Win with Woodrow Wilson.
 Many who believed in Roosevelt in the start are now joining the Taft forces.
 Governor Wilson will not touch the local fight in any state. That's business.
 As yet we hear of no special trains carrying masses of people to the Roosevelt convention next Monday.
 The young men of Cass county who will this year cast their first vote should start right by voting for Woodrow Wilson, the winner.
 It is reported that Kansas has a thousand more school teachers than they need. Let them come over into Nebraska and we'll find places for them.
 Nearly everyone is satisfied with enough of this world's goods, but notions as to how much that is are subject to frequent revision upward.
 The alleged third party is long on leaders, but very short on privates. Under such conditions wouldn't it appear awkward on dress parade?
 Judge Oldham made a speech at the Grand Island convention, and referred to the Chicago republican convention as a clash between the steam roller and cash register. The judge always has something up his sleeve "to bring down the house."
 Our city is certainly doing the royal thing in the entertainment of the Cass county teachers this week. Plattsmouth can do the right thing when our people take the notion.
 All but five republican members of congress attended the notification of Taft that he had bought something at Chicago a few weeks ago. The five who did not attend were Norris, Anderson, Copley, Fuller and Hartman.
 The Financial World says that the republican party cannot be held responsible for the high cost of living, for prices have risen all over the world. That may be true, but for the "higher" cost of living in the United States than in any other country the republican party is responsible.
 Editor Tamplin of the Tekamah Journal, a Taft paper, handed one to Nebraska's little governor direct from the shoulder in his last issue. Speaking of Aldrich's presiding at the republican convention last week, he says: "His action of Tuesday is proof to the state at large that he is a misfit in his position in this state." And then again: "The republican party will spew him from their midst in November, like one gets rid of an unpalatable mouthful of medicine."
 The Journal printed an item a few days since in which we stated that a Cass county farmer brought to this office a stalk of corn measuring 41 feet and 4 inches in height. Now comes the Nebraska City Press and says a stalk of corn was exhibited in that city Saturday measuring 22 feet high, standard government measurement. Now, we do not wish to doubt our brother editor of the Press for truth and veracity, but as we are from Missouri, "we will have to be shown."

Farmers are not complaining very much about rain these days.
 During the heated term it is well to recall that a blizzard is not an unqualified joy.
 Democratic state headquarters will be opened at the Lindell hotel in Lincoln this week.
 It is thought now that congress will adjourn in time for the members to get home to vote.
 The new party is born, but the infant mortality rate in new parties has been fearfully high in this country.
 It won't be long till school commences, and we know a lot of people in this old town that will be glad of it.
 A number of Wilson clubs have already been formed in the state. Why not organize a club in Plattsmouth?
 Uncle Sam has managed pretty well, but as soon as the women get to voting it will be claimed that his wife made him.
 The third party bull moose has been nominated in Illinois, and the battle will soon be on good and plenty.
 Somehow the farmers never take much interest in anything pertaining to better methods of agriculture that comes out from Chicago and New York.
 There won't be much trouble in the bull moose convention today. Everything is cocked and primed and all they have to do is go through the motion and Teddy is "it" with a big I.
 New Jersey was one of the original thirteen states of the union; there were thirteen sessions of the Baltimore convention; Bryan went to Wilson after the thirteenth ballot, and there are just thirteen letters in Woodrow Wilson's name. Do you reckon there is anything in that?
 It is hard and sometimes impossible to make a saint out of a hardened sinner, and it cannot be expected that all the seasoned standpatters will vote for Wilson, but many independent young men who are not tied to the old g. o. p. ship will vote for Wilson and the progressive ticket.
 The democrats in Washington are rejoicing over the passage of the La Follette wool bill in the senate. The substitution of that bill for the one that came from the house, because votes enough to pass the house bill could not be secured, has left the regular standpatters in a terrible state of confusion. They had expected to pass the Penrose bill, and then make it the basis of their campaign, for the president had agreed to sign it.
 Medill McCormick's demand that republican congressmen come to the front and say whether they stand for Roosevelt or Taft, met with replies something like this from Congressman W. A. Rodenberg: "I regard your inquiry as impertinent, as I absolutely deny your right to interrogate any republican candidate as to his attitude." The bull moose bluffers may be able to bluff some weak-kneed congressmen, but none with the staminy of Rodenberg.

