson, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mutz, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Satchell, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Shepherdson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beverage, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Beverage, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gruber.

Next Sunday at the M. E. Church.

Remember the great Missionary Rally announced for next Sunday. An all-day meeting is arranged for. Rev. Isaac Taylor Headland of Pekin University, the seat of higher education for China, will speak at the morning service at 11:45. Dr. Headland has been in China 20 years and has helped to shape the new educational system of the empire. He is an author, lecturer and educator whose message you should hear.

Miss Troutman, the assistant secretary of the Topeka branch, will conduct an afternoon service for women at 2 o'clock. Miss Troutman is an able speaker and should be greeted by an audience of women whose numbers would test the seating capacity of the church.

A meeting for the children will be held at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, an invitation is extended to every child in the city to attend.

Rev. Jacob F. Peat, who will be here for the evening service, is the district superintendent of the Chungking district, having an area of 5,000 square miles, and a population of 2,000,000 people. This district is of peculiar interest just now because the trouble in China centers about some of these places. The Boys' High school and Chingking hospital, and the city of Chingking, which is a great political and commercial center of 200,000 population, are under his supervision.

Let us make this evening service a fitting climax to the day of missionary education. If you do not believe in foreign missions, give these speakers a hearing any way. No effort will be made toward a subscription, but an offering will be taken to pay the care of these workers. Let every member of all churches do all that can be done to make next Sunday a day of education and inspiration in the cause of missions. All are invited to attend. 11-29-3td

For pains in the side or chest dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Liniment and bind it over the seat of pain. There is nothing better. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Earl Mayfield, son of L. J. Mayfield of the Courier, came down from Louisville this morning to spend the day in visiting. While here he called on the Journal. Earl don't take to the printing business like a duck does to water, but he is about the only Mayfield that doesn't.
