Large crowds are attending the theatrical performance by the Raes at the opera house this week and closing Saturday night. An overhauled gas engine set fire to a small quantity of oil on the basement floor Wednesday night and caused some excitement and the temporary exit of the crowd, but no damage was done.

Proclamation.

Plattsmouth, May 20, 1912. Whereas, On the 30th of this month, commonly known as Decoration Day, we pay a tribute to those brave men who, in the dire days of 1860 and 1864 rose in the defense of liberty and the Union, I am calling on the patriotic people of our city to make the celebration this year one that will not soon be forgotten. The soldiers are passing to the Great Beyond at the rate of 100 a day. Let us show those who remain with us that we are truly appreciative of what the republic owes them and their comrades-in-arms.

To this end I urgently urge all places of business to remain closed from the hour of 9 till 10:30 that all of our citizens may attend the public meeting and listen to the address by our townsman, Rev. Mr. Gade, and the other short exercises that will be held. After the services at the church are concluded let all whose duties will permit proceed to the cemetery and assist in the decoration of the graves. This will take but a short time, giving all the afternoon to other pursuits, and I feel that it is both a duty and a privilege in which all good citizens should be interested. John P. Sattler, Mayor.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Engelke-meier and two children were Plattsmouth visitors last Saturday, driving up from their home, west of Murray. This is Mr. Engelke-meier's first visit to Plattsmouth for the past year. They paid the Journal office a brief call.

Peter Keil Dangerously Injured.

Last Saturday afternoon while driving his horse and buggy into town Uncle Peter Keil was thrown from his buggy and received injuries which have placed him in the doctor's hands since. The accident occurred when his horse became unmanageable, being frightened at an approaching automobile, and started to run, overturning the buggy and throwing Mr. Keil to the ground with considerable force. The right side of his face was badly bruised and he was badly shaken up. John McNurlin picked Mr. Keil up and brought him to Dr. Livingston's office, where his injuries were dressed and he was taken to his home, where he was made as comfortable as possible under the circumstances.

Fatally Injured at Junction.

Jacob Deshong and wife of Nebraska City changed cars here this morning, going to Pacific Junction to see Mrs. Deshong's son, Ernest Harrington, whom they supposed had fallen from the midnight south-bound K. C. train last night. Mr. Deshong received a message about 4 a. m. today telling him to come at once if he wished to see his stepson alive. The young man is 20 years of age, a cigar maker by trade, and left Nebraska City Saturday for Omaha, expecting to return this morning and assist Mr. Deshong operate his saw-mill for a few days. The message gave no particulars of how the young man was injured.

At the Presbyterian Church.

The morning service at the Presbyterian church yesterday was of unusual interest. The pastor, Rev. Gade, gave a strong discourse from the text, "As a bird wandereth from its nest, so is a man that wandereth from his place." Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waugh and Miss Della White were received into the church. The special music consisted of an anthem sung by the choir, "Jerusalem," by Parks-Reese, and contralto and soprano solos by Miss Mathilda Valley and Miss Catherine Dovey, "He Shall Feed His Flocks" and "Come Unto Me," from Handel's "Messiah."

Entertained Last Evening.

Edgar Steinhauer entertained a few of his friends at his home last evening in honor of his guest, Charles Bell, of Burlington, Iowa, who has been here on a visit for a few days. Vocal and instrumental music and talk furnished the entertainment for his guests. At midnight a delicious luncheon was served, and at 1:30 a. m. the party escorted Charles to the Burlington station, where he boarded No. 10 for his home. Our friend, Charles, holds a good position with the C. B. & Q. in his home city.

Decided for Plaintiff.

Judge Archer handed down a decision Saturday in the case of J. L. Stull vs. Mrasek, giving the plaintiff the full amount for which he had sued, namely $149. The evidence of plaintiff showed that he had sold defendant the hay after he had looked the stack over; that he had offered defendant for $25 per ton, or the stack on the bottom for $17 per ton, and the defendant selected the latter, but later refused to pay for it.

Long Needed.

The city council of Plattsmouth has decided to buy an old brick livery stable for a city hall. But it is a good building, in a good location and when remodeled will make a fine headquarters for the city government. Plattsmouth has always needed a city building and the fact that they are now proceeding to get it is prima facie evidence that the old burg is prospering.—Lincoln Herald.

ARGUMENT IN CASES IMPORTANT TO IOWA

Glucose Concerns Attack Rates on Corn Products.