It is not so much the high cost of living, but the cost of living high that bothers many people.
 If an auto should not be run upon the streets faster than the law allows, why should a motorcycle be allowed to do so? Will someone please answer?
 Don't get the impression that Woodrow Wilson is a mollycoddle just because he is a schoolmaster. You forget that it takes a real man, physically and otherwise, to make a success in the school-room, and that most of our great men got their start by teaching. Besides, Woodrow played on the college team, coached the college football bunch and otherwise demonstrated that his veins were chock full of rich red blood. If you don't believe he is built for the strenuous life just stand around and watch him heave republican office-holders down the back stairs after March 4, 1913.
 On July 20 wheat was quoted at 93 cents in Winnipeg and 90 cents in Kansas City. The distance between Winnipeg and Kansas City and the Liverpool market is practically the same, with Winnipeg favored in rates because of a longer water haul. American wheat growers are "protected" against the pauper wheat of Canada by a tariff of 25 cents a bushel. Puzzle: Why is the unprotected wheat of Canada selling for more at Winnipeg than the protected wheat of the United States is selling at Kansas City? Will some advocate of a high protective tariff please answer?
 It has cost the state more money to publish the constitutional amendments to be voted upon at elections in the past ten years than it would cost to make an entire new constitution. And over half of the money thus expended has been a total waste, as the amendments were defeated more than half the time. It will cost the state $50,000 to publish the amendments to be voted on this fall, and it is rather doubtful if they are all adopted. Why squander so much money thusly, when it will not cost much more to make an entire new constitution? The papers throughout the state should agitate the proposition.
 George W. Perkins of New York, the steel trust magnate, was one of the first arrivals of note that arrived for the bull moose convention at Chicago. Roosevelt enthusiasts should make a note of this. A. J. Moore, another trust magnate, of Pittsburg, is another one of Roosevelt's supporters that is on hand also. These two, with Medill McCormick, another millionaire "trust-buster," are the fellows who did finance Teddy's campaign against Taft and they propose to raise the money to still try to pull Roosevelt back into the presidential chair to do their bidding. Isn't it strange that so many people will be drawn into the support of this wily Roosevelt, with all these circumstances before them?
 This for the Nebraska City News: Formerly each county was a senatorial district. This gave Otoe and Cass counties each a member of the state committee, but now one for both counties. At the Fremont convention a year ago, when the time came to select a representative on the state committee, the delegates from the two counties held a conference, and it was decided to elect Dr. Livingston for the first year and then Otoe could name the member for this year. And this is the way the understanding came about. The Journal did not mean that it was an understanding to elect Mr. Young, but that Otoe, according to the agreement at Fremont, was entitled to the member of the state committee the ensuing year. This, and nothing more.

Now it is reported that congress will adjourn about the 17th of this month.
 Teddy thinks he is "it" now, but he won't think so much that way after the 5th of November.
 Woodrow Wilson knows something about running a campaign himself and will probably take a hand in doing so.
 The night police should be a little more alert on the watch for night prowlers. We hear of some and they are not strangers in the city either.
 W. J. Bryan has sent $1,000 to Woodrow Wilson to add to the campaign fund. This is the largest that has yet been contributed.
 Wilson and Marshall are becoming household words already, and the youngsters barely able to talk are this early hurrahing for "Wilson and Marshall."
 Roosevelt expects to "stand in" with southern people by refusing support from the niggers. Too thin, Teddy. It won't bear washing.
 An out-of-town young man has queered himself with a Plattsmouth school marm by misspelling a word in his last letter. He called her his "sweat-heart."
 We do not believe there is a democrat in Cass county that will not vote for Wilson and Marshall. And we know of a large number of republicans who will support the ticket.
 We do not understand a democratic editor who supports Aldrich in preference to a gentleman and democrat like Hon. John H. Morehead. The publication of the constitutional amendments no doubt was the inducement. Such cattle do not command a big price.
 There are a few republican papers in Nebraska that failed to receive a bite of the constitutional amendment pie. They are regular republican supporters, of course, with no bull moose attachments. This, of course, is done for spite on the part of Aldrich. But he will need these papers before the 15th of November, and need them badly, too.
 Some republicans about Plattsmouth are halting between two opinions. They don't know whether to get into the bull moose bandwagon or stay with the regulars. The suggestion that they get aboard the Wilson bandwagon might furnish a solution of the knotty problem.
 John H. Morehead is right the opposite of his opponent. He is steadfast in his views of right, and no man has ever charged that he is a "spraddler" on any question that has ever come up before the public. John H. Morehead has only one method of winning people to himself and that is the principle of honesty and unequivocal fairness.
 In this county Hon. John H. Morehead will receive a large number of republican votes—men who really believe he is the best and safest man for governor of Nebraska. They say that Aldrich has made a great failure, and has proved to be entirely too small in many of his acts for governor. He does not possess the dignity, they say, that a governor should possess, and has been entirely too officious in matters that did not belong to his department in any respect. They believe that Senator Morehead is a gentleman of sound judgment and one of most excellent business qualities, and they believe Mr. Morehead will give them just what a governor should give them—a purely business administration. And he will not disappoint them.

