

KEEPER KILLED BY BUFFALO

Custodian in Riverview Park at Omaha Gored to Death.

DIES IN LESS THAN AN HOUR.

While Working in Buffalo Pen the Enraged Bull Rushes Upon Aged Man From Behind Before He Can Escape Over Fence.

Omaha, Jan. 29.—Nels P. Anderson was gored to death by an infuriated buffalo bull at Riverview park. He died within an hour after he was attacked by the enraged animal.

Anderson, who was advanced in years, was the keeper of the zoo in the park, and at the time he was gored he was digging a hole in the ground to be filled with water for the animals.

Anderson did not know of the approach of the buffalo bull until he heard the bellowing bull behind him. Turning around quickly he saw the animal coming toward him at a furious pace. Dropping his tools, Anderson started to run for the nearest part of the fence. He had reached the southwest corner, when he slipped.

The aged keeper had hardly recovered his footing when the buffalo was upon him. With lowered head and a terrific bellow, the enraged bull sunk its horns into Anderson's thighs. The horns went through the legs and came out near the groin. In some manner the man extricated himself, but the bull was upon him again. This time the beast's horns did not enter the flesh, but its head was jammed into the pit of Anderson's stomach. For a while Anderson lay as if dead, and the animal not seeing him stir, slowly moved away.

When the bull had disappeared over a small hill Anderson slowly dragged himself over the fence. He fell from the top of the fence to the ground. He died from loss of blood and internal injuries before a doctor arrived.

DEUNCES CHILD SLAVERY

Dean Sumner Addresses Charities and Correction Conference.

Omaha, Jan. 29.—An unqualified, mercenary denunciation of child labor characterized the opening session of the Nebraska Conference of Charities and Correction at the Boyd theater. The arraignment of society for suffering the institution of child labor was made by Dean Walter T. Sumner of the cathedral of St. Peter and Paul of Chicago, superintendent of city missions and chairman of the Chicago vice commission. He pleaded for the passage of the bill pending in congress, providing for the creation of a new cabinet officer, whose business it would be to superintend the conservation of children, being assisted by the president and the other members of the cabinet.

"Poverty is ugly and repellent," declared Dean Sumner, "and it falls heaviest on the children. The greatest cause of poverty is child labor."

A resolution, drawn by Judge Howard Kennedy, president of the Nebraska Child Labor League, was presented by Miss Lucile Eaves of the sociological department of the University of Nebraska, and unanimously approved. The resolution urges the passage of the new law, which Miss Eaves explained a committee had been working industriously to promote for the last five years, and was wired at once to the national child labor committee, which is meeting in Louisville, Ky.

ENTERPRISE GETS DECISION

Tri-State Land Company Was Defeated in Action at Gering.

Gering, Neb., Jan. 29.—Judge Hobart has handed down a decision in the suit of the Enterprise Canal company against the Tri-State Land company in favor of the plaintiff.

This was a case brought nominally by the Enterprise Canal company to determine the prior right of the respective irrigation canals of the North Platte valley to the water from the North Platte river.

Arranged against the Tri-State Land company was found not only the Enterprise Canal company, but nearly every canal of any consequence from North Platte to the Wyoming state line. The case involved the water right of over 150,000 acres of the finest irrigated land in the United States. Judge Hobart based his decision upon the long established principle of irrigation law that the best water right is dependent upon the actual application of the water to the land within a reasonable time after the application for appropriation is made. The supreme court has held that ten years is a reasonable time to complete the ditches and headwaters of a canal. The Tri-State did not complete its in twenty years.

POWER IN REICHSTAG.

Ernst Bassermann, Who is Now Made More Commanding by Election.

REICHSTAG TO MEET FEB. 7

Chancellor May Dissolve Body and Appeal to Country.

Berlin, Jan. 29.—Thoughtful Germans are concerned over the astounding predominance won by the Social Democracy in the reichstag elections, which came to an end last week. The party which the government has pilloried throughout the campaign as the "arch enemy of the state" enters the new reichstag with 110 members and is now the strongest individual body in parliament. It displaces from that position the hitherto invincible Catholic Center.

The National Liberals will hold the balance of power, and Herr Ernst Bassermann the leader of that party, will be a commanding figure.

The kaiser has summoned the new reichstag to convene on Feb. 7, but it would not surprise political observers if the imperial chancellor's first appearance in the house were to be marked by the reading of an imperial order dissolving parliament for the purpose of making a fresh appeal to the country.

AUTOISTS FORCED TO DISROBE BY BANDITS

Robbed of Money, Jewelry and Clothing by Zapatistas.

Puebla, Mexico, Jan. 29.—Left in possession of a big touring car, but stripped of nearly every stitch of clothing and robbed of money, jewelry and arms, was the predicament in which Macedonia Olvera, his two daughters and two young men were placed by Zapatistas.

Olvera, who, with his daughters, Rebecca and Louisa, is visiting friends in Puebla, invited the two young men to accompany them on an automobile ride. Near the city their car was stopped by a band of Zapatistas, who, with guns leveled, forced the members of the party to deliver their personal possessions. One of the bandits then suggested that their clothing would make a desirable addition to the loot and the occupants of the car, all members of the better class of society, were forced to disrobe.

At a workman's home a few pieces of clothing were obtained.

POPE HAS NOSTALGIA CURE

Uses Phonograph to Remind Him of Venice When He Feels Homesick.