Washington, May 18.—Arguments were presented before the Interstate commerce commission in two cases of importance to Iowa.

One of them is the case of the traffic bureau of the Sioux City Commercial club vs. Anderson and Saline River Railway company. This involves an attack by the traffic bureau of the lumber rates from the south and southwestern points to Sioux City, which are declared to be unreasonable. Sioux City people are seeking the Des Moines and Omaha lumber rate of 25 cents, against a present rate of 30 cents.

The other case is the state of Iowa, the Clinton Sugar Refining company and J. C. Hubinger Brothers' company and Joekuk vs. the Atlantic Coast line and a large number of eastern roads. In this case the state and the companies named are attacking rates on corn products, more especially glucose.

It is alleged that Iowa concerns are compelled to pay exorbitant rates in comparison with rates charged eastern concerns, particularly the Corn Products Refining company, which has Standard Oil affiliations and which has numerous plants in different parts of the country.

George T. Bell of Sioux City is here representing the traffic club. In the glucose case Judge Henderson and C. A. Robbins are here for the state, A. H. Kierstine and J. O. Holloson for the Clinton company and Hugh W. Green of Keokuk for Hubinger Brothers.

Homestead Bill Still in Conference.

Washington, May 20.—The Borah bill is still in conference awaiting an agreement by the senate conferees, if such agreement can be reached. It is not all unlikely that the conference committee will disagree. Representative Mondell of the house conferees said concerning the measure: "If the people of the west will stand by their conferees, a three-year homestead bill can be eventually obtained without surrendering to the impossible demand of those whose real purposes are to retain so far as is possible, all land titles in the federal government."

If a man doesn't know when to stop he acquires a wife who will tell him.

SYMPATHY IS GIVEN OFFICERS

Trouble Among Cadets Caused by Early Morning Hike.

GLOD STRIKES COMMANDANT.

Confusion Among Two Companies Arouses Considerable Doubt as to Whether Officers Disciplined Were Guilty—Dixiean Divides School Fund.

Lincoln, May 20.—With the return to the city of the university cadets the facts concerning the events which led up to the court-martial and request for the swords of Captain Vaa and Lieutenants Wood and Kennedy are coming out and much sympathy is expressed for the three officers and a movement is already on foot to obtain their reinstatement.

The trouble all appears to have started over a hike ordered by Commandant Yates. The evening before the cadets had danced until a late hour, the occasion being the hop which was the closing and prime social feature of the encampment. This following a strenuous time in camp, at which the regulations had been much more strict than common, found the embryo soldiers both tired and in a somewhat ruffled frame of mind. When the signal was unexpectedly given for a hike at 2 a. m. there were mutterings of discontent, which grew louder as the march progressed.

Two Companies Mixed Up.

The company over which the accused officers had command became mixed up with another through the medium of the darkness and a barbed wire fence, and just about this time Commandant Yates walked back down the line. He heard some decidedly uncomplimentary remarks concerning himself and also noticed the disorder incident to the entanglement with the wire fence. He called the officers to one side and was talking to them when some of the privates heaved a few clods in his direction, one of them striking the commandant. It was for this disorder that the officers were brought to book on a charge of failure to maintain order in their company.

The students say it is by no means certain that the uncomplimentary remarks or the clods were hurled by members of the company of the accused, but that the members of another company took occasion of the mix up to turn the trick from the ranks of the accused company.

Liquidation Favored.

Auditor Barton has made some figures comparing the relative advantages of liquidation as opposed to receiverships. In the case of the German Fire insurance company of Omaha the examination of Feb. 22, 1912 showed the stock impaired $67,440.33 and some of the reserve investment in second rate securities. Instead of placing the company in the hands of a receiver the department and the directors entered into an agreement with the National of Hartford that all new business written by the German would automatically be reinsured in the National, but all the salaries and rent of the German should be eliminated, the National taking care of the business for the plant. The results so far have been encouraging. The company has its natural reserve and, with no expense for a receiver, if normal conditions prevail in the fire loss, not only will the policyholders be protected, but the stockholders will receive from 50 to 75 per cent of their stock. If the final results are as satisfactory as promised it is likely the legislature will be asked to pass a law providing this method of winding up concerns.

Delzell Divides State School Money

State Superintendent Delzell has made the apportionment of the temporary school fund to the various counties of the state. The total distributed is $342,015.56 and amounts to 90.8 cents per scholar, the school census showing 376,667 of school age in the state. For the first time fish and game licenses show as a considerable item in the school fund, amounting to $25,862.

