The Old Maids' Convention.

One of the most enjoyable entertainments given in Murray for many a day was the Old Maids' Convention, given at Jenkins' hall last Saturday evening by the ladies of the Aid society, under the direction of Mrs. J. F. Brendel. The attendance was very large, the receipts being almost $90, which will go into the treasury of the society after the expenses are paid. The great transforming scene, the wonderful doctor, his powerful remedies and his monster transforming machine was, of course, a feature part of the entertainment, at which time each member of the convention was transformed into the character of their choice. The ladies were all excellent in the characters they represented, as well as the doctor, and many of whom are deserving of personal mention, but not witnessing the performance the writer is unable to give such mention, so all we can say is as they told us—they were all good. All are praising the excellent work of Mrs. Brendel in directing and staging the production.

LINCOLN STATUE IS IN PLACE

Taken from Case and Placed Upon Pedestal at Capital.

NO SPEAKER FOR UNVEILING.

Governor Aldrich as Yet Unable to Secure Orator of Sufficient Prominence to Suit Committee—Robert T. Lincoln to Assist in Ceremonies.

Lincoln, June 27.—After a long and uneventful journey, in which he laid for many days in the freight house of the Northwestern railway in this city, Abraham Lincoln arrived at the state house grounds and was taken from his box and placed upon the pedestal prepared for him on the west side of the state house.

The statue is about eight feet high and appears to be a fine piece of work. The head is slightly bowed and appears to be representative of Lincoln in a deep study. The figure will be clothed in a canvas cover and will not be open to public view until the unveiling on Labor day.

The securing of an orator for the unveiling ceremonies has been turned over to Governor Aldrich, who has not yet been able to secure a man of sufficient prominence to suit the committee. It is expected that Robert T. Lincoln, son of the president, will be present when the figure is unveiled to assist in the ceremonies, but it is the intention of the committee to get a speaker of national reputation for the main address.

It has been suggested that inasmuch as Lincoln already possesses a man of more than national prominence, that it might be perfectly proper to have him deliver the address.

SISTER IS SUING BROTHER

Amelia Monroe of Plattsmouth Seeks Damages for Assault.

Plattsmouth, Neb., June 27.—In the district court a jury was selected in the case of Amelia Monroe against C. Lawrence Stull, in which the plaintiff is bringing an action for damages for assault and battery, the plaintiff being a sister of the defendant. She alleges that her brother entered the store of the plaintiff's husband and assaulted the plaintiff with his fists, knocked her down and kicked her, thereby injuring her permanently and severely. The defendant claimed to have acted in self defense, and that the plaintiff, his sister, was trying to get a revolver from the showcase when he struck her.

Aldrich Not on Third Party Committee

Lincoln, June 27.—Governor Aldrich announced that he will not serve on the committee of eighteen appointed by Governor Johnson of California to take the lead in organizing the new "progressive" party composed of Roosevelt adherents. Governor Aldrich declared that he will "stay regular" and take no part in any bolting program.

WANT COURT OF COMMERCE

Railroad Men Urge President to Veto Bill Abolishing It.

Washington, June 27.—R. S. Davis of Kansas City and a committee representing about line railroads of the southwest urged President Taft to veto the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill which carries an amendment to abolish the commerce court.

The railroad men told the president they would practically have no method of appealing from the interstate commerce commission if the court were abolished and no new machinery for appeals set up. The president indicated he would support the court and veto the bill.

Berger against United States District Judge Cornelius H. Hanford, arrived from Washington. The hearings, which will be public, will begin today.
