THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

furnished the alibi witnesses. He then impressed on the minds of the jury that Al Lytle did not swear that George was with him at the time of the robbery; that all they had was the testimony of Ben Kegan that he was not able to do anything but a few chores, but Ben had said he was away a couple of days at a time. That was exactly what the state thought. Judge Slabaugh closed by charging the jury that sympathy had no place in dealing out justice; that George Lytle was the architect of his own character and had no one to blame for his position. He reminded the jury that they sat in the jury box without having been challenged by the state, for the reason that the state believed they were men of courage, and that they would do their duty as men, and that when an array of circumstances so overwhelming had been shown to them that their calm, deliberate judgment would prevail.

Judge Travis then read his instructions and told the jury to retire and select their foreman and deliberate on the case and have the foreman sign and date one of the forms of verdict which the Judge handed them. The jury went out about 6 o'clock and was out until about 9:30, when it brought in a verdict of guilty as charged.

The motion for a new trial for John Doud, convicted as an accomplice with Lytle and McCann, was argued by Mr. Britt last evening at 7:30 and overruled by the court. The Judge then sentenced Doud to an indeterminate sentence for life, or not less than twenty years at hard labor in the state penitentiary at Lancaster, near Lincoln.

Sheriff Quinton and M. W. Thomas took Doud and McCann to the penitentiary this morning.

-NO MORE BLUE MONDAYS!

Now-a-days every progressive farmer is buying labor saving machinery. He does not buy these implements because he is lazy or indolent, but because he knows he can handle his products and do his farm work, not only quicker, but more economically, than he can without them.

But How About His Wife?

Is she leaning over the primitive washboard or tugging at the handle of a washing machine. If she is doing either of these, no matter how much modern machinery is already on the farm, there is one important thing lacking—a "Maytag" Power Washer.

With this on the farm she can give the tiresome job to the gasoline engine and go about her more pleasant house work with a sense of satisfaction and relief.

The up-to-date farmer in buying a "Maytag" Power Washer will not only show his progressiveness but will make every Monday as pleasant as other days, and no longer to be looked forward to with visions of tired muscles and an aching back.

The wringer on the "Maytag" Power Washer swings on a hinge and can be used for wringing clothes at the same time that you are doing a washing without any other part of the washer interfering.

The entire machine is operated with one handle. This handle controls the washer and wringer absolutely—starts it, reverses it and stops it. It is the only one on the machine—there can be no mistakes.

We want to call your attention to this feature. The operator can't go wrong, it is impossible to use the wrong handle in a moment of hurry or confusion, for no matter what the machine is doing, all that is necessary is to turn the handle and the machine will do the other thing.

This machine can be seen at Big Loss by Fire.

E. F. Spies, who is spending a few days with his parents, returned from Sallisaw, Okla., where, last Wednesday night, the Prof. Ray company, in which Mr. Spies is interested, met with a severe loss from fire. The Sallisaw Daily News gives the following account of the fire:

"The Wonderland theater, corner of Chicksaw and Oak streets, was destroyed by fire about 1 o'clock this (Wednesday) morning, entailing a loss of approximately $6,000, with no insurance. Of this amount about $4,000 falls on Prof. Ray, who lost all of his paraphernalia for the talking pictures, which were playing the house this week. Despite the fact that within a few minutes after the alarm was sounded several people were on the scene, one trunk belonging to the Rays was all that was saved. The Rays leave tonight for Kansas City to equip another outfit and will soon be on the road again.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The undersigned has no apologies or explanations to make for starting the fourth drug store in Plattsmouth further than to say that the senior member of the firm has resided here for 37 years and the junior member was born here and we preferred to live in Plattsmouth in preference to casting our lot in some other city. We did not enter into this business enterprise with the expectation or desire to drive anyone out of business in order to succeed, but reasoned that if we could get our share of the drug business in this city and country tributary thereto we could all live. We have taken our chances in getting our share of your patronage, and time, which settles all questions, will solve that problem. Come in and see us.

Bad Snow Storm.

From Saturday's Daily.
The worst snow storm and cold, freezing weather which has been known in this locality for thirty years struck eastern Cass county last night. This morning the drifts were piled high and the east and west roads were impassable. Rural Carrier Miles Allen returned from his route, having only gone as far as Captain Isaac Wiles place, when he encountered snow drifts too high to pass over. The railway service is badly delayed. N. Grissinger said when he went to the north end of the yards this morning the wind struck him and he felt sure the temperature was 5 below zero.

Henry Brinkman was a passenger to Glenwood on the early train today.
