Honor Bestowed Upon Superintendent Abbott on His Thirty-eighth Birthday.

We believe the board exercised wise discretion in re-electing Mr. Abbott, as no one in recent years has worked more earnestly and successfully for the upbuilding of the schools than he, and he being one of the leading educators of the state, it would have been a sad mistake to have allowed some other city to have secured his services.

The social dance given last evening by the F. M. R. club as a farewell to B. A. Rosencrans and Ed Scotten was a glorious success, socially and otherwise. Another ball will be given later for Mr. Morgan of the club, who departs for California, and it is rumored that already the F. and R. personnel of the club are casting about for a good M. man to take the place of Mr. Morgan in the trio during his absence. A gentleman with any other first letter need not apply, as the reputation of the club has now become established, and the two remaining members feel that all their efforts and zeal of the past winter would be lost and they would not feel right working with another and different combination. As stated before, the event last evening was in honor of Messrs. Rosencrans and Scotten, who depart Sunday for a two-months' visit on the coast and

THE BORROWED SUIT OF CLOTHES RETURNED

"Last evening Sheriff Fischer and Officer Sullivan received a message from Plattsmouth that Newton Webster, a character well known here, was coming to this city and all togged out in the clothing belonging to a young man named Monk, of Plattsmouth. Webster was met at the depot and was surprised to see the officers, because he said that he merely came down to visit with the boys and show them how well he was doing, and for that purpose the young man had "loaned" him his clothing, all save the pair of socks, which he had of his own. Newton was placed in jail and today the Plattsmouth officers sent down his old clothes and they were given him, after which he will be escorted over the river and warned not to come back again. The Plattsmouth young man refused to prosecute. The Plattsmouth clothes were sent back to the "easy mark" this afternoon and in the future he will be slow about "loaning" anyone his entire wardrobe. Webster has been arrested here several times and does not seem to be overly bright and things stick to his fingers."

A. G. Nolting filed Saturday for the office of county commissioner. Mr. Nolting is one of the prosperous farmers of eastern Cass county, a good business man and will make a most capable commissioner.

"Who Hauled Down First Rebel Flag?"—Boy Who Claims the Honor Still Lives.

This was done before General Lyons captured Camp Jackson at St. Louis, and was before or immediately after Fort Sumpter was fired upon. The flag, as I remember, was 4x8 feet. The boy is living, or was a short time ago. I have kept this secret for forty-five years, as it is known only to three persons. He says his only regret is he did not save it. It was burned. We "bunked" together in Company G, First Nebraska regiment, and Company A, Forty-fifth Missouri. He was mustered out a first lieutenant and myself first sergeant of the same company.

Christian Church Service.

Rev. A. L. Zink, the new minister at the Christian church, preached two fine sermons yesterday to good-sized audiences. A fine chorus choir, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Grove Livingston, Miss Gertrude Stenner, Miss Hazel Cowsels and O. Hudson, furnished the music, morning and evening. Mr. and Mrs. Livingston sang a duet at the morning service, which was much appreciated by the congregation. Rev. Zink had for his theme in the morning "Friendship New and Renewed." At the evening service his topic was, "Christian Obligation."

Wm. Puls, from near Murray, was a county seat visitor last Saturday, visiting with friends.

Elmer Gray, the Nehawka depot burglar, was arraigned before Judge Travis Saturday afternoon, and after hearing the complaint read and pleading guilty, he was asked by the court if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed on him. The prisoner replied that he had been drawn into the crime by another. The court inquired whether he had given the details to the county attorney, when Gray replied that he had told the sheriff all about it. He told the court he had two sisters and a brother living in Lincoln. Judge Travis then sentenced him to an indeterminate in the penitentiary of from one to ten years at hard labor, with Sundays and holidays excepted. Gray thanked the court for the sentence, and walked out with the sheriff, to be taken to the penitentiary. Gray has a father and mother, residing probably in Nebraska City. His father was defendant in a forcible detainer case in Judge Archers court a few weeks ago, in which Harry Todd was plaintiff. Gray's father had moved into Mr. Todd's house last fall, where he lived while he husked corn for Mr. Todd.

Saturday afternoon Judge Travis handed down a decree in the divorce proceedings in which Nellie E. Sherwood was plaintiff and Thomas H. Sherwood was defendant. The petition on which the decree was founded alleged non-support and cruelty; the plaintiff prayed for the custody, nurture and education of their two children, Margaret, aged 7, and Charles W., aged 7 months. The decree was granted as prayed, the defendant not appearing. The plaintiff was given the custody of the children until further order of the court, the defendant having the right to visit them at such times in daylight as it should be convenient for the plaintiff.

Oscar Zarr, one of the prosperous young farmers of South Bend precinct, was a Plattsmouth visitor today, looking after business matters in the county seat. Mr. Zarr made a pleasant call at the Journal office, which the editor appreciated very much, as Oscar is one of the staunch democrats of his precinct.

Several Fine Musical Entertainments Assured the People of Plattsburgh.

After due discussion of the matter it was decided that an opportunity should be given Platts-mouth to show its approval of the project some time in June—the exact date to be decided later. Three consecutive entertainments—two evenings with an intervening matinee—were decided up and Mr. Ed Schulhof was elected chairman of a committee to arrange the program for the first evening; Miss Mathilde Vallery, chairman of a committee to arrange the program for the matinee, and H. S. Austin, chairman of a committee to arrange the program for the second evening. Mr. Schulhof was also elected chairman of a "committee of the whole," which will be in charge of the general management of the entire affair.

Each of the three programs will be entirely distinctive, and, under the management of the committees selected, it is assured that each will be as attractive as it is possible to make it. If the plans discussed are carried out the principal attractions for the first evening will be the B. & M. band, an organization of which Plattsmouth is justly proud, and which is steadily gaining in excellence under the able direction of Mr. Schulhof.

The principal feature of the matinee program will be the singing of children, in music which will be selected and taught them by Miss Vallery. This will be an opportunity that no child in Plattsburgh, of the proper age, can afford to miss.

Married by Judge Beeson.
Harvey D. Jenkins of Lincoln and Miss Fannie Austin of Union, accompanied by Miss Della McQuinn, came up from Union on the morning train today and located the county judge's office, where license was asked for permitting the marriage of Mr. Jenkins and Miss Austin. Judge Beeson was invited to officiate, and in the presence of Miss McQuinn, John Cory, C. L. Graves and others the ceremony was performed. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white with slippers to match, while the groom was attired in black with white tie. After receiving the congratulations of those present Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins departed for the Perkins house, and later took the M. P. for Union. We have not the pleasure of the groom's acquaintance. The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of A. H. Austin of Union. The groom is a young business man of Lincoln and the prospects in life for the happy young couple are very bright. The Journal joins with their host of friends in wishing them happiness and prosperity.

Theo. L. Amick, from near Myrnard, was in the city last Saturday, and in conversation with him in regard to his father, D. L.
Amick's condition, who is in the hospital at Kansas City, he informs us that he is getting along nicely at this time. He is in the German hospital in that city, and the attending physician gives him every hope for a permanent recovery. Mr. Amick has been suffering from a severe stomach trouble for the past few months, and his many friends will be greatly pleased to learn that he is improving.

H. J. Stapleton will pack his household goods tomorrow preparatory to moving to Lincoln Wednesday, where he has accepted a position in the Burlington yards. We regret to lose him and his estimable family, but our loss will be Lincoln's gain.
