INDIANS HELD BIG POW-WOW LAST NIGHT

Missouri Tribe of Red Men Enjoy a Most Delightful Time at Their Hall.

From Saturday's Daily.

The "dog feast" tendered the squaws and paposes of the noble Red Men by the Missouri tribe No. 79 last night was a great success. At about 7:30 the women and children began to arrive and were ushered to the lodge room upstairs, where they were entertained until the tribe had assembled. While this was being cared for by a specially appointed committee, the refreshment composed of "Chief Black Hawk" (J. C. York), "Gray Wolf" (John Mc-Nurlin) and "Gray Eagle" (William Gravett), assisted by chefs Jesse York and Charles Cline, two noble young braves were busy preparing Dr. Cook's dog for the banquet table and seeing that the faithful canine was roasted to a toothsome brown.

When the banquet table was prepared the squaws and paposes were invited to descend the stairs and assemble in the large dining hall. The menu for the ladies and children consisted of beef loaf, roast pork, pickles, hard boiled eggs, ice cream, coffee, cake, strawberries, apples and bananas.

It was near the hour of 9 o'clock when the banquet hall was opened and it was near the hour of midnight when the great chiefs and braves had tucked away under their hunting shirts the last delicious morsels of the doctor's Scotch collie. During the hours that the banquet was being served by four young braves, viz, Henry Lahoda, Jesse York, P. Sherlock and Bert Tulene, war dances were played by an orchestra composed of three other braves, namely, Olie Edmunds, Charles Cline and Gus Johnson. The music was fine and the same three braves were induced to play while the dance was put on after the tables were put aside. Piano numbers were also contributed by Miss Larsen and Mrs. Louise Lahoda and added much to the evening's enjoyment.

One of the features of the entertainment was vocal numbers furnished by the Red Men's choir, Lou Russell, leading soprano; J. C. York, first tenor; Ed Kruger, second tenor, and William Mendenhall, basso profunda. This strong musical organization rendered some of the heart-stirring melodies, such as "He's Got Another Papa on the Wabash Line," "Sweet Mary O'Grady" and other popular Indian airs, the mention of which brings tears to the eyes of the braves.

The best red lemonade which has been in town for years was brewed by Chef Cline and gallons of it disappeared during the evening. The function was the first at which the ladies and children of the members of the order have been invited to mingle with the Red Men at a feast. The enjoyment was all the keener when the guests realized what excellent cooks Jesse and Charley were, and without question they will only be too happy to accept another invitation to attend a like function. The occasion was one of the most enjoyable that has occurred in Plattsmouth in many moons. Those from out-of-town in attendance were: C. L. Graves and daughter, Matt McQuinn and wife, B. C. Tulane and Frank Finkle of Union, and George Huddleson and wife of Lincoln.

Sustains Badly Sprained Ankle.

While walking along the high-way intervening between the home of County Treasurer W. K. Fox and her own home, Miss Lucile Bates had the misfortune to turn her ankle, sustaining a bad sprain, the result, being that Miss Bates has been unable to walk since without the aid of a crutch and cane.

FACED DEATH TOGETHER.

Mr. and Mrs. Isidor Straus, Who Died Clashed In Each Other's Arms on Titanic.

No two victims of the Titanic horror have aroused more public interest and excited more admiration and honor than Mr. and Mrs. Isidor Straus of New York. Mrs. Straus climbed out of a lifeboat when she saw that her husband would not follow her because there were other women to be saved and stood by his side while the liner slowly went to her doom. His manliness and her self sacrifice form as touching a story as any of the whole disaster.

BODY OF STRAUS RECOVERED

That of Astor Is Also on Board of Cable Ship.

New York, April 27.—The bodies of Colonel John Jacob Astor and Isidor Straus, the millionaire merchant of this city, who lost their lives in the Titanic disaster, have been recovered and are on board the cable ship Mackay-Bennett. News of the recovery of the bodies was contained in a dispatch to the White Star line company.

The wireless dispatch which came to the company from the cable ship Mackay-Bennett gives the additional identifications of forty-nine of the heretofore unknown recovered dead on the cable ship. Among others the body of Colonel John Jacob Astor and Isidor Straus have been embalmed. Of the 295 dead on board the Mackay-Bennett, the names of ninety-one have been sent ashore by wireless.

BODY OF GEN. GRANT IS LAID TO REST

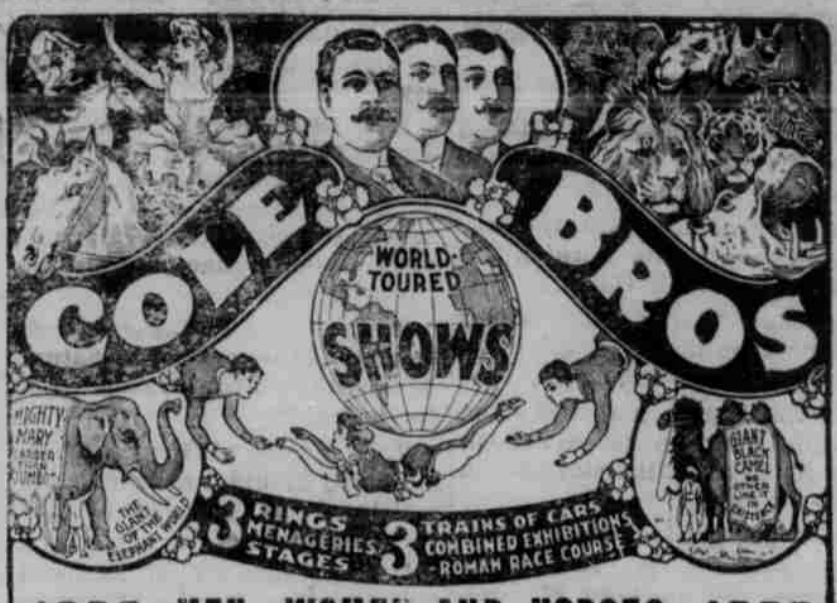

Funeral Exercises in New York and Interment at West Point.

