NEW GEM THEATER TO OPEN MONDAY NIGHT

It is in Reality a Gem, and One of Great Beauty and Comfort.

From Saturday's Daily.
The new theater building, just completed, and to be occupied by R. M. Shlaes with a moving picture show, is certainly a gem, and Mr. Shlaes has appropriately christened the new playhouse the "Gem theater."

The interior of the building, as well as the entrance, is a marvel of beauty. The walls and ceiling have been decorated by the artistic hand of Frank Gobelman, and the frescoing on the walls is indeed beautiful. The paneling in the vestibule and the wooden seats in front have been painted by J. R. Rummelfield, and also exhibit skill and beauty. The interior of the theater is lighted by an indirect lighting system, the fixtures of which are oxidized brass hung with chain fittings. There are two flower-shaped exit lights, one on either side of the hall in the rear. The vestibule will be brilliantly lighted with cluster lights and these will extend across the arch in front, all installed by Warga & Cecil.

On either side of the vestibule will be a large mirror, 22x44 inches in size, so that the ladies can arrange their hats either on entering or leaving the theater. A number of electric fans will keep the room cool during the warm summer evenings. Comfortable opera chairs have been provided for 300 spectators and everything will be as sanitary and up-to-date as possible. The new screen, on which will be thrown the pictures from the "licensed films," which will be shown only at the Gem, will be completed by Frank Gobelman today.

The theater-going public of Plattsmouth will enjoy going to as fine a theater as there is in the state and will have the same facilities for being made comfortable that any of the playhouses have. Monday night Mr. Shlaes expects to open with the first show in the new theater, and he feels just pride in being able to present to the public this splendid, new, modern theater.

Fine Boom Edition.

A few days since the Journal received a copy of the boom edition of the Clinton (Ill.) Daily Journal. We have been receiving this excellent paper regularly every day, and without saying a word of praise regarding the special edition, we can say that each issue of the Journal is a boomer for Clinton within itself. The special edition, however, is somewhat of an exception in many respects to the general run of boom editions, in that it was a home production throughout, and a general view of the business industries of the wide-awake little city of Clinton, which reflects great credit not only to Ben Peltz, the editor and publisher, but to the enterprising business men, who are always alive to their interests, which is very readily denoted by the columns of the Journal every day in the week. Long live Ben Peltz and his excellent paper.

A Delightful Picnic.

From Friday's Daily.
A number of little folks gathered at the home of Beata Holly yesterday afternoon and then proceeded to the pasture on North Maiden Lane for a picnic. The afternoon was very pleasantly spent in various school games, racing, singing and the like. After this they enjoyed a luncheon, consisting of sandwiches, pickles, lemonade, cake, cookies, candy and fruit. All went home feeling that they had had a jolly good time. The only regret was that they had to leave the woods all too soon. Those present were: Lillian Kalacek, Beata Holly, Mary Burbank, Anna Hiber, Florence Cecil, Catherine Novotny, Agnes and Helen Slavicek, Helen Libershal, Rosa and Lucille Schoumal and Beatrice Jirousek.

Goes to Clarkson Hospital.

From Saturday's Daily.
Raymond Travis and father, Judge Harvey D. Travis, left this afternoon for Omaha, where Raymond will enter Clarkson hospital with the probability of undergoing an operation next Monday for appendicitis. The trouble has been bothering Raymond for a couple of weeks and he is taking the advice of his physician to have the operation while his strength is equal to the emergency.

June Wedding.

Miss Lillie Tucker and John Ehresman were married at the home of the bride Tuesday at 3 p. m. Only immediate members of the family and the pastor's family were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. F. Hedges. The Tucker and Ehresman families are old acquaintances, having resided in the same locality in Indiana. The bride and groom have known each other from childhood. The bride is well and favorably known in Nehawka and is held in the highest esteem by all who know her. The groom is a stranger to all but the Tucker family, but is spoken of as a man above the average, is a Christian man and highly respected by those that know him. They left Tuesday evening for the east, going by way of Chicago, and from there will go to Fort Wayne, thence to LaFayette and visit the scenes of their childhood. They will return to Nehawka about the first of July and will make their home with the bride's father, William Tucker.—Nehawka News.

Newspaper Announcement.

There never was such a time in the history of this country for newspaper reading, and it is important to read a paper of impartial views—one that is free from any office-seeking or office-holding influences. The important thing to a great newspaper like the Lincoln State Journal is to get trial readers, as it has no trouble holding them by its quality. The cheapest way to get new readers is to make a special price, which we now do—only $2 for the daily and Sunday paper until January 1, 1913—much less than the regular price. At that time the paper will stop coming unless you order it continued and pay in advance for it. You really cannot afford to be without this capital city paper when you can secure it at such a price. Send $2 to the Lincoln State Journal today and the paper will come to you regularly the remainder of this year. It will be a lively year, too.

O. C. Hudson Accepts Position.

Virgil Mullis, who has been the very efficient janitor of the Central school building during the past eleven years, was not an applicant for the position this year. At a recent meeting of the board O. C. Hudson was elected to the position. Mr. Hudson has filled the responsible position of keeper of the sub-store for the Burlington in the local shops for several years. He is a capable and energetic man and the school board has been fortunate in securing his services. The position of janitor at the Central building is a very important one, and requires a man of sound judgment and good executive ability, both of which characteristics Mr. Hudson possesses to a well marked degree. He assumes his new duties at the beginning of the school year, July 1.

