"THE QUEEN BOHEMIA!"

One of the Most Elaborate of the Season's Bookings at the Gayety, Omaha.

"The Queen of Bohemia," with its tuneful, jingling music, pretty girls, droll situations, scenic effects and gorgeous costumes, is undervalued for a week's stay at the popular Gayety, Omaha, commencing with a matinee Sunday, February 25th.

This season Mr. Spiegel offers a new book and score by the well known authors, Moran and Rubens. The organization is under the same management as the famous "College Girls." Mr. Sam Sidman, America's foremost German comedian, heads the list of funmakers. Countess Rossi, who played at the Orpheum last season, appears as Bohemia's queen. She is as bright and effervescent as a draught of champagne. Her smile is a joy and her laugh surprisingly natural and infectious.

The first act shows us "The Black Cat" Rathskeller in the heart of the Gay White Way. Here one is given a glimpse of the seductive denizens who are ever ready to join the festive revellers in a fresh bottle. The second act shows "The Simple Life," "The Golf Club House" on the Hudson.

"The Queen of Bohemia" easily carries off the honors for a lavish production. This year the cast is headed by that well liked German comedian, Sam Sidman, and the famous Russian song bird, "Countess Rossi." Both are ably assisted by the following well known players: Charles Drew, George Hayes, Will J. Ward, Lewis Hartman, Margie Meredith and the Clark sisters. A new book is used, as well as new numbers; the book by Edward Moran and the music by Paul Rubens. On Friday night a special and novel feature in the form of rag-time piano playing contest, open to all non-professional lady and gentlemen pianists. Liberal cash prizes will be awarded the winners, the audience to act as judge. Contestants should register at the Gayety box office. There will be a ladies' dime matinee every week day.

ZUCKWEILER & LUTZ

O. P. Monroe Injured.

Last Friday while driving out to look at some goods on Washington avenue, O. P. Monroe was overcome with an attack of heart failure and fell from his wagon, severely bruising and injuring his back and shoulders. He realized that he was going into an unconscious state and stopped his horse, but could not prevent his fall. Someone passing found him and brought him to his place of business. He has been confined to his bed since. This morning O. Edmunds called a physician for him, as he was not feeling as well as yesterday and the day before.

DOWNWARD COURSE

Fast Being Realized by Plattsmouth People.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak.

Urinary disorders quickly follow; Dropsy and finally Bright's disease.

This is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this course, Plattsmouth residents should profit by the following experience.

Mrs. Nettie Woodrow, Vine St., Glenwood, Iowa, says: "I was afflicted with backache and often when I got up in the morning I felt languid. A relative insisted on my taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and as I had previous been unable to obtain relief, I procured this remedy. In a short time it relieved me and I now have no cause for complaint, I shall never tire of making the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills known."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Free Bulletins on Seed Corn.

Congressman Maguire will be glad to furnish bulletins on seed corn to the farmers of his district who desire them. These bulletins are of special interest and value at this time, owing to the fact that there has been some alarm felt by the farmers in the matters of their seed corn this spring.

These special bulletins, Nos. 229, 253 and 415, treating on the question of seed corn, its germination, etc., can be secured by dropping a postal card addressed to John A. Maguire, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

Councilman Will begins to feel encouraged about his cattle, as he has not lost any for three days. They are beginning to eat the feed with the medicine in it. He has lost in all thirty-four head, from which he has taken the hides.

NEBRASKA MERCHANTS TO SECURE PRIZES

Meet in Annual Convention in Omaha on March 12 to 14.

When the retail merchants of Nebraska meet in annual convention in Omaha on March 12 to 14, they will have an opportunity to compete for a long list of special prizes which have been offered. The prizes include a road scraper, a pair of horse blankets, a horse collar, an auto vane, and a big supply of hog powder; also an incubator. The prizes will be awarded to local associations throughout the state. The road scraper will be given to the association which affiliates with the state organization which can give the best reason why it should have it in its good roads improvement work. The awards will be made by a committee appointed from the association.

The other prizes will be given to local associations to be used as prizes by the winning merchants during their co-operative bargain day sales, which are becoming quite a feature in Nebraska. All prizes are to be awarded to farmers in the sections of the state where the winners live. The prizes are donated by Penn P. Forde, secretary of the Federation of Nebraska Retailers.

The Omaha merchants and jobbers have arranged for a big banquet on Wednesday night, March 13. This will be held at the Hotel Rome, headquarters of the association, after which the visitors will be entertained at a theater party at the Orpheum.

Merchants from all parts of Nebraska will attend the convention. Invitations sent out by the Commercial club of Omaha to all members of the association are meeting with hearty response. The jobbers of Omaha are arranging a big entertainment for Tuesday night. This will be in the nature of a surprise. The committee in charge is saying nothing, but sawing wood. The members declare, however, that they will entertain the merchants in a way that will make them glad they came.

The list of speakers for the convention includes E. A. Wurl of Plattsmouth, J. W. Scheer of Greeley, Joseph C. Zimmerer of Avoca, A. W. Hawkins of Norfolk, R. A. Murray of Ravenna, C. C. Johns of Grand Island, F. H. Barclay of Pawnee City, Stanton Allen of Wolbach, C. E. Beinert of Wymore and J. W. Foutz of Diller. These gentlemen will discuss questions of vital interest to the association.

Wreck Caused Blockade.

A wreck at Pacific Junction at an early hour this morning caused by a Kansas City theatrical special backing into No. 10, blockaded the track so that No. 15 did not get through until long after noon. No. 6 and No. 4, the first due here at about 8 a. m. and the other at 10, were tied up in the yards until after noon. The wreck was without fatalities, but badly disarranged the traffic. Very little could be learned as to the damage to passenger coaches and nothing at all concerning who was at fault.

For Sale.

300 split bureau posts, carriage and buggy. See Lloyd Gopen, administrator of F. M. Young estate.

Mrs. Barn Baxter of Butte, Montana, and Miss Blanche Kennedy of Omaha were Sunday visitors at the home of Baxter Smith.
