BAR ASSOCIATION FAVORS CHANGES

Suggests Some Radical Differences in Court Procedure.

ONLY MATERIAL ERFORS COUNT

Lawyers Agree That This Only Should Be Cause for Reversal-Jury Commission for Omaha-Roscoe Pound Indorsed for Supreme Court.

Lincoln, Dec. 30 .- The Nebraska association indorsed Roscoe Pound, formerly of this city and now protessor of law at Harvard university, for a position on the United States supreme bench, made vacant by the death of Justice Harlan. The association also wont on record as favoring some radical changes in judicial procedure in Nebraska. The report, which was adopted, was brought in by the resolutions committee, composed of Howard Konnedy of Omaha and E. J. Clements and T. J. Doyle of Lincoln.

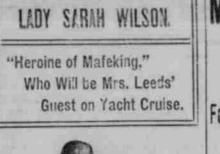

The recommendations were for a revival of the office of district attorney, the reduction of the number of peremptory challenges in criminal cases, the defendant being allowed the same number as the state, which is to have the same number as at present; the enactment of a statute directing courts in every stage of criminal procedure to disregard technical errors or defects, and that no judgment shall be reversed that does not affect the substantial rights of the defendant; the appointment of a jury commissioner Omaha; the commencement of civil actions by original notice, and five sixths of a jury in civil cases to render a verdict.

There were some objections to all the proposals except the one that nothing but material error should be ground for reversal by the supreme court and on this there was unanim-Ity. The other recommendations, however, were finally adopted.

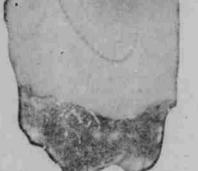

Paul L. Martin, dean of Creighton law school, discussed the "Trained Lowver" in his address, declaring the har had lost much of its old time prestige and that only more strict requirements for admission could restore it.

The report of the committee on edu cation was along the same lines and, if It is adopted, candidates will have more strenuous time than at present. If the new regulations are adopted the applicant must have had four years in high school, at least one year in a law school in addition to private study which will enable the candidate to mass the examination.

The annual meeting of the associa tion concluded with a banquet at the Encoln hotel, at which there was a for better working conditions on the large attendance. Harriman lines were ordered by the Values of Fresh Beef and of Cattle portance of the Will and Its Proper Fixed at Meetings of Packers' Com-Direction-New Year the Time to bination-Veeder Tells of Inside Choose a Right Line of Service-Faith In God of All Grace Necessary to Workings of Pool. Strength of Character and a Perma-Chicago, Dec. 30 .-- Direct evidence that a packers' pool was in existence from 1893 to 1896 and that it, after suspending operation two years, resumed control of the country's fresh neat business was given in the packers' trial by Henry Veeder, who admitted that he acted as secretary of the organization.

It was the first positive testimony offered by the government regarding the existence of the old pool which it is said met under the name of "Postoffice Box No. 247," every Tuesday cil-ernoon on the sixth floor of the Counselman building, Chicago, to fix the price charged for fresh beef, to agree on the price to be paid for cattle and to allot smong its members the amount of meat to be shipped into the different centers of distribution. Henry Voeder, who is a son of Albert H. Veeder, the veteran attorney for the packers, followed his father on the stand as the second witness called by the government. His story of the inside workings of the old packers' pool was not half finished when court has chartered the Semiramis from adjourned. He admitted many of the Lord Anglesey and intends leaving Na material allegations made by counsel ples about Jan. 16 for India, Ceylon, for the government in their opening address to the jury.

Between 1893 and 1896, the members of the pool were Armour & Co., Ar-G. H. Hammond & Co., St. Louis Dressed Deef and Provision company, Morris & Co. and Swift & Co., according to Henry Veeder. In 1898 Schwarzschild & Sulzberger entered the combination, the witness said.

Japan a Flowery Kingdom.

This choice does not necessarily mean that all must turn right about face and go in the opposite direction to that inwhich we have been going. I am not a believer in the theory of man's total depravity. Wherever I travel I perceive marks of sin, depravity, human Laperfection, weakness, but I also perceive evidences of good intentions, good endeavors, noble resolves.

Is it not because sin at the present time is profitable, advantageous, pleasurable, or secus to be one or all of these, that it is sought after, desired and given so large a control in human affairs? Is not this true because we are now under the domination of the Prince of darkness, the Prince of this world, whom the Scriptures declare shall be bound for a thousand years and deceive the nations no more, by putting light for darkness?

