NIGHT OPERATOR HELD UP AND ROBBED

J. F. Purdy of the Missouri Pacific at Weeping Water Robbed of Fifty Dollars.

Last Sunday night J. F. Purdy, the night operator for the Missouri Pacific, while on his way to the depot, was knocked down and robbed of $53 of his savings.

He was going to work between 11 and 12 o'clock, just before the passenger's arrival. A man he passed by the laundry followed him and when the operator was opposite the Marshall elevator, another man appeared. The first call out "Hey, there." Purdy turned to look, and the second man struck him over the head. They carried him back from the walk, relieved him of his money, and left him unconscious.

It was thought to be two strangers who had purchased tickets for Nebraska City a few minutes previous to the hold-up. But they were not on the train when it reached that town. Mr. Purdy was struck twice, a bruise showing on his forehead and one on the side of the head. They gagged him with his own handkerchief, and tied his hands, but the gag was not on very tight and he finally removed it and chewed with his teeth on the rope.

Dr. Bungate was called to the depot and found the circumstances as here related, and the young man very nervous from his experience. Besides the $53 in paper money he had some change in silver. When he came to the passenger was just pulling out of the yards.—Weeping Water Republican.

NEW BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

Leading Business Men of Louisville Will Organize, With T. E. Parmele at the Head.

A building and loan association is to be organized here at once by several of our leading business men. T. E. Parmele, president of the Bank of Commerce, is at the head of the movement, which fact gives sufficient assurance of its success, and he will be supported by men of unquestioned ability and personal worth, who are recognized leaders and loyal supporters of Louisville and vicinity.

These men have grown tired of seeing $40,000 to $50,000 annually sent away to companies who offer no allegiance or benefit to this community in any way, and who have no interests here except as embodied in those who represent them here. It is proposed to provide a profitable means of using such money here at home, where it rightfully belongs.

Houses are in demand here and there is great opportunity for such an organization to develop very quickly into a laudable home enterprise and one with which every citizen should be glad to co-operate. Building and loan investment is thoroughly established the world over, but home money belongs at home and the means for keeping it here cannot be provided too soon.—Louisville Courier.

Surprised With Rice Shower.

From Saturday's Daily.

Earl Mayfield of Louisville was in the city this morning on business for a few hours. Earl accompanied a young lady friend to the county seat, where she expected to take the examination for a teacher's certificate, and much to his surprise he and the young lady were showered with rice as they boarded the train at Louisville. He rather expected on his return the old shoe racket would be tried.

G. P. Meisinger of Cedar Creek came down on No. 4 this morning and did the week-end shopping.

In Police Court.

From Friday's Daily.

John Swellek, a Burlington track man from the Iowa side, came to town last night to procure provisions for his camp, and imbibed so freely in malt, spirituous and vineous liquors as a beverage that he lost control of the motor nerves of his legs and could not go on them without wobbling more than the law sanctions, or the ordinances either. John was taken to the county jail and given a bed until this morning, when he was well enough to appear before Judge Archer, who was kindly disposed toward the stranger and allowed him to go back to work, on John's promise to be more careful what he drank the next time he comes for provisions.

Judge Archer this morning heard the evidence in the suit of J. L. Stull vs. John Mrasek over a stack of hay. The matter was taken under advisement by the court to be decided later.

Theater Wired Yesterday.

The new theater, which Peters & Richards are overhauling for R. M. Shlaes, is rapidly nearing completion. Warga & Cecil were at work at the wiring for electric lights yesterday and today. The new place will be one of the swellest pleasure resorts in the city and will be cooled by electric fans. A front and side entrance and exit will render the theater popular and increase the ventilation, as well as lessen the danger from fire.

L. D. Switzer in Town.

From Saturday's Daily.

Ex-County Commissioner L. D. Switzer, from near Avoca, was in the city over last night, coming down from Omaha yesterday evening, returning to his home this morning. Mr. Switzer had driven to Omaha in the auto, accompanied by his son, who returned home via Louisville, but would have come this way had they known the Pollock-Duff bridge had been completed. We were more than pleased to see Mr. Switzer and to know that his health has been improving for the past few weeks. For some time during the winter he felt very badly and made a trip to various points in Texas. He has been suffering from diabetes and has returned to the diet cure and is gaining strength. L. D. Switzer is one of the progressive, enterprising and one of the best citizens in Cass county, and he has a host of friends who will be pleased to learn that he is gaining strength.

Look Out for Him.