The prolific political crop may be endured much more easily if the crop of golden grain pans out as they promise.
 The bull moose convention was not attended by very many Nebraskans. In fact, the convention was not nearly as large an affair as it was "cracked up" to be.
 A brother of Senator La Follette says that Wilson and Marshall will carry Wisconsin. And he is not the only man in Wisconsin that thinks that way, either.
 According to the assessment returns several weeks ago, Cass county had 267 automobiles, and it is presumed that enough have since been bought to reach over 300.
 Speaker Clark and Congressman Underwood will both campaign in the interest of Wilson and Marshall. They will begin their work in Maine, where the state election comes off the first of September.
 There has not been a time in the last twenty years when a united democratic party could not have defeated the republican party. Now that it faces a divided republican party with its ranks closed up and not a gap in the whole line of battle, can there be much doubt about what the result will be?
 Paul Clark no doubt would like to go to congress, but he will have to move to some district other than the first in order to satisfy his desire. The voters in this district are so well pleased with Hon. John A. Maguire that they are not ready yet to give him up.
 The editor of the Fremont Herald is a democrat after our own heart, and speaks our sentiments precisely as follows: "He who plays the political game and cannot take his medicine with a smiling face, ought to step aside and join the ranks of the down-and-outers. The anti-Brynes faction have their inning now, and are entitled to laugh and cheer and sing over the victory. But all of those defeated at Grand Island are willing, for the sake of democracy, to stand shoulder to shoulder and fight for the success of the national ticket, believing it best for the people and best for the nation. The democrats of Nebraska may have their quarrels, but in this year of grace all factions will cease their bickering that the success of Wilson and Marshall may be the greatest of any political battle fought within the state."
The Trials of a Traveler.
 "I am a traveling salesman," writes E. E. Youngs, E. Berkshire, Vt., "and was often tormented with constipation and indigestion till I began to use Dr. King's New Life Pills, which I have found an excellent remedy." For all stomach, liver or kidney troubles they are unequalled. Only 25 cents at F. G. Fricke & Co.

GETTING READY FOR THE FALL TRADE

The Live-Wire Merchant These Quiet Days Is Getting Ready for Busy Fall Trade.

During these dull, quiet days the live-wire retailer is making plans for a big, busy fall trade. He is planning rearrangements of stock in certain departments—perhaps new paint inside and out—possibly a new store front. He is outlining a campaign of real advertising, too, beginning with a "Fall Opening Week" and going right through to the end of the year. Of course, he can only outline it now, as the details must be worked out week by week later on, but the early preparation now when there's plenty of time will save dollars and make greater profits, too, when the campaign gets under way. He is figuring out ways and means of getting as many people as possible into his store; of giving them the very best service there and of selling them all the dependable merchandise in his line they can afford to buy. But this live-wire retailer does not stop there, for he is thinking of some town-boosting plans to suggest at the next meeting of the local retailers' association. He realizes fully that he will share directly in the benefits accruing from any plan that will bring more people to town and make them glad to come. He knows that people like to trade in the town and in the store where there's something worth while going on. They get enough of deadly dull monotony on the farm. So the live-wire retailer believes in giving them something to do, something to think and talk about, when they come to town. And assuredly he is wise in his day and generation.

ENDORSED AT HOME

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Plattsmouth Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Plattsmouth adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.
 W. M. Barclay, proprietor of restaurant, Main street, Plattsmouth, Neb., says: "I have not had a single symptom of kidney complaint since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me several years ago. I am glad to verify the statement I gave in 1908 endorsing them. I had an extreme lameness across my loins, when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy soon corrected the trouble."
 For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
 Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
