THE ADVERTISING THAT SURELY PAYS

Wise Purchaser of Merchandise
Pays Little Attention to Bill
Board Offerings.

The feeling against disfigurement of country and woodland scenes is growing every year. As town and cities become more thickly populated, people get more and more weary of brick walls and suggestions of commercialism on every hand. They long for green grass, spreading shade trees and beauty spots where thoughts of business are far away.

Bursting in one this mood with a staring bill board is much as if you sent a salesman up to a man's house when he was in bed and trying to sleep. He would be more likely to throw a boot out of his chamber window than come down and buy some of your goods. When the traveler sees an advertising sign along a pretty country road, his first impulse is to take a club and smash it, rather than to buy some of the merchandise there offered.

It is the beauty of newspaper advertising that it never offends. It is omnipresent, picked up and read at a time and place when the people are in the mood to think about business, and at times when they are not in a mood for business, it is not thrust upon them.

HIGH WAGES VS. THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

Theory That High Cost of Living
Goes Hand-in-Hand With High Wages Is a Mistake.

The idea that high cost of living goes hand-in-hand with high wages, and that liberal spending makes good times is a pretty theory, but it doesn't fool the housewife for a minute. It may fool the man for a moment, but it can't fool the men's wives for they who keep house know more about living, more about buying and more about the narrow margin than does the secretary of the treasury. A woman is wise enough to see that while the increased cost of living is palpable and genuine, the increase of income exists only in promises—is like the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. What the woman feels instinctively is well supported by reasoning. Increase of price does not mean increase of business; it means less business. It brings no more wealth into existence; it results in less production. It brings no more money into circulation; it drives it out of circulation. If anybody is to be better off as the result of mere increase in prices it is at the expense of somebody else.

All who have for sale commodities the prices of which they can fix themselves may hold high carnival over-charging one another and imagining they are getting rich by the bootstrap-lifting process. But the millions who have for sale the commodity upon which they themselves cannot fix the price—labor—get the worst of it all around. So high prices do not insure either brisk business or good wages. Even in most of the great trusts there is a contraction of expenditure.

The cost of the soup, of the meat, of the bread, of the coal, of the shoes for the children, of the blankets, of the clothing for the family, counts in the domestic economy, particularly when it comes out of a man's brawn and blood. A time when living expenses shall again be cheap is the prayer of millions of mothers of families in this land.

It would surprise you to know of the great good that is being done by Chamberlain's Tablets, Darius Downey, of Newberg Junction, N. B., writes: "My wife has been using Chamberlain's Tablets and finds them very effectual and doing her lots of good." If you have any trouble with your stomach or bowels give them a trial. ### Funeral of A. L. Buzzell.

The funeral of Artemas Lee Buzzell, a former well known Plattsmouth citizen, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Clark, at Corning, Iowa, Monday morning occurred this morning at 10 o'clock from the Christian church, Rev. Zink conducting the service. Mr. Buzzell was born in Steukin county, New York, seventy-four years ago, where he grew to manhood, coming west when a young man and settling in Iowa, where he was married to Miss Mary Pratt, who preceded him to the better world seventeen years ago. He enlisted in the United States army and served in Company H, Iowa volunteer infantry, and was a member of the G. A. R. post of this city for many years. The service at the grave was conducted by the G. A. R. of this city.

There never was a time when people appreciated the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy more than now. This is shown by the increase in sales and voluntary testimonials from persons who have been cured by it. If you or your children are troubled with a cough or cold give it a trial and become acquainted with its good qualities. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Autoed in From Center.

Thomas Keckler, August Krecklow, F. H. Stander, C. Mockenhaupt and Andrew Schleifert, all from Center precinct, near Manley and Wabash, were in the city a few hours today, driving down in the big automobile of Mr. Stander. These gentlemen are all among the prosperous farmers of Center and are great advocates of the good roads proposition, and this trip was made to meet with the county commissioners today for the betterment of the roads in their locality. All of these gentlemen are readers of the Journal, and of course paid this office a brief call, the four former gentlemen renewing for another year.

Entertained at Felzer Home.

The ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church held their regular meeting yesterday afternoon, being very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Joseph Felzer by Mesdames William Schmidtman and Felzer. During their usual business session, which the ladies always hold at these meetings, they planned for a supper to be given Thursday, June 6, this supper to be served in cafeteria style. Another feature of the business session was the distribution of the year books. There being no further business the ladies adjourned for their social time. An hour or so was most delightfully spent in social conversation, sewing and the like. At a convenient time a dainty luncheon was provided by the hostesses. There was a large number in attendance.

Accepts Good Position.

Mrs. F. C. Weber has received a communication from Mr. Weber, who is well and happy and for the present located at Vulcan, Michigan. Mr. Weber has accepted the position of general manager of the International Construction company of Michigan, which is engaged in electrical construction in mine haulage and doing business principally in the Iron river district, but has offices in different cities. Until Mr. Weber decides in which city he will take up his residence, Mrs. Weber and son will remain with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Scotlen, in this city. Mr. Weber severed his relations with the water company here some time ago, and their numerous friends regret to see them depart from the city and they will be greatly missed by their large circle of friends.

Beer Thief Vamosed.

Sheriff Quinton went to Syracuse Monday night to bring back the party connected with the removal of fifteen cases of Ed Donat's beer from his cold storage plant early last Sunday morning. The sheriff of Atchison county, Missouri, got the young man who saw the cases of beer removed from the ice house to the circus train and the boy was to point out the man to Sheriff Quinton when he arrived in Syracuse. The guilty party was the "take off" man with the show, his duties being to take the wagons from the train on arrival at their destination. As soon as the Missouri sheriff secured the evidence of guilt, the "take off" man departed the circus and did not accompany it back to Nebraska, and Sheriff Quinton returned this morning without the prisoner.

Mayor Dahlman Elected.

Mayor Dahlman and his associates on the "Square Deal" ticket, swept the platter in Omaha yesterday by most decisive majorities. Some of those fellows up there thought if they could get the commission form of government for that city they could lay Mayor Jim in the shade. But they were reckoning against a host, and he came through as head man in the race and will still serve in the capacity of mayor. They may down Jim Dahlman for governor by the treachery of former friends in the state, but in Omaha he is yet "all wool and a yard wide" with a big majority of the people of the metropolis of Nebraska.

Change of Venue.

Sheriff Hyers of Lancaster county and Chief of Police John Briggs of South Omaha were arraigned Tuesday in district court at Papillion in Sarpy county, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Roy Blunt. Both pleaded not guilty. Motions for a separate trial and for a change of venue were filed by Sheriff Hyers. The court granted the request for separate trials for the two defendants, but has not yet ruled on the motion for change of venue. The county attorney was given until May 15 to file objections to the motion for a change of venue.

"All Fagged Out."

In our account of several Plattsmouth people attending a ball game in Omaha Sunday we overlooked one of the party, R. Glen Rawls, who became so fatigued with the trip that he could get no nearer the ball game than Twenty-eighth and Burt streets, but he recovered enough to return home that night and is now busily selling Quality clothes at the Home of Satisfaction.
