Wedding.

On Wednesday, December 20, at the Presbyterian church, a very pretty wedding occurred, when Miss Tressa Stokes was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur Copenhaver. Shortly before 8 o'clock Mrs. G. H. Gilmore took her place at the piano, while Mrs. James Holmes sang "The Melody of Love." As the wedding march sounded the bridal party began to enter the church from the vestibule. The bridesmaid and the ushers, Miss Isabella Young with Harry Creamer, Miss Edith LaRue with Tom Tilson, Miss Villa Gopen with Vance Todd, the groom with his best man, Guy Stokes; the bride with her maid-of-honor, Miss Eunice Ferguson, Rev. Ross Williams performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a beautiful dress of white chiffon over white silk with pearl trimming, wore a veil and carried bride's roses. Miss Ferguson was gowned in light blue silk and carried pink roses. The bridesmaids wore dresses of white serge.

The church was beautifully decorated by friends of the young couple. The pews were moved against the wall, leaving a wide aisle in the center, by which the bridal party advanced to the altar. The colors were white and green. A large palm was used for the center, with smaller ones on the ends. Holly made a background and candles twinkling through the green made a pretty picture.

The happy couple left on the midnight train, amid showers of rice, for Girard, Kansas, and will likely visit Virginia, the birthplace of Mr. Copenhaver, before their return.

Christmas at Old Rock Bluffs.

Some people have formed an opinion that Old Rock Bluffs cannot celebrate the Christmas season in grand style, and I went down to the Christmas entertainment. At an early hour the house began to fill with men, women and children, and the first thing I knew the seats were full, the house was full, the tree was full, everything seemed to be full except the men, who were simply filled to overflowing with happiness and contentment. An excellent program was given, consisting of musical numbers, after which the committee on the Christmas tree took charge of the program and proceeded to distribute the many gifts, which were in great quantities. I found that the Rock Bluffs people never do things by the halves, and I found them to be a mighty fine class of people.