If a good looking young man enters your place of business, hands over a handful of silver and asks you to give him a $10 bill for it, call the police if you do so without exciting suspicion. Such a youth is cleaning up from ten to twenty cartwheels each day in cities. His plan is to secure the bill and pretend to seal it up in an envelope. In counting the silver, the victim finds there is a dollar missing. Pretending to be greatly surprised, the swindler takes all the money, leaves the envelope presumed to contain the bill for security, and promises to return with the required sum. He never comes back. When the envelope is opened it is found to be minus the $10 bill. The authorities of many cities would be glad to grab this prince of audacity and save future victims.

Buys Choppie Engine.

From Friday's Daily.

J. R. Enger, the proprietor of the Plattsmouth laundry, yesterday installed a new seven and one-half horse power Choppie gasoline engine. Mr. Enger is well pleased with the manner in which the engine pulls the load. He is an experienced mechanic, having had charge of the sale of the Avery threshing machine in South America for two years, and says he has never seen an engine do finer work than the one just purchased from Mr. Choppieske. The engine is doing the work of a ten horse power steam engine, and does it with more ease than the old engine. Mr. Choppieske is making the best engine on the market and the farmers who purchase one of the Choppie engines are all pleased with their buy.

H. G. VanHorn left for Omaha, Council Bluffs and Missouri Valley, Iowa, this morning, where he will spend Sunday with friends and look after some important business matters.

ANOTHER PIONEER PASSES TO HIS REWARD

William M. Wiley, One of the Oldest Citizens in County, Died This Morning.

From Saturday's Daily.

The early pioneers of Cass county are rapidly passing away, and scarcely is one laid away in the silent tomb until we are called upon to record the death of another. Yesterday all that was mortal of Robert H. Fitch, one of the pioneer citizens of Cass county, was laid away, and now it is our sad duty to inform readers of the Journal of the death of William M. Wiley, who passed to the Great Beyond this morning at 2 o'clock at his home three miles east of Murray and eight miles south of Plattsmouth, at the advanced age of 82 years, 7 months and 11 days.

The deceased had been in poor health for about three years, most of which time he was confined to his room until a few weeks since he recovered to the extent of being able to get out of doors and do a little work. A few days since he was engaged in doing some light work in the garden when he received a stroke of paralysis, since which time he has been declining until death relieved him. The deceased was one of the very earliest pioneers of Cass county, coming here in 1854. He was regarded as one of our best citizens and was highly respected by all who knew him. In Monday's issue of the Journal we shall probably give a more extended notice of the deceased, and if not then, in some later issue. But we have no data at our command to do it now.

The funeral services will occur at 2 o'clock tomorrow (Sunday), Rev. Williams of Murray conducting the services. Interment will be made in the Young cemetery.

Married by Judge Beeson.

From Friday's Daily.

George Kernes and Miss Hazel Stevens were united in marriage this morning at the office of Judge Beeson, the judge officiating. The groom resides near Tabor and the bride in Glenwood, Iowa. They were accompanied by Miss Lena Kerns, a sister of the groom. The happy young couple, after the ceremony, received the congratulations of the judge and witnesses. They departed for Tabor on the afternoon train, where Mr. Kernes will engage in farming.

PLATTSMOUTH BOYS WILL PLAY BALL

Funds Sufficient Almost Raised and the Work on the Grounds Is Progressing.

The committee in charge of raising funds for the financial end of the base ball team this season has about completed its duties. The committee is within $100 of the amount considered sufficient to finance the enterprise. The grader has been used on the surface of the diamond and the ground is in good shape. The posts for the fence to enclose the grounds are being set and the matter of building an amphetamine will be pushed right along and will be in readiness within a week. The personnel of the team has not yet been determined upon. Quite a number of young men are "working out," and Manager Brantner will select the team from the best of them. There is an abundance of good material and Plattsmouth will have the best team this summer that has been sent out for a long time. The ground, too, will be an ideal place for the sport, near the city and away from the business.

Data Right at Hand.

Mr. B. C. Adams, Mr. Philips and Mr. Malet of the Lincoln Gas and Electric company were in the city yesterday to inspect the Nebraska Light company's gas and electric product and machinery. They had expected to be in the city a couple of days and were agreeably surprised to find that Manager Clabaugh had all of the details which they were seeking right where he could lay his index finger on the item when called for. The gentlemen complimented Mr. Clabaugh very highly for the way he managed the plant here and his thorough understanding of the system.