In Judge Archer's Court.

From Friday's Daily.
In Judge Archer's court recently J. Lawrence Stull recovered a judgment against James Mrasek for $119 and costs of suit for hay which the defendant purchased of plaintiff. To satisfy the judgment an execution was issued at request of plaintiff and a team of horses belonging to Mrs. Anna Goos were levied upon. In consequence Mrs. Goos at once had a replevin issued and with the writ repossessed the team. The hearing on the replevin will be had before Judge Archer tomorrow. The title of the replevin suit is Anna Goos vs. J. R. Denson and J. Lawrence Stull. It is reported that Mrasek is now willing to pay the judgment, so that the only controversy in the replevin suit will be a matter of costs and damages.

Get in Old Channel.

The following from the Glenwood Tribune would indicate that the "Old Missouri" may eventually get back into the old channel and spoil our splendid ball park: Despite the present discouraging aspect of the situation at Folsom, the railroad company is finding signs of a complete victory in the cutting away of the big bar across from Folsom that has been causing trouble on the Iowa side by changing the channel. The river has commenced cutting away the bar far above the point and is rapidly eating away the shifting sand to make a clean channel straight down the Nebraska shore. Old river men predict that the riprapping works at Folsom will be on a dry sandbar in a few more months.

Mrs. W. H. Seybert of Cullom arrived on No. 4 this morning and spent the day with Plattsmouth friends.

DO IT NOW! The Season for Cyclones and destructive wind storms is at hand!

Are you protected? I will write cyclone insurance for 75 cents per hundred for a term of five years. That means that you can carry $1,000 insurance for $1.50 per year. It is not wise for you to take the risk when others will take it for you at such a low rate. Fire Insurance at lowest rates on stocks and dwellings. Special rates for long term policies.

Close Call for Baby.

The following from the St. Joseph Daily News-Press will be read with considerable interest by those who know Guy Kirkpatrick, a former Cass county boy: Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kirkpatrick's 1-year-old son was sleeping in its buggy out of doors at their home, 1021 Sylvan street, this forenoon, when the mother stepped into the house for a moment. Just then a gust of wind drove the perambulator down the walk and it ran off the seven-foot retaining wall, dropping on the cement sidewalk. Mrs. Kirkpatrick hurried to the street and was overjoyed to find that the baby had not been thrown from the buggy, still upright, and about the only injury it sustained was a slight bruise in the face.

A Slumber Party.

From Saturday's Daily
A number of young people were very pleasantly entertained by Miss Ruth Chapman at a slumber party last evening. The occasion was in honor of Miss Pearl Evans of Loveland, Colorado, who is visiting her many friends in this city, she having formerly resided here. This delightful event was also in the nature of a farewell for Miss Mildred Johnson, who will go to Davenport, Iowa, very soon to spend the summer months with relatives and friends. The hours were most enjoyably whiled away in games and amusements, which the hostess had planned for the entertainment of her guests, interspersed with conversation and music. Dainty refreshments were served.

Paul Staddleman Is Second.

In a contest for May and June in selling Saturday Evening Posts, with between thirty and forty others, Paul Staddleman, on June first stood second in the list of contestants. Paul is in receipt of a letter from the house under date of June 1, 1912, which places him second. The prize is a pony, cart and harness for first place and $100 in cash for second place. Paul sells nearly 100 copies per week. The contestants are scattered throughout the United States and Canada. Remember, if you buy your Post from Paul you will be assisting him to either first or second place in the contest.

Rainfall Light for May.

W. L. Furlong, the Rock Bluffs weather record-keeper, reports but one and an eighth inches of rainfall for the month of May, the lightest he has ever known. Thus far in June, Mr. Furlong reports but an inch of rain in his locality, three-fourths of an inch a week ago and one-fourth of an inch last night. The record for June, as kept by the Burlington men here, has been, June 1, 1.33 inches and last night .21 of an inch.

Injured at the Shops.
From Saturday's Daily.
John Brady, night watchman at the Burlington shops, received a slight injury last evening, just after entering upon his duties for the night. A ladder fell and struck him in the back of the head, inflicting a slight scalp wound that caused the blood to flow quite freely. While the injury was not a serious one it will necessitate his laying off for a few nights.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RETAIL GROCERS

Retail Grocers of Nebraska to Launch Insurance Plan Right Away.

Executive sessions of the Nebraska Federation of Retail Grocers were concluded in Omaha Tuesday, after some plans were outlined to make a fight against the mail order houses. The committee reviewed the establishment of the new co-operative insurance organization, which is allied with the federation. It was reported that enough money has been subscribed for the insurance organization to get its charter and that co-operative insurance will be put in effect soon.

Much of the business of the committee was continued until the next meeting, which is scheduled to be held in Omaha July 9. During their two days' stay in Omaha the executive committee members visited all the wholesale grocers and later reported they believed the retailers' federation will get the co-operation of the wholesalers. Incidentally the committee members pledged to work as individuals in support of Herman Diers for lieutenant governor.

The members of the committee who attended the sessions of Tuesday and Wednesday were: President C. E. Bejnert of Wymore, Vice President George W. Downer of Overton, Fred Diers of Madison, J. C. Schwerer of Greeley Center, George Barr of Lincoln and C. E. Hostettler.