Rome, Jan. 29.—The pope gave an audience to a friendly parish priest of his native town of Rieti, whom he told of his remedy for homesickness. The pope said he had last April sent to Venice for an unused phonograph disk and had arranged to have an impression made of the sounds of the bell when it rang out from the reconstructed Campanile of Santa Maria. The pope remarked to the priest, as the phonograph was started:

"Close your eyes and hear the sound of the bells, and you will feel that you are back in dear Venice."

MOB KILLS FIVE REBEL GENERALS

Leaders in Ecuador's Latest Revolution Lynched.

FOLLOWS SLAYING OF MONTERO

Three Alfaro and Paez and Serrano Meet Death at Hands of Mob—Revolt Began After President Estrada's Death a Year Ago.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Jan. 29.—A mob broke into the Quito penitentiary in spite of a double guard and lynched Generals Elroy Alfaro, Flavio Alfaro, Medardo Alfaro, U. Paez and Manuel Serrano, prominent revolutionists.

The revolution, although it had been a long time brewing, began in reality a few days following the sudden death on Dec. 22 last of President Estrada.

The first of the drastic measures taken by those who opposed the revolt on was carried into effect last week at Guayaquil when General Pedro Montero, who was proclaimed president by the troops after the death of Estrada, was shot and beheaded by a mob which later burned his body.

Elroy Alfaro was proclaimed president by the populace in 1906, when he had defeated the government troops.

PRESIDENT SUN URGES UNITY

Forty-two Senators Make Up New Chinese Senate.

Nanking, Jan. 29.—The armistice which has been in operation for several weeks has expired, but no definite steps have been taken for its renewal. Neither Tang Shao Yi, the representative of Premier Yuan, nor Wu Ting Fang, the republican minister of justice, expects serious fighting. Dr. Wu said in this connection: "There is no one to fight; all are our friends."

Chang Hsun, commander of the imperial troops, has his central base at Suchowfu in the northern part of Kiangsu province. Under his direct command are 8,000 of all sorts of good fighters. Inured to the winter. The revolutionists' center is at Linhai, about 300 miles from Nanking. The revolutionists number 15,000 men, eager for fighting, but not acclimated.

It is believed here that abdication will come when Premier Yuan is satisfied that the Chinese troops in Peking are sufficient to control the Manchus. The new state senate was inaugurated here. It is made up of forty-two senators, who appeared in foreign dress. President Sun, in his speech, urged unity. He said that it was proposed by the new regime to build up, not to destroy.

At the close of the president's address there was an impressive scene, the members rising in a body and giving three cheers for the republic.

President Sun has sent a telegram to Yuan Shi Kai informing him that if abdication is imminent he would hold back the republican troops for two or three days.

STRIKE MAY BE LONG ONE

Textile Workers' Struggle Promised to Be Bitter.

Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 29.—The strike of approximately 20,000 textile workers in this city which has been in force more than two weeks seems likely to resolve itself into a long struggle.

Representatives of the various mills issued a statement in Boston that they will have no further negotiations with Joseph J. Ettor of New York, the strike leader, and that the demands of the strikers cannot be granted.

On the other hand, the strikers' committee voted not to confer with the mill agents again until the latter are ready to talk business.

So many days have passed since the strikers have received any pay that the loss of the money is felt keenly in hundreds of families. The soup kitchen, which was started recently by the strikers' committee, has been patronized well during the last few days by the hungry.

Quiet prevailed in the city and the militiamen on duty had little to vary the monotony of guard duty.

CLAIMS BREACH OF PROMISE

Mary McCarthy Asks $150,000 of Philip Sullivan.

Wayne, Neb., Jan. 29.—Miss Mary McCarthy, a school teacher of near Forest City, Ia., has filed suit in Wayne against Philip Sullivan for $150,000 for alleged breach of promise in marriage. Sullivan is a wealthy stockman, rated as being worth $500,000.

Miss McCarthy claims Sullivan induced her to come to Wayne to marry him. She has been here several months in constant expectation of the wedding, but says Sullivan now refuses to keep his promise. Becoming convinced that he had no intention of doing so, she filed the suit. Sullivan is about fifty years old.

"THE CHORUS LADY" AT THE PARMELE

Thursday Night, February 1, and It is a Grand Production in Every Particular.

Vaudeville sketches depicting scenes behind the stage, have universally met with success when presented upon an American stage. The theater-going public, as a rule, have an intense longing and peculiar desire to see the inside workings and doing behind the scenes. James Forbes, the author of "The Traveling Salesman" and "The Commuters," realized the value of a play of this character when he wrote "The Chorus Lady," and its ability to please all classes of theater-goers in every section of the country has proven that it contains a fascinating attractiveness possessed by few of the modern plays. In fact, it is the most realistic and the most characteristic American play written in years. It is a most interesting story told in a gripping manner, with the abundance of comedy which each act contains, and it forms one of the most pleasing performance imaginable.

The plot of the play involves the fortunes of two daughters of a lowly New England family. One of the daughters is playing with a theatrical company in New York, the other, a self-willed creature without any experience in worldly affairs, seeing the success that her sister has made, wants to go on the stage also. Unable to persuade her sister to give up the idea the chorus lady finally takes her to New York and secures a position for her at the theater; from this point the story of the play commences.

The dressing-room scene in the second act has been proclaimed as one of the most realistic stage scenes presented; it is true to life and depicts the scene behind the stage when a roomful of chorus girls are preparing their make-ups. There is plenty of "stage talk" in the play, plenty of comedy and plenty of tragedy. The author has woven a story of impelling interest and many strong situations develop. "The Chorus Lady" will appear at the Parmele theater for one performance only, next Thursday, February 1, and promises to be one of the best attractions to be seen here this season.
