BULL MOOSE PARTY IN THIS GREAT STATE

Roosevelt Supporters Seem to Be in "Bad Row of Stumps" Regarding State Ticket.

The provision relied on by the president's supporters in section 5903 of Cobby's statutes, under the heading: "Division of Party." It is part of the original primary law enacted in 1907, but is understood as applying to general elections. The section is herewith quoted:

"In case of a division of any party, the secretary of state shall give the preference of party name to the convention held at the time and place designated in the call of the regularly constituted party authorities, and if the other faction or factions shall present no other name, the secretary of state shall select a name or title and place the same on the ballots before the list of candidates for such faction. The action of the preceding national convention of such party, regularly called, shall determine the action of the secretary of state, or the court in its decisions. The secretary of state may be compelled by peremptory order of mandamus proceedings, to perform his duty in this regard."

It appears very plain that the statute recognizes the national convention of a party as its supreme authority, wherever the right to use the party name is disputed. The logical sequence of this would be that any element in the republican party that declines to accept Taft and Sherman as its nominees cannot establish its right to use the name.

This part of the law is evidently intended to safeguard the rights of every political organization and compel its members to respect the duly constituted authority of the party. It apparently bars the Teddyites from having a voice in g. o. p. affairs, because they have bolted the action of the national convention.

Returned From Perkins County.

James Seivers and wife, who were called to Perkins county a couple of weeks ago on account of the sickness of a relative, returned Monday morning on No. 10. James was pleased at the wheat yield in that county and for a long distance on this side. On the Holdridge ranch, where his son lives, the wheat will be good for 20 bushels per acre, and many places it will go more. The farmers are having trouble to get men to care for the wheat already cut. He saw a great many acres cut and lying in the swath, it being too short to bind. At many of the stations farmers met the train, offering $3 per day for wheat shockers.

Mow the Weeds.

According to the new law all farmers are compelled to cut the weeds along their line of road or the same will be cut by the road overseer and charged up in taxes to land adjacent. Therefore, it is my duty to notify all farmers residing in Eight Mile Grove precinct to cut the weeds on or before the 15th day of August, or I will be compelled to comply with the law. Frank Platzer, Road Overseer.

PLATTSMOUTH CONTRACTORS LAND JOB

Peters & Richards Secure Big Job From State of Iowa and Signed Contract Yesterday.

The contract for the first story and basement of the "Girls' building" at Glenwood, Iowa, was signed up yesterday by Peters & Richards. The building is to be five stories, costing between $80,000 and $90,000. The contract of Peters & Richards, for which the appropriation is already available, is $19,000. This portion, basement and first story, are to be constructed this fall, work to be commenced as soon as material can be gotten on the ground.

Five bidders contested for the job and blue prints were furnished the contractors for their inspection before the bids were made. The building is to be constructed of reinforced concrete, brick and steel. The contract for the reinforced concrete foundation will be sublet to H. C. McMaken & Son company. Peters & Richards will take many of the skilled workmen for the carpenter work and brick laying from this city and the job will give employment to a large number of men until the summer is over.

Next spring new bids will be let to finish the structure from appropriations made this winter, and Peters & Richards will stand a very good chance to get this contract also. The Journal is glad to see Plattsmouth contractors get the big contracts in the surrounding cities. This all helps to attract people to Plattsmouth.
