YEAR'S WORK SHOWS SPLENDID RESULTS

Excellent Work Accomplished in Plattsmouth High School During the Past Year.

In reviewing the work in the High school for the past year the patrons of the school should not lose sight of the excellent work done by Principal Larson, who has worked in harmony with the superintendent and High school faculty. To Professor Larson, in great measure, credit is due for creating and maintaining a lively interest in the work of the year. A higher standard of scholarship has been fixed at the beginning of the year, and the students have been required to work harder for their marks than hitherto.

Professor Larson has used athletics to foster interest in the school work and the basket ball and base ball teams were early organized and encouraged and received the enthusiastic support of the patrons of the school. The basket ball team brought fame to the school, having won seven out of eleven games which it engaged in and making a total of 389 scores, as against 278 made by its opponents.

A girls' glee club was also organized, which has made great progress in vocal music and will furnish some excellent music on Memorial day. The High School orchestra was organized during the year, composed of the following musicians: Misses Mollie Godwin, Sophia Ulrich and Willa Moore, mandolin, and Miss Anna Henrich and Waldamer Soennichsen, piano. This orchestra furnished fine programs on several occasions at convocation and also played at the Nebraska Teachers' association at Weeping Water.

In debate, while the Plattsmouth squad did not win the pennant, yet the arguments advanced by the debaters were excellent, and in the contest at Weeping Water, which was very close, Professor Fogg stated that the argument of John Elmer Hallstrom was good enough to go against any of the debaters in the league.

And in taking a retrospect of the High school work for the year, Principal Larson and the other members of the faculty, as well as Superintendent Abbott, are to be congratulated on the excellent things accomplished.

Pleasantly Entertained.

From Friday's Daily.

The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church were very pleasantly entertained in the parlors of the church yesterday afternoon by Mesdames Leyda, Barnes and Ida Campbell. The regular business session was held at the usual hour, after which the ladies indulged in a most enjoyable social time. Some fancy work and aprons, which were left from the bazaar, which the ladies held last week, were offered for sale on this occasion and the ladies realized a neat sum. The hostesses of the afternoon served delightful refreshments, to which the large number in attendance did ample justice.

In County Court.

From Friday's Daily.

An order was made by the county court this morning in the estate of Henry Behrens, deceased, authorizing the special administrator, Joe C. Zimmerer, to sell a one-half interest in the general merchandise store of Behrens & Maseman, the order reciting that William Thiele is willing to become the purchaser of the interest of the estate at the appraised value of $3,700. The stock of merchandise was appraised by Sam Johnson and Asa Johnson.

JURY FAVORS PARDON FOR CONVICT DAVIS

Davis Was Sent Up From Cass County December 22, 1910, for Forging a Check of $5.90.

Tom Davis, the half-breed Indian, who was acquitted of murder in Lancaster county two days ago, at the end of a trial lasting nearly a week, wherein Davis was charged with first degree murder for the killing of a negro convict named Strong, was sent to the penitentiary from Cass county.

The record in Clerk of the Court James Robertson's office discloses that Davis was arraigned in the court December 22, 1910, with a co-defendant, Charles Peabody, and both pleaded guilty to uttering a forged check of $5.90 on the First National bank of Plattsmouth, with the name of Herman Leefers, a prominent near-by farmer, attached. The prisoners were sentenced by Judge Travis to a term of five years in the penitentiary, and were taken to the state prison December 28, 1910.

The negro, Strong, was sent up from Douglas county about a year ago; he had threatened to kill Tom Davis and had planned to execute his threat the day he met his death. Davis leaped over the breakfast table and cut the negro's throat before the guards or anyone could prevent, and the colored man died before reaching his cell.

In the trial Davis pleaded self defense, and the jury took his version of the affair and on the first ballot more than half of the jury voted for acquittal and a few ballots were taken before all voted the same way. Since his acquittal members of the jury have interested themselves in his behalf and a move is on foot to pardon Davis. He was born in New Mexico; both his parents are dead. His frank, open countenance and manner on the trial and the youth of the accused won the confidence of the jury and caused some of them to take his case up with the trial judge.

A special from Lincoln, under date of May 24, in reference to the above case, says: Members of the jury which tried Tom Davis, Cass county prisoner, who was accused of murdering John Strong at the state prison March 29 and who after hearing the evidence in the case freed him from any guilt, are now making a movement to secure his pardon by the governor.

