MYNARD.

(Special Correspondent.)

The bad condition of the roads has kept the farmers out of town, only a few coming in on horseback.

On account of the bad condition of the roads there was no services at the U. B. chapel Sunday evening.

George Snyder took in the capital city this week, and while there attended the banquet held in that city.

Our rural mail carrier makes part of his route on foot and considerable of the route has not been covered for some time.

R. L. Propst delivered a fine coal wagon, "Wynona make," to Nelson Jean recently. Nelson has embarked in the coal business in Plattsmouth.

George Snyder received a shipment of hay from the southern market this week, costing in the neighborhood of $20 per ton f. o. b. at Mynard.

Nelson Murray has decided to remain in the employ of the Jones Grain company. Nelson had sold most of his goods, intending to move to Washington.

Mrs. McCoy, after visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Trosper, of Hamburg, Iowa, for several months, has returned home. We are glad to welcome her among us again.

Mike Rys, the congenial blacksmith, says he is very tired of shoveling snow, but delights in trying himself on plow work. Judging from the appearance of his shop he has plenty of it to do.

Mrs. Ione Livingston of Wichita, Kansas, is visiting friends and relatives here for a few days. Mrs. Livingston is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Kiser of Wakeeney, Kansas, formerly of this county.

W. T. Richardson is having the interior of his general store building treated with a new coat of paint. This adds very much to the appearance. When the goods and stock are properly arranged a nicer and neater stock of goods will not be found in many towns twice the size of our little burg.

While in Omaha this week R. L. Propst called on John Scholtman and family, living at 2229 South Sixth street. John is well known here and in the vicinity of Murray, where he farmed for a number of years. At the present time he holds a responsible position with the Power & Healy Coal Co.

Our little village has again assumed normal conditions since the battle in our neighboring county, in which three lives were lost. While the escaped convicts were at large most every farm house and village had a watch out for them, as the news was wired over the county, "coming your way."

William Ficht and Lee Cole had an experience this week which they are not anxious to repeat again. While driving on the Louisville road two or three miles west of Plattsmouth in a sled, the team of horses almost disappeared in water. The snow had formed a dam, holding the water to the depth of five or six feet. With difficulty the horses were cut loose from the sled and taken from the water. Will and Lee declare it was the coldest bath they ever experienced. In order to free the horses both had to take to the water.

GUARDIAN'S SALE OF FARM LAND

Said sale will remain open one hour.

MARTIN L. RUBY,
Guardian.

Handsome Present.

France Ballance came over from Glenwood last Saturday evening for a Sunday visit with home folks, and brought with him a mighty handsome present for Mr. E. H. Schulhof, former leader of the Glenwood Institution band. The present was in the form of a piano tuning case, made by John Lynkey, one of the inmates of the institution. It was indeed a very handsome piece of work, containing numerous drawers and divisions for the various lines of goods, tools and repairs needed in Mr. Schulhof's line of work, and the attractiveness of the case surely displayed the workmanship of a mechanic. Mr. Lynkey had planned upon presenting the case to Mr. Schulhof for a Christmas gift, but some of the metal appliances, such as corner pieces, hinges, etc., were delayed in their arrival, and he was unable to complete it in time for Christmas. Mr. Schulhof resigned his position in Glenwood about one year ago, and the handsome present, coming at this time, simply displays the high regard in which he was held by the people of the institution, and especially among the members of the band. It will be highly prized by Mr. Schulhof.

EUGENE MAYFIELD A VERY SICK MAN

His Condition Is Very Alarming and Relatives Entertain but Little Hope for Recovery.

E. O. Mayfield, editor of the News-Herald, is a very sick man at his home in South Omaha. Mr. Mayfield has been very little in Plattsmouth for several months, having kept to his room closely, acting on the advice of his physician.

Saturday his case seemed to grow more alarming and his son, Claude, and brother, O. M., were summoned, going to his bedside. Sunday afternoon he appeared much better, and Claude returned to Plattsmouth, but on arriving a rumor had come over the wire that his father was dead. This was found to be untrue. But at 2 a. m. this morning Claude received a telephone message informing him that Mr. Mayfield was sinking.

The numerous friends in this city and county of Mr. Mayfield are exceedingly sorry that his health is in so serious a condition. He has always been considered one of the best newspaper men in this part of the state, and his presence in his editorial room has been sadly missed during the three or four months that he has been confined to his room. We sincerely hope that he may rally and recover his former health and vigor.

C. L. MARTIN, Robt. Wilkinson, Auctioneer, T. M. Patterson, Clerk.

Grover Dovey Improving. Grover Dovey, who was operated on last Thursday morning within an hour after arriving at the Clarkson hospital in Omaha, is reported as doing fine. His parents visited him yesterday and found him in good spirits and on the road to recovery. Dr. Davis, the surgeon and expert, who performed the operation, said he had never seen a case where the patient was as bad as Grover was rally and recuperate so rapidly as he is doing.

Clement Koke Returns. Clement Koke, who has been employed with the Burlington at Sheridan, Wyoming, for the past few months, has returned to this city. On account of the work being too heavy he was compelled to give up his position at that point. He is in hopes that after a few weeks' rest he will be able to take up his work in this city.

Straus Pepperberg's Funeral. The funeral of Straus Pepperberg was held from the residence of E. A. Schloss, 1121 D street, Lincoln, at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, with Rabbi Grederich Cohn in charge. Interment was made at Wyuka cemetery.

William Heinrichson spent Sunday with his family, departing on the early train for Omaha.
