A Story With a Moral.

A man who was too economical to subscribe for a paper sent his boy to borrow the copy taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a 84 stand of bees and in ten minutes looked like a warily summer squash. His father ran to his assistance, and failing to notice a barbed-wire fence, ran into that, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a 84 pair of pants. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the corn field and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing a racket, the wife ran out, upset a four-gallon churn full of rich cream into a basket of little chickens, drowning the entire batch. In her haste she dropped a 825 set of false teeth. The baby, having been left alone, crawled through the spilled milk and into the parlor, ruining a brand new 820 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up eleven setting hens and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shirts on the clothesline. (Now is the time to subscribe.)

The above, taken from another publication, was handed us by one of our valued Murray readers this week, and we agree with him that it is an excellent lesson for those who borrow their neighbor's paper. We cannot at this time call a single person in the whole of East and West Rock Bluffs precinct that "this shoe would fit," for we have all the residents of both precincts on our books and they are regular subscribers to the Journal. But should this meet the eye of a single person who is not a subscriber, we hope that he will lose no time in enrolling his name before he meets with a similar accident.

This same forty was owned many years ago by Jake Schaffer, who sold the same to Mr. Spriegel at a wonderfully increased price.

Melion Crop Good.

Enoch Moreland, the Cass county watermelon king, says that his crop of melons this year will be a dandy. He will be on the market just a trifle later than in previous years on account of the backward spring season, but they are going to be good ones when the picking time arrives. Mr. Moreland has had the reputation of raising more and better melons than any other man in this section.

NEBRASKA MOTOR VEHICLE LAW HITS NEARLY EVERY OWNER, MAKING BUT FEW EXCEPTIONS

When Crossing An Intersection of Streets Within City or Village, Motor Vehicles Shall Not Be Driven at a Greater Speed Exceeding Six Miles an Hour.

As there has been some doubt in reference to the state law regulating the automobile speed limit, we publish herewith the section of the law referring thereto, in order that all interested may govern themselves accordingly. We have been requested to give this section of the law, that "all who run may read:"

Section 7.—Rate of Speed.—No person shall operate a motor vehicle on any highway outside of a city or village at a rate of speed greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard for the traffic and use of the road, and the condition of the road, nor at a rate of speed such as to endanger the life or limb of any person nor in any case at a rate of speed exceeding twenty-five miles per hour; and within any city or village no motor vehicle shall be operated at a speed greater than twelve miles an hour, or at a rate of speed greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard for the traffic and use of the road, and the condition of the road, nor at a rate of speed such as to endanger the life or limb of any person. Upon approaching an intersection of highways, or a bridge or a sharp curve or a steep descent, or another vehicle or an animal or person outside of any village or city, the person operating a motor vehicle shall reduce the speed of such vehicle to a rate not exceeding eight miles an hour and shall not exceed such speed until entirely past such intersection, bridge, curve, descent, vehicle, animal or person. When crossing an intersection of streets within any city or village, motor vehicles shall not be driven at a speed exceeding six miles per hour. Upon approaching any place where passengers are getting on or off street cars every person operating a motor vehicle shall bring such vehicle to a full stop and shall not again start until said street cars have started. Provided, that the speed limits in this section shall not apply to physicians or surgeons or police or fire vehicles or ambulances when answering emergency calls demanding excessive speed.

We shall continue from time to time to publish sections of the law, as ignorance of the law saves no one from prosecution, in consequence.