Two of the members applied at the office of Judge Stewart today for information as to means of laying the matter before the state board of pardons. Other members of the jury will co-operate with them. Davis is but 22 years old and is understood to have made an unusually favorable impression upon attorneys and spectators who were attendants at his trial.

Meet With Mrs. Heinrich.

From Friday's Daily.

The Ladies' Aid society of St. Paul's church held their regular monthly social meeting at the home of Mrs. F. Heinrich, and this was a very delightful occasion. There was a large number in attendance, and there being no business of any kind transacted, the ladies devoted the afternoon to a social time. They participated in conversation, games and the like until delicious refreshments were served. The ladies are very much indebted to Mrs. Heinrich for her kind hospitality and for the splendid afternoon's entertainment.

Appraisers Appointed Yesterday.

From Friday's Daily.

Mayor Sattler yesterday appointed J. P. Falter, L. G. Larson and Frank Neuman as a committee to appraise the three frame structures on the north side of Main street, between Fourth and Fifth. The committee appointed will perform its task at 5 o'clock this afternoon, and ascertain whether the buildings have depreciated 50 per cent of their value, and if so they will be removed.

Sunday Closing.

Beginning July 4, 1912, the postoffices throughout the country will be required by law to be closed on Sunday. Heretofore this has been a matter that has been option with local postmasters as to whether or not the offices were closed. A new law has been passed and will go into effect July 1 which makes it mandatory for all postoffices throughout the country to be closed on that day.

Don't forget! The Journal office is prepared to do all kinds of fancy job work. Give us a trial.

STRUCK BY ENGINE, ROLLED FORTY FEET

Abe Branson Seriously Injured on Missouri Pacific Tracks Near Weeping Water.

Last Thursday morning as Abe Branson was coming up the railroad track to work, he stepped off of one track on which a freight was headed east, and then stepped over to another track. This was in the cut at the edge of town, and it so happened that the noise of the freight drowned the noise of the passenger; at any rate, when he turned around to look the passenger train was within six feet of him, and before he could help himself, the train helped him off.

The cow-catcher caught his limbs at the ankle and his hip and one side struck the engine. He rolled off forty feet and struck on his face and head. There were bruises on his body, fractured ribs, a large abrasion on his forehead and a severely wrenched back. He was taken to Dr. Hunsate's office for treatment. His recovery will be slow.—Weeping Water Republican.

Keep Your Dogs Tied.

Once in a while a court decision is loaded with horse sense as well as law. A man in western Kansas kept a fool dog that ran out and barked at passing teams. One day it scared a horse, which ran away and seriously injured the driver. The latter brought suit for damages against the dog owner and was awarded a substantial sum. The case was carried to the supreme court, and that august tribunal sustained the lower court, holding that the man who keeps a savage or barking dog is responsible for any trouble it causes.

Poor Old Burlington!

After spending hundreds of thousands of dollars fighting the river at Folsom, the Burlington suffered another loss when their bridge near Island Park burned Monday night, making it necessary to detour trains by way of Plattsmouth all day Tuesday. Traffic over the main line was resumed Tuesday night. The fire is supposed to have started from sparks dropped by a locomotive. It was discovered by a farmer, now unknown to us, who notified the depot and avoided a probable wreck at the place.—Glenwood Tribune.

Entertainment at Busche Home.

From Saturday's Daily.

The Past Chiefs of the Degree of Honor lodge had been invited to meet with Mrs. J. H. Busche, near Cedar Creek yesterday. They also had been invited to come early in the morning and spend the entire day. Consequently, as early as 8 o'clock the ladies met at the Streight & Streight's and L. B. Egenberger stores, where they chartered carryalls and drove to the Busche home. Upon their arrival there they were soon made to feel at home and were entertained in a most delightful manner. At the noon hour they were invited to the dining room, where an elegant dinner awaited. It was a dinner which Mrs. Busche only knows best how to prepare and one which the guests could not fail to do ample justice. The afternoon hours were devoted to a social time, games and the like, interspersed with a walk about the farm. Before the departure of the guests the hostess invited them to partake of a delicious supper, after which the ladies made the return trip. We have it confidentially from one of the ladies who was present that for downright enjoyment this occasion was the best that she has participated in for some time. There were fourteen ladies in attendance.

Death of Daniel S. Draper.