New York, April 27.—Military men and men prominent in public and private life gathered here to pay the last solemn honors to Major General Frederick Dent Grant, who died here April 21. The services were held in the Chapel of Cornelius, the Centurion, on Governor's Island. The little chapel was too small to allow the admittance of the general public, but an opportunity was given to all New York to pay its tribute as the long military procession made its way to the tap of muffled drums over a five-mile line of march from the Battery to the West Shore ferry at Forty-second street. At the latter point the government orders provided for a special train to take the body to West Point for interment.

President Taft, Vice President Sherman and General Leonard Wood were perhaps the most distinguished persons who came to New York for the funeral. The general's immediate family was all present, including Mrs. Grant, her son, Captain U. S. Grant; her daughter, the Princess Cantacuzene, and the general's sister, Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris.

The pall bearers included Senator Root, Andrew Carnegie, Henry W. Taft, General Tasker H. Bliss, and others.

Bishop Samuel Fallows of Chicago and Chaplain E. B. Smith of Governor's Island had charge of the services in the chapel.

Worst Yet to Come.

In speaking of the condition of the river at Folsom, the Glenwood Tribune says: The cause given by rivermen for the change of the current is that a new bar is forming on the Nebraska side across from Folsom and is turning the current against the bank on this side. The bar is just far enough down stream to shoot the current in behind a dike a little ways below Folsom. The bar becomes more prominent each day, increasing the current against the Iowa side.

It is known that there is a base of rock jutting out from the foundation of the hills near the tracks at Folsom. The river will probably encounter that ledge and change its course before many more acres of land will be taken at that point.

Considerable fear is expressed that melting snow in the mountains near the source of the river will cause high water again this spring. Jack Thorp, well known about Pacific Junction, wrote to Claude Anderson of that place recently that there are huge drifts of snow in the mountains and that it is still snowing. Other reports are that little of the heavy snow of last winter has melted in the mountains. Should the drifts melt gradually, as usual, there is little to be feared.

==AUCTION SALE OF FIFTY IMPORTED PERCHERON and BELGIAN MARES and Several Colts at Cedar Rapids Jack Farm— TUESDAY, MAY 28th, 1912.

I will hold my Fifth Blue Ribbon Sale of high-class Imported Percheron and Belgian mares, TUESDAY, MAY 28th. My buyer has been in Europe for six months selecting these mares especially for this sale, and they are positively the best lot of imported mares ever offered in America. Some of these mares already have colts at side, but mare and colt will be sold together. I will also offer a few yearlings and two year old stallions and a few imported three year olds; also a few choice Jacks will be sold. The Percheron Society of France has closed the books for mares, and only a few can yet be imported. They are stopping it as fast as they can. This sale will be just about your last opportunity to get imported mares from France. Write for bills. Catalogues will be ready as soon as last mares come.

Uncle Tommie Wiles Injured.

From Saturday's Daily.

In returning from his farm west of the city with a load of corn last evening, Uncle Tommie Wiles met with an accident that will at least lay him up for several days. As he was coming down a steep place in the road on Maiden Lane, near the greenhouse, one of the wheels of the wagon ran into a chuck hole and threw him to the ground, and in alighting he fell so that one of the hubs of the wagon raked him on the back, injuring that part of the body considerably. The fall also bruised Uncle Tommie considerably on other parts of the body. A telephone message from his home this morning states that the old gentleman is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. His back is pretty sore, but he thinks he will get along all right, feeling that he was very fortunate that his injuries are no worse. The Journal hopes Uncle Tommie will be around again soon.

Gets New Location.

Ralph A. Duff has purchased the two lots adjoining Sargeant & Rice, opposite the Frontier hotel, and as soon as the buildings can be removed will begin the erection of a large building in which will be located his carburetor factory. It was formerly intended to build the factory on the lot east of the M. E. Smith & Co. factory, but Mr. Duff thought these lots were a better location. It is understood that work on the factory will begin in a short time. —Nebraska City News.

Court at the Depot.

Agent Harry Thomas' office had the appearance of a miniature court room Wednesday forenoon, being the place of taking depositions in the case of Clarence L. Young vs. Western Union Telegraph company, a $5,000 damage suit pending in the circuit court at Kansas City. The "court" was Jack M. Patterson, notary public; Miss Verna Graves, stenographer; John R. Pierson occupied the witness stand, and Attorney Edwin Camack of Kansas City appeared for defendant. The work was completed just in time for Mr. Camack to catch his train.—Union Ledger.