When the deception shall pass away and mankind shall see clearly the joya and rewards of righteousness, will they not prefer them? And if in that glo rious Epoch right doing brings bless ing and pleasure, and wrong doing brings all the disadvantages and stripes, may we not expect that the majority of humanity will seek right cousness, seek harmony with God, and thus seek the loys and blessings of Divine favor and everlasting life?

My brief stay in Japan has given me a keen appreciation of what the Japanese have already attained as a poo ple-entirely aside from Christianity. I perceive many things in Japan, close conditions prevalent in Europe and America, where Christianity has been dominant for centuries. We are to ac knowledge the good wherever we see it, and so now I freely acknowledge that I per eive amongst your people an ise is that "All the families of the esthetic taste, a gentleness of demeanor and a loyalty of heart which I fully appreciate, even though these qualities came to the Japanese, not through Christianity, but through Shintoism and Ruddhism. Indeed. I must apologize for much of the rudeness and crudeness of the so-called Christian nations, of which you have heard through your learned men and of which you know something through contact with the soldiers and sailors of these lands who come to your ports.

I would have you understand that the teachings of Christianity cover every form of courtesy, gentleness, faith baliast; and alas! our wonderful brotherly kindness and hospitality. The very keynote of Christ's instruction to His followers is lore, out of a pure heart-and that each should do unto his neighbor as he would that his neighbor should do to him. The fruits I see that you more candidiy fabel it and graces of the Holy Spirit of Christ are prominently set forth in the Bible-meekness, gentleness, patience. long-suffering, faith, hope, joy, love, You should know, moreover, that, while these qualities are very generalunbeilef. nominal Christians, will have that much whereof to be ashamed, and te overcome and rectify.

Does Not Wish to Be Misunderstood.

Do not misunderstand me. I am not ignoring the fundamental Christian doctrine that "Christ died for our sins, according to the Scriptures, and rose again for our justification." I am affirming that doctrine and carrying It to its legitimate conclusion. The Bible, the inspired Authority of Christendom, clearly teaches that the saurificial death of Jesus, the Just for the unjust, was not for a mere handful, but for the entire race. That sacrificial death took place more than four thousand years after Adam's sin, but it is to be made efficacious for Adam and all of his race-not merely for those who have heard the Message of Divine grace, nor merely for those who have lived since the sacrifice took place, but, as the Bible declares, "Jesus Christ, by the grace of God, tasted death for every man." (Hebrews ii, 99 Another Scripture distinctly shows that the Divine favor and blessing resulting from Jesus' death is not only to be a benefit to the Church, to those who now believe and walk in the footsteps of the Redeemer, but will ultimately benefit all the remainder of mankind. Thus we read, "He is a propitiation (satisfaction) for our sins (the Church's sins), and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world." (I John ii, 2.) All mankind. therefore, must ultimately receive a benefit, a blessing, as a result of Jesus' death, and this will include your ly connected with your religious cas | ancestors. This is the method God toms, which put to the blush certain has adopted for the fulfilment of His glorious promises of thirty-live hundred years ago to Abraham-to which promise our Creator gave His oath. that we might have strong consolation and faith in its fulfilment. The promearth shall be blessed," and, additionally, that the blessing shall come to them through Abraham's Seed.

Christendom's Great Mistake.

The great mistake made by Chris tendom has been in overlooking the fact that God's great work thus far has been only the finding of the promised Seed of Abraham, through whom the blessing will reach all peoples. Primarily, this gracious offer was made to Abraham's natural posterity, the nation of Israel, if they could keep perfectly the terms of their Law Covenant. But they were unable so to do because, like the remainder of the race. they were fallen, imperfect. Then it was that God revealed to them that He would send them a Savior, who would deliver them from their own weakness and use them in carrying the blessing and favor to the whole world.

In due time God sent His Son, Jesus, to be the Redeemer. Jesus left the glory which He had with the Father and humbled Himself to human nature, yea, even to death, the ignominious death of the cross. Thus doing alty, the result of one man's disobedience. Thus the death of a Just One for the unjust is sufficient to constitute a satisfaction of the Divine Law. the redemption of the race from its death sentence. Thus was secured to ticed only by a proportionately small all an opportunity for resurrection: number, the remainder rather boasting "As by a man came death by a Man of and cultivating qualities the reverse also comes the resurrection of the dead: for as all in Adam die, even so all in Christ shall be made alive, every man in his own order"-not all at once. -I Corinthians xv. 21, 23. Jesus, the Redeemer, having finished His sacrifice, was returned to heavenly glory at the right hand of Divine Majesty, far superior to angels, etc. He now is ready for His great work. Why the delay, do you ask? The Scriptures very clearly inform us that a special, saintly class, to be gathered out of all nations, peoples, kindreds and tongues, is to be associated with the Redeemer in His great work of worship, are damned of God and have blessing the world. It is for this foreordained company to be called, chosen and found faithful that the Messiank Kingdom delays. It is my opinion that the delay is nearly over-that very soon the last member of the glorious company will have passed beyond the veil, and that then, forthwith, the sufferings of The Christ, Hend and Body. being ended, Messiah's giorious Kingdom will begin.

