

THE GREAT NEED FOR A NEW BURLINGTON PASSENGER DEPOT HERE

Present Structure is Far Too Small to Accommodate the People Who Daily Travel From This Place and City Should Be Treated More Liberally by the Railroad Company.

Will the great B. & M. railway corporation, which has made so many valuable and modern improvements in its local shops here, keep pace with the business houses of the city and the spirit of improvement now abroad in the air, and build a new and modern passenger station at the foot of Main street, to accommodate the trade which throngs their small depot every week and almost every day of the week?

In the present condition, on many occasions, there are not seats for half of the patrons who purchase tickets, and the good citizens are forced to stand huddled in the center of the room, oftentimes almost suffocating in the dense atmosphere, or walk the platform outside, where the air is purer, although chilly. The ladies' and gents' waiting rooms are alike in point of accommodation, and there are as many women standing in their room as men in theirs.

The accommodation furnished the public are not in comparison with the traffic and earnings from this point, as the company, at all seasons of the year, do an enormous passenger business from this point. There is not another town in the state of Nebraska having the population Plattsmouth has, doing the amount of travel the citizens here do each week, but have commodious, up-to-date waiting rooms, with modern conveniences, filled up with lavatories and toilets in the men's waiting room, as well as the women's, furnished by the corporations serving the people. Under existing conditions at the station the men and women have but one toilet in common.

Along with the numerous improvements contemplated, as well as those already completed and others in process of completion by private parties at this time in the city, it would be a graceful thing if the public service corporations doing business here would also catch the fever and make their properties correspond with those of private individuals. If the railway companies would make the improvements that they should and such as their business here in dollars and cents would justify, it would be a long step in the direction of a neater and more beautiful city.

Many persons who have business in Omaha and reside in Plattsmouth, have spoken of the exceedingly poor facilities for accommodating the passenger traffic at the station of this city. The accommodations here have been compared with those furnished in cities of this class in other localities in the state, and the comparison is not at all favorable to the Plattsmouth traveling public.

The bust is low, the corset almost "topless" in effect; still, the figure is perfectly supported. It is a thoroughly comfortable model—guaranteed so—also not to rust, break or tear. ### The Condition of Success.

During the Indian war Major Hodson wrote to a friend: "If I succeed in India, it will be due to a sound digestion." He understood that perfect health is the most valuable aid to success. Almost daily we can see men whose career was ruined by poor health, by poor digestion. Allow us to remind you here of Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine, which is one of the most dependable remedies for indigestion and all other ailments resulting from the same. Use it as soon as you will notice some change in your usual appetite or strength or weight. It will give new strength to the exhausted organs, will materially assist digestion, relieve constipation, headache, gas-colic and attacks of rheumatism and neuralgia. It is good for anemia, nervousness, loss of weight and strength and diseases of the stomach and the intestines. At drug stores. Jos. Triner, 1333-1339 So. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Illinois.
