

BRECKINRIDGE STOCK COMPANY PRESENTS BEAUTIFUL SOUTHERN STORY

"Down Where the Cotton Blossoms Grow" Pleases Large Audience at the Parmele Theater as the Company are Splendid Actors and Always Delightful in Their Acting.

The Breckenridge Stock company was greeted by a very respectable audience at the Parmele last night to witness that beautiful play of the old south, "Down Where the Cotton Blossoms Grow." And to say the large audience was well pleased but half expresses it. Harry Smith, as Richard Boone Stanbury, son of Old Kentucky, was a character well presented by Mr. Smith, who is an up-to-date actor. Bertha Renner, as Marian Chandler, a Louisiana heiress, held the reputation already established in Plattsmouth as a most clever actress and played her part to perfection and most pleasingly to those present. Eva Lappin, in the character of Tassie Chandler, a Southern Rosebud, as usual, played the part most charmingly. She is also very clever in all her parts and in this one she did exceptionally well. Maud Folsom, in the character of Anastasia Lovejoy, a Yankee school mar'm, acted her part to perfection and demonstrated more than ever that she was an accomplished actress. This article would not be complete at all did we not mention

Charles Breckenridge as G. Whitaker, a Yankee lawyer, who, of course, played the part to perfection, and it could readily be seen that he had captured the audience by the demonstrations made every time he appeared.

The play was one of the best ever produced here and the company, in its entirety, deserves great credit for the manner in which it was presented. The entire cast is a capable one, and to say the least, there is not a poor actor with the company. Tonight will be presented "Nebraska," and as the scenes of this great comedy are nearer home, should call forth an immense audience. The price of admission—10, 20 and 30 cents—is within the reach of all, and no amusement-loving lady or gentleman in Plattsmouth and vicinity can afford to remain away.

The Breckenridge company is deserving, because their plays are all first-class and every lady and gentleman of the cast are first-class artists. Don't fail to attend, and buy your tickets early in the evening and have them reserved at the Hotel Riley.

Pleasant Birthday Surprise.

Tuesday evening, April 30, Mr. Fred Spangler was made the victim of a very pleasant surprise party, which had been very secretly planned by his estimable wife in honor of his 37th birthday anniversary, all unknown to him. When the large company of neighbors and friends entered the Spangler home and greeted him with "surprise," he was very much surprised, but in the meantime invited the jolly company into the Spangler home and soon made them feel at home. The evening hours were devoted to all sorts of amusements calculated to make the occasion a most delightful one, these amusements being interspersed with conversation, the leading topic for the ladies being "incubators," and for the men "Teddy." An excellent luncheon, consisting of coffee, sandwiches, pickles, ice cream, cake and bananas, was served. It was a late hour when all wished Mr. Spangler many more happy returns of the day and dispersed. Those in attendance were: Messrs. and Mesdames B. W. Livingston and family, L. W. Nelson and family, S. A. Wiles and family, Oscar Gopen and family, Glen Perry, Arthur Troop, Ed Spangler, Grove Livingston and family, Joe Wiles, Cyrus Livingston of Weeping Water, Misses Nettie and Tillie Kaufman, Tony Janda, Rachel and Jennie Livingston, Mrs. E. S. Mason, Messrs. Ben Horning, Glen Wiles, R. W. Wright, John Kaufman, Claude Riggs, Julius Pitz.

Sheriff Hyers Bound Over.

The preliminary hearing of Sheriff Gus Hyers of Lancaster county and Chief of Police Briggs of South Omaha was completed yesterday at Papillion. The case against Deputy Fire Warden Trouton was dismissed, but after hearing the evidence and argument of attorneys, the examining magistrate held Sheriff Hyers and Chief Briggs for manslaughter in connection with the killing of Roy Blunt, a young Sarpy county farmer, at the time the officers were trying to effect the capture of escaped convicts. According to the testimony, Blunt was killed by a gun held either by Briggs or Hyers, so these men were held, each in the sum of $2,500, which bond they gave at once.

YOUNG LADY MEETS WITH BAD ACCIDENT

Miss Mary Hobscheidt Seriously Injured in Omaha Yesterday While Going to Depot.

Miss Mary Hobscheidt, who had been teaching near Kenosha and had just finished her school, met with an unfortunate accident yesterday afternoon in Omaha. Miss Hobscheidt and Miss Anna Moreley went to Omaha yesterday, and in boarding a street car, or alighting from one, as the young ladies were making their way up town to the Burlington station, Miss Hobscheidt was struck by a passing car, or fell from a moving car, it is not certain which, and was rendered unconscious. It is supposed the young ladies were going to the station to catch No. 14, as the phone message of the accident was not received by Miss Hobscheidt's parents until about 9 o'clock. The message came from Miss Moreley and only stated that Miss Hobscheidt was injured and in a semi-conscious condition and gave no details of how the accident happened.

The unfortunate young lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hobscheidt, and Mrs. William Morley left for Omaha on the first train this morning. Mr. Hobscheidt understood that his daughter had been taken to St. Joseph's hospital and that Miss Moreley was with her, but he tried for over an hour last evening, from 11 to 12 o'clock, to get in telephonic communication with Miss Morley, but failed to do so. He was under the impression that his daughter was very seriously if not fatally injured.

Since the above was put in type Mr. and Mrs. Hobscheidt, accompanied by Miss Moreley and her mother, brought Miss Hobscheidt home on No. 24. The young lady was able to walk to the back by being assisted by Miss Moreley.

The accident occurred near the Burlington station at Omaha and was the fault of the motorman starting the car before the passengers had all alighted. Miss Hobscheidt was thrown backward, falling on the pavement with such force as to render her unconscious. A gentleman on the car sprang to her assistance, and in doing so broke his own arm, but with his other hand pulled Miss Hobscheidt out of danger of being run over by the car wheels. The injured lady was taken to a nearby drug store and an ambulance sent for, when she was removed to St. Catherine hospital.
