ANOTHER PIONEER CITIZEN PASSES AWAY

Francis M. Young, One of the Early Pioneers of Cass County, Passes Away.

Francis M. Young, a pioneer citizen of Cass county, died at the Methodist hospital at Omaha early this morning, after an illness dating from last February.

Francis Marion Young was born in Nodaway county, Missouri, near Maryville, February 14, 1841, and was in the seventy-second year of his age at the time of his death. When a small boy his parents removed from their Missouri home to Mills county, Iowa, where they resided for five years. In 1855 his parents removed to Cass county, he being then a lad of 14 years. He grew to manhood in this county, and in 1872 was married to Miss Eliza Law. Two children were the fruit of this union, being his son, Alby Young, of Murdock, Minnesota, and his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Cook, of Murray. Mr. Young also leaves one sister, Mrs. Henry Boeck, of this city; one half-brother, David Young, of Murray, and one half-sister, Mrs. Ellen Stafford, of Clarinda, Iowa.

Mr. Young, with his family, resided in this county until three years ago, when he sold his farm here and purchased a large farm in Swift county Minnesota, where he has resided and enjoyed his usual health until last February, when he suffered with an attack of grippe. He did not recover from the evil effects of this trouble and it appeared to settle in his stomach. About three weeks ago he went to Omaha to take treatment from Dr. Keys, a specialist, whom Mr. Young had known for some time. He gradually grew worse until he was relieved by death this morning.

His sister, Mrs. Boeck, and her husband went to see Mr. Young yesterday, returning on the late train last night. When they left the patient little hope was entertained for his recovery. His wife was at his bedside when the end came. The funeral will occur from the Presbyterian church at Murray Wednesday, July 3d, at 11 a. m.

At Presbyterian Church.
Despite the exceedingly warm weather, there was a fairly good audience at the Presbyterian church last night to listen to the sacred concert given by the choir, under the leadership of Miss Mathilda Vallery. The numbers consisted of anthems, duets and solos, with scripture reading and prayer by the pastor, Rev. L. W. Gade. The duet by Misses Helen Chapman and Estelle Baird and the solo by Miss Vallery were especially worthy of mention. The choruses were very well rendered. A collection was taken, the proceeds of which is to be used for the purchase of music for the church services.

Motored to Whiting.
Charles Warner and family and Will Spangler and family motored to Whiting, Iowa, in their touring cars last week, returning Friday afternoon. Mr. Warner says they found the roads excellent, especially between Council Bluffs and Sioux City, and crops along the route looking good. The distance from Plattsmouth to Whiting is 148 miles, with few hills to climb.

Wurl Brothers Cigars in Omaha.
"Gul Heil," "Keno" and "La-Flor-de-Fama" cigars may now be found in the "Smoke House" pool room opposite the Burlington depot in Omaha. Please call for them when in the city.

Fred B. Egenberger and wife visited Omaha friends for a time today, going on the early train.

DISASTROUS FIRE SUNDAY MORNING

Residence of Joseph Svoboda Entirely Destroyed, With Most of the Contents.

A disastrous fire broke out about 2 o'clock Sunday morning at the dwelling of Joseph Svoboda, one West Granite street, which entirely destroyed the residence and came nearly resulting in the loss of the life of his little 2-year-old son, Edward.

The family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Svoboda and five children, were asleep on the first floor of their one and a half-story residence, when their neighbor, Joe Sedlack, who was sleeping out of doors on account of the heat, was awakened and noticed the flames coming through the roof and ran over and woke Mr. Svoboda and wife. Four of the children were gotten out of bed and hustled out into the yard, but in the excitement little Edward, who was asleep in his cradle, was overlooked and not until one of the neighbors called their attention to the absence of the child did the parents recall that Edward was sleeping in his cradle in another room. The roof was already falling in when the sleeping child was rescued from the burning house.

The fire alarm was turned in from William Holly's home, four blocks away, and the hose cart from West Main street hurried to the nearest hydrant, which was four blocks from the burning building, and the hose was run from the reel, and when the central cart arrived the two ends were joined and the central hose run off, but still lacked two lengths of hose enough to reach the burning building, and some of the men were sent back to the central hose house to get sufficient hose.

All this required some time, and all the while the fire was eating its way slowly along the roof and sides of the building. There was no wind, not even a breeze, so that the fire did not catch any of the adjoining buildings. By the time the water was turned on the dwelling was mostly in ashes. Had there been a hydrant within a block of the fire very little damage would have been done, as it would have been put out before burning much of the house.

When the connection was made the fire hydrant appeared to be out of order, so that the pressure, when the water was turned on would not throw the water any distance. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have started from the kitchen stove, in which there had been a fire to get the evening meal Saturday. The fire when first discovered was blazing through the kitchen roof, the kitchen being a brick structure adjoining the frame dwelling on the east. Very little of the household goods were saved; nothing at all from the upper rooms, where most of the family bedding and clothing was kept.

It is said the dwelling was insured for $900, but the property was worth very much more and represented the savings of Mr. and Mrs. Svoboda for the past nine years. He has been in Plattsmouth during these years, and employed on the freight car repair track as a carpenter. The loss will fall very heavily on Mr. Svoboda and he has the sympathy of the entire community in his trouble. He and his family went to the home of his neighbor, Mr. Bajack, where they were given shelter for the present.

The fire company turned out promptly, but could do nothing on account of the long distance that the water had to be carried through the hose, which, with the defective hydrant practically placed them without water to fight the fire with.

Enjoyed Birthday Party.

James Higley, wife and daughters, Gladys and Violet, returned from Shubert, Neb., on the afternoon train today, where Mrs. Higley and daughters have visited her sons-in-law, Grant Cotner and Lee Johnson, for two weeks. "Jim" got tired of batching and decided Saturday that he would put an end to it by going after Mrs. Higley and escorting her home. Yesterday was the tenth birthday of Glenn Johnson, son of Lee and Mrs. Johnson, and accordingly a fine birthday spread was prepared by Glenn's mother, consisting of ice cream and cake, and the relatives invited in to enjoy the occasion with Glenn.

Failed to Keep Kettle Hot.

The noise of the work of shoveling coal yesterday so grated on the sensibilities of our friend, Fireman G. Roman, of the Sioux City freight crew, as he was trying to keep up a head of steam for Engineer J. J. Ingalls, that today Giles is on the sick list. There was a shortage of steam on most of the run and Giles failed to keep the "kettle" hot. The thermometer was close to 110 in the sun, which may have had something to do with the fireman's sickness.

Undergoes Second Operation.

Mrs. Gohelman returned from Omaha Friday night, where she had visited her sister, Miss Anna Hiat, at the hospital for a short time. Miss Hiat underwent a second operation Saturday with the hope of her physicians to bring permanent relief. On this occasion Miss Hiat's tonsils were removed, with the expectation that this would relieve her from headache.

Miss Blanche Murray of Omaha came down yesterday morning and spent the day with her mother, Mrs. John Murray, returning home on the evening train over the Missouri Pacific.

THE WEATHER.

The readings below are taken at the Burlington depot, where the thermometer is placed under conditions similar to those used by the United States weather bureau:
8 a. m. .... 74 | 1 p. m. .... 84
10 a. m. .... 82 | 2 p. m. .... 87

Forecast.

For Nebraska—Local thunder showers Monday; cooler in eastern and central portions. Tuesday, showers.

Working Full Time.

Superintendent William Baird of the Burlington shops has recently issued an order placing all departments of the shops on full time and five hours on Saturday. This will be welcome news for the shop boys, as it means not less than fifty hours per week and an increase of the monthly pay check to a substantial amount.