Woman Suffers Attack.

Hartford Reed, who was released from the penitentiary since the killing of Deputy Warden Davis in February bids fair to return. He was brought in from Valparaiso and lodged in jail by Sheriff Myers, charged with attacking Mrs. Maud Yost, a widow residing near Raymond, this county. Mrs. Yost, according to the story, was left unconscious by her assailant.

The fifth annual state championship debate of the Nebraska High School Debating league, held in Lincoln, was won by Jesse L. Ertel of the Geneva high school, representative of the central district. Second honors were awarded to Augustus Helmig of the Wymore high school and third honors to Arthur Ackerman of the Lincoln high school.

$5,000 Loss Caused by Incendiary Fire

Omaha, May 20.—The work of a fire bug is believed to have caused a $5,000 fire at Eighteenth and Cass streets when the two-story building occupied by the Flanagan blacksmith shop and the Duffy tin works burned.

STEAMER SEIZED IN HARBOR

Santona Held for Carrying Arms Contrary to Proclamation.

New Orleans, May 20.—The Montes line steamship Santona was seized in the harbor here by the United States revenue cutter Davey, charged with violating the terms of President Taft's proclamation of March 14, prohibiting the shipment of arms and ammunition to Mexico. The Santona, which had cleared and sailed for Progreso, Mexico, had on board 110,000 rounds of rifle ammunition and ten cases of carbines.

Agents of the steamship company produced copies of the consular bills of lading showing that the war munitions aboard the Santona were consigned to the governor of the state of Campeche, Mexico. The ship's manifest filed at the custom house did not include these munitions.

Captain Manson of the cutter Davey placed a crew aboard the Santona and the steamer will be detained pending receipt of instructions from Washington.

REBELS RETREATING IN FACE OF FEDERALS

Move Postpones Expected Engagement at Rellano.

El Paso, May 20.—A northward retreat of the Mexican rebels in the face of the slowly advancing federal army removed by at least two days the expected engagement in the vicinity of Rellano. Advances from the rebel front at Escalon said insurgents were falling back on their stronghold at Rellano, eleven miles north, burning bridges and otherwise hindering an advance of the federals.

The main column of the federals moved up closer to its vanguard at Zavala. Juarez garrison is rapidly being reinforced by troops from the south. Federal columns which are supposed to be threatening Juarez have advanced no closer. Major Sanchez, who commands the federals near there, sent out scouting parties to within twenty miles of Juarez, opposite Clint, Tex. Anticipating possible activity along the border, such as the crossing of armed bands of Mexicans from the American side to head off the advancing federals, orders were given the American border patrol to let no armed men pass from either side.

POWER RIGHT CASE IS UP

Irrigation Board Convenes and Decides Interests Are Jockeying.

Lincoln, May 20.—The irrigation board convened to hear the contest between Koenig and Babcock over water rights on the Loup river. From indications there is considerable jockeying going on in these power right propositions and while the board is perfectly willing to have them settle differences which are private it does not like the idea of the interests of the public being held up while interested parties are maneuvering for position.

Little Boy Saves Life of Another.

Broken Bow, Neb., May 20.—Through the heroism of a nine-year old boy, the small son of C. H. Harbaugh of this city was saved from drowning. It appears that three little boys, one of them being the son of A. L. Ford, went to the Swope ice pond to fish. Becoming tired of the sport, the three-year-old Harbaugh boy climbed to the top of the ice chute and, losing his balance, slid down the incline into deep water. Without hesitation the Ford boy jumped into the water and with great difficulty succeeded in getting his little companion to shore.

Enraged Boarder Attacks Aged Clerk.

Omaha, May 20.—While Henry Fuester, the aged day clerk of the Burlington hotel, lay sleeping on a bench in the hotel office, Charles Isler, a mechanic employed by the Union Pacific, crept up behind and struck him a blow on the forehead with a gas pipe, fracturing his skull so badly that he died. Immediately following Isler took his grip, which was being held as security for a board bill, and which was the motive for the attack, and boarded a train for Cheyenne. Isler was arrested at Grand Island.

Flege Denied New Trial.

Pender, Neb., May 20.—Judge Graves overruled the motion of attorneys for William Flege for a new trial and sentenced the man, who was convicted of killing his sister, Louise Flege, to a term of from one to ten years in the state penitentiary. Flege will be taken to Lincoln today. His attorneys announced that the case will be taken to the supreme court on a writ of error.