Alas, my friends, even your provercharacter and willingness to die for your Emperor cannot exist long under the influence of such a lack of faith ballast. And what your scholars of today believe will surely reflect in your masses shortly. And I am bound in candor to admit that a very similar condition of things prevails throughout Europe and America. The outlook is ominous indeed.

Whatever we may be, the closing of one year and the opening of another furnishes a favorable opportunity for retrospection as well as for good resolutions. I trust that my audlence agrees with me in this. The greatest power in the universe is the power of the will, and we are all learning how important a matter it is that our own wills and the wills of our fellow-creatures be rightly directed. It is in line with this thought that the Wise man declared that "greater is a man that ruleth his own spirit than he who conquers a city;" and, "As a man willeth 32; xxiii, 7.)

War and Rapine Not Noble Objects.

Of old Alexander the Great willed to be the conqueror of the world, and are gradually learning, however, that and will. Instead, the bright minds conquering of the earth. Highways are cast up, rails are laid, trains are run, mountains are pierced, rivers are spanned with bridges, and the human will is using steam and electrical power in every direction in a marvelous manner. I am not emphasizing these well known facts so common to our observation, but calling attention to out which they would not be attained. And what is thus noted in the achievements of the world reminds us that we each and all have wills, which should be rightly directed and forcefully exercised in all of our personal affairs, our lives, our ambitions, our family and social attainments, A will-less man is a good-for-naught. How Important, then, It is that all of our wills should be wisely, rightly directed, that our lives may be made as successful and useful as possible, for welfare of our fellows, as well as for Disagrees With Missionaries.

I find myself unable to agree with the teachings of the missionaries which have reached you, however honest some of them may have been. Knowing that an essential feature of Shintoism is reverence for deceased ancestors, many missionaries, I fear, have done violence to your tenderest feelings and most deeply seated convictions when they told you that your ancestors, instead of being objects of begun their experiences of a torture which will last to all eternity, because they did not know and therefore did not accept Jesus Christ as their Messlah and Savior, and did not become His followers.

I will not discuss the sincerity of these brethren in thus doing violence to your most sacred and tender sentiments; I will merely say that to my understanding they have misinterpreted our great Creator's Plan and the explanation thereof furnished us in our sacred Scriptures. Instead, I give you the Bible Message, that your forefathers, whom you so deeply venerated, are, according to the Bible, asleep in strife, vexation and turmoil, awaiting the morning light of a new Epoch. That glorious period, when they will be awakened and come forth under more favorable conditions than the present, under a reign of righteousness, and to a clear knowledge of the Truth. is to be inaugurated by the coming of Christ, the world's Messiah. He comes to establish His Kingdom and to overmembers of the House of Sous-memthrow the Prince of darkness. He comes to break the shackles of ignorance and sin, sickness and death, and to set mankind free from these. His Kingdom will set up the glorious standard of righteousness and truth and reuder every assistance possible for hu- then are ye Abraham's Seed, and heirs manity to come into harmony with the Divine will.

In that glorious Day, which, I helieve, is very near at hand, everything that you and your ancestors have learned in harmony with meekness, gentledess, patience, long-suffering, brotherly kindness, love, will be that much of an assistance in your uplift toward the full perfection of the Divine requirement of character. And, similarly, be it noted, those who have falled to cul- this day whom ye will serve"-God or tivate these heart and character quali Mammon.

What Israel Did Not Obtain.

St. Paul points us to the fact that the Jewish Age, up to the time of Jesus, accomplished a great moral uplift in that ration, but that the nation as a whole was not saintly and hence, as a whole, could not be the Redeemdeath, sweetly resting from all labor, er's associates in His Messianic Kingdom. When Messiah came to His own and they received Him not, but ceucified Him, they as a nation were rejected from Divine favor for a time. But some of them were Israelites Indeed-some of them received Jesus, became His disciples, and were accepted of God by the begetting of the Holy Spirit, at and after Pentecost, to be Thus St Paul declares again, "If ye be Christ's, according to the promise"-the promise that all the families of the earth shall be blessed through this Seed .-- Gain tians III, 16, 29.

So today, on the threshold of the New Year, I urge upon you a recognition of the power of the will, and the importance of its proper exercise in choosing the best things-the things represented in Christ and His glorious Gospel of the love of God. "Choose ye
