Mrs. Abbott entitles her story "Captain Martha Mary," and she writes under the pen name of "Avery Abbott." The plot is laid in Omaha and the characters drawn are true to the metropolis of the west. From a letter recently received by Mrs. A. L. The family like the west, are all well and prosperous, but often have heartaches to see old Nebraska.

BURLINGTON RAILROAD WINS ITS FIGHT

Burlington Wins Fight Temporarily, and Now Fighting for the Future.

While the Burlington railroad people won in their fight against the Missouri river at Folsom, it may result in only a temporary victory, although the company has begun carrying out a plan for permanent work that will cost it $250,000, and will require several months to complete.

Seventy carloads of stone and willows, the latter tied together in a long mat with wire, are being dumped into the river each day. A gang of 150 men, one-half working nights and the other half days, is on the job. Trainmaster Hughes and Contractor Marshal Rust of St. Louis are superintending the work.

The hole to be filled is from 20 to 100 feet deep, and extends over 100 feet from the river bank and is over a quarter of a mile long. It will require 7,000,000 cubic feet of rock to fill the hole and make a dike that can be regarded as absolutely safe. In the company's desire to get rock quickly every available supply has been requisitioned, and yesterday the workmen were astonished to see a train pull in with the cars loaded with cement blocks from eight to fifteen feet long, eight feet wide and nearly two feet thick, which were deposited in the abyss by the giant derrick. The blocks were intended for bridge construction, but had been condemned.

THE CROP KILLERS ARE VERY BUSY

Nevertheless, Small Grain Prospects in Nebraska Are Excellent.

"The crop killers are busy, but they will have to work hard to kill the Nebraska small grain crop," said L. B. Allen, general superintendent of the Burlington railroad. "I have spent the most of the time during the past three weeks out on the lines of the Nebraska district, and have covered every line in the district in that time. My observation leads me to estimate more than a normal crop, with conditions above the normal in most places. On some of the tip ends of our Kansas lines, where they had no crop last year, considerable damage has been done, but the situation there is much better than it was a year ago. While the acreage of winter wheat along the Sioux City-O'Neill line is light, the conditions are excellent and a big yield will be secured there. In other places where damage has been reported I think it has been exaggerated. There is some little damage, but it is not great in any locality nor general enough over the district to be serious."

The usual amount of grain is in transit now, but the high prices have not called out a rush of business. There is still a considerable surplus in the hands of farmers.

The Lincoln Journal adds: Division Freight Agent J. J. Cox, who returned from Hastings yesterday afternoon, said that for the most part Nebraska winter wheat looks good. He thinks the territory showing most damage along Burlington lines is that between Lincoln and Hastings. He heard that west of Hastings winter wheat conditions are much better than east of that place.

Bold Burglars.

Sunday morning when E. W. Keedy, manager of the Thygeson drug store, entered his place of business he discovered that he had been visited by customers some time during Saturday night, names and present whereabouts unknown to the police force. As near as Mr. Keedy can figure the "forced sale" was two boxes of cigars and a few small articles. The burglars also tapped the cash register, which netted them $3 in cash, but their attempt to open the safe was unsuccessful, although there was evidence that they made efforts to do so. Burned matches scattered over the floor showed that the burglars had "some light on the subject," and that's just what Mr. Keedy would like to have. The burglars entered at the front door by forcing it open, which was a very easy task, as the catch at the bottom of the door failed to do its duty. It is supposed that the parties who turned this trick were well acquainted with the premises, either by residence in the vicinity or by loitering about town and sizing up the situation during the day. This reminds us again of the fact often mentioned by the Ledger that people and property are never safe so long as tramps are allowed to prowl about the town. The treasury can well afford the expense of officers to give special attention to the tramp nuisance, and we have given several lectures upon this subject—but what's the use?—Union Ledger.

Sold Mule Footed Hogs.

A. L. Becker of Union, Neb., marketed yesterday a shipment of mule footed hogs good enough to sell close to the top. There were about 4 head in the carload. These hogs were raised in his neighborhood by a man who makes a specialty of this strange breed of swine. "It is claimed for these hogs that they are immune from hog cholera and kindred hog diseases," said Mr. Becker. "So far as those in that neighborhood are concerned they have stood the test and have not been afflicted with hog diseases."—Kansas City Telegram.

New Singer in Town.

From Saturday's Daily. William Jonas Brown and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a new baby girl, which the stork was kind enough to leave at their home on circus day. This is the second daughter for Papa William Jonas and he is as happy as a clam at high tide. Long may the little lady live to be a source of joy and pride to her fond parents.

P. H. Tritsch and wife of near Cullom motored to Plattsmouth yesterday and looked after the week-end shopping.

C.E. Wescott's Sons

ALWAYS THE HOME OF SATISFACTION!

Goes to Havelock.

From Saturday's Daily. The Lincoln Journal of this morning contains the following: "The Havelock Commercial club has closed a deal with the Budig cigar factory at Plattsmouth to move to Havelock. The factory now employs members of three families and is expected to grow in its new location." While the Journal regrets the removal of this factory from Plattsmouth, yet, considering the number of cigar factories in this city, we think the move is a wise one. Plattsmouth is one of the greatest cigar manufacturing cities of its size in the west, and still retains a number of factories, all of which are doing a good business.

May Be New Firm.

W. P. Cook, the barber, will work for J. C. York in his barber shop tomorrow and help Mr. York take care of the rush of business which comes with circus day. It is probable that a new firm of barbers will look after the increasing trade of the York barber shop soon, the firm name and style of the new concern, if it starts up, will be York & Cook. Both gentlemen are experienced barbers and popular with the trade and would make a strong team in the business.

Cutting Arch at Dovey Store.

The improvements at the E. G. Dovey & Son's store are progressing nicely, the latest improvement is a large arch cut from the dry goods department into the room formerly occupied by the grocery department. This will practically convert the two west rooms into one large dry goods and carpet emporium and will make one of the finest store rooms in the city.

Injured Hand Severely.

From Saturday's Daily. Connie Grebe, the baggageman at the Burlington station, had the misfortune yesterday while loading in a stock car, to have the index finger of his left hand badly pinched. Connie is a plucky fellow and not easily intimidated by pain, and continued right along with his work, refusing to consult the surgeon, but dressed the wounded finger himself.

J. J. Toman looked after business matters in the metropolis this morning, going on No. 15.

LEGAL ADVERTISING.

The following section of a law regarding the disposition or placing of legal advertising in newspapers was passed by the Nebraska legislature of 1909, and we desire the friends of the Journal to make a note of its provisions and govern themselves accordingly: "That from and after the passage and approval of this act it shall be the lawful right of any plaintiff or petitioner in any suit, action or proceeding, pending or prosecuted in any of the district courts of this state, in which it is necessary to publish in a newspaper any notice or copy of an order, growing out of, or connected with such action or proceeding either by himself or his attorney of record, to designate in what newspaper such notice or copy of order shall be published. And it shall be the right of the widow, widower, or a majority of the heirs-at-law of legal age, of the estate of any deceased intestate or the widow, widower, or a majority of the legatees or devisees of lawful age, of the estate of deceased testator, to designate the newspaper in which the notices pertaining to the settlement of the estates of such deceased persons shall be published. And it shall be the duty of the judges of the district court, county judges or any other officer charged with the duty of ordering, directing or superintending the publication of any of such notices, or copies of orders, to strictly comply with such designations, when made in accordance with the provisions of this act."

We want the friends of the Journal throughout Cass county to understand that when they have district court notices or county court notices to publish they are empowered with the right to designate the paper in which such notices shall be published.
