WEDDING OF POPULAR COUPLE ANNOUNCED FOR OCTOBER

From Saturday's Daily.

Our friend, W. F. Gillespie, the local grain buyer, yesterday handed in the crop report, like a society reporter, as follows:

"Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Mr. Jack Frost and Miss Good Corn Crop, the ceremony to be performed in the Garden Spot on Thursday, October 31, 1912.

"A few old fogies like Hicks and Foster rather predict frosts before that date, but if Jack will restrain his ardor a little and wait until the time mentioned in the invitations, there will be a fine wedding and a three-billion-bushel corn crop, which will make us dealers snifle.

"A good many are telling us that there are fewer barren corn-stalks in the field and more ears to the stalk than usual.

"Farmers are having a hard time getting oats threshed between showers, a good many oats are showing up at the elevators in no fit condition to ship, and a goodly portion of the crop yet in the shock is one grade lower in condition now than when cut.

"Permit us to caution dealers not to load out damp oats. They will surely make you trouble and lose you money under present conditions."

ANOTHER CHARGE OF VIOLATING AUTOMOBILE LAW

From Saturday's Daily.

On complaint of Henry Trout, night policeman, a complaint was prepared by County Attorney Taylor this morning, charging in two counts the violation of the speed limit law within the city of Plattsmouth, on the 30th day of August, 1912, by Ed Schulhof.

The complaint in the first count charges that on the day aforesaid, in the city aforesaid, a motor vehicle was operated and propelled at a greater speed than twelve miles an hour and at a greater speed than was reasonable. The second count charges the operation of a motor vehicle over the intersections at a greater speed than six miles per hour and at a greater speed than twenty miles per hour. A warrant was issued and turned over to the officers. Mr. Schulhof was out of the city for a few hours after the warrant was issued, but intimated that he could prove by three occupants of his machine at the time complained of that he was not exceeding the speed limit and that the county would be given a chance to prove the case against him before he laid down any of his coin.

Mr. Worth, who is the manager of the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company, has just received a message from his wife informing him of the death of their second daughter. Mr. Worth will have the sympathy of the community in his sad bereavement. He has been bending every energy the past week endeavoring to assemble the company, and the blow will fall on him with crushing force.

THE "STANDARD BEARERS" HAVE FINE TIME IN COUNTRY

Mrs. George Kaffenberger Invites Them Out to Her Home, Eight Miles West of This City.

From Saturday's Daily.

The strictly girls' organization, known as "The Standard Bearers" of the Methodist church, accepted an invitation from Mrs. George Kaffenberger, living eight miles west of the city, to come out Friday and frolic and gambol over their farm and eat a country dinner. Through the generosity of Mrs. Schoemaker, who provided a hayrack and team, the bunch of lassies were able to make the trip with little inconvenience to them. However, mention must be made here that a most capable and efficient chauffeur was secured to pilot said conveyance to the ranch, that same chauffeur being Jesse Perry, esq. Hayrack rides are an old story for said chauffeur, and the road being good, the distance between this city and the Kaffenberger home was quickly covered, and the trip was without incident, but most everybody along the route knew Jesse was coming.

After a rambling, bumping and rollicking trip the party arrived at the fine country home of George Kaffenberger and his energetic wife and then things commenced.

A horseback ride by the fearless just preceding the dinner bell was an interesting feature. And then the dinner—yellow-legged chickens, pickles, tomatoes, cream and lots of other good things too numerous to mention that only the country housewife knows how to make. Everyone present says that Mrs. Kaffenberger has cinched her reputation as a hostess and maker of pies. The cream listed above was not the solid, icy kind usually found at social affairs, but the real, thick creamy country cream that raises on the crocks.

It is intimated that there will be "a back to the farm movement" soon as a result of this dinner. In the afternoon a yelling contest took place, Miss Spencer being awarded first prize. Next was a plowing contest, first prize for plow girls being awarded to Misses Queen Handley and Wandra Ramsey. A watermelon eating contest followed, which was won by Mrs. E. C. Hill. A bunch of minor events were pulled off during the afternoon.

The crowd of girls and those in attendance voted Mr. and Mrs. Kaffenberger as big-hearted, happy and entertaining folks and that the Standard Bearers would write to Mrs. Etha Crabb Brooks in Idaho, who was the former leader of the gang, a fourteen-page letter, praising the entertainers and the affair in general. Those attending were: Mrs. Hill, Misses Spencer, Ramsey, Sattler, Glenn, Adams, Jacks, Parker, Shoemaker, Handley, Gorder, Jesse Perry, Master Roscoe Hill and Earl Shoemaker.

Autoed to Omaha.

From Saturday's Daily.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ost and son, W. A. Ost, and Max Balfour, all from near Nehawka, passed through Plattsmouth yesterday in their auto en route to Omaha to spend the day. Mr. and Mrs. Ost are among the prosperous and progressive farmers of Nehawka, and, of course, are subscribers of the Journal and stopped long enough in Plattsmouth to pay us a brief call.

Farmers Needing Rain.

A. B. Forno, of near Cedar Creek, drove in this morning from his farm and looked after the week-end shopping. Mr. Forno reports the dry weather injuring corn very much, especially the late planting. The excessively warm weather of the past week has dried the ground out pretty thoroughly. The wild grass hay crop was not as good this season as last and other grasses are being cut short by the drought.

PLATTSMOUTH LADIES AT THE MEDAL CONTEST

From Saturday's Daily.

The medal contest Tuesday evening was so good that we cannot refrain from feeling sorry for those who were not there. Contrary to the usual program of what takes place at one of these contests the prize was battled for by grownup people—and let us add, artists. There were nine numbers by matrons from different parts of the county and the prize was won by Mrs. A. L. Zink, wife of the Christian minister in Plattsmouth. Hon. E. M. Pollard, who presented the medal to Mrs. Zink, took occasion to remark that the judges had made a mistake and instead of one should have given nine medals.

To go into details would be superfluous, suffice to say that Mrs. Zink won by reciting "Little Blossom," and that it was handled in a manner that could have hardly been excelled. Mrs. A. J. Beeson recited a selection after the contest was over that was received with applause. She had won a medal at Plattsmouth some time ago and for that reason was barred from this contest. There was a very fair attendance, but nothing like there ought to have been in justice to the excellence of the entertainment.

Following is a list of the contestants: Mrs. Marshall, Weeping Water; Mrs. Copps, Avoca; Mrs. Thomas, Kerr, Wescott; Zink and Briggs of Plattsmouth; Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Main of Nehawka. Mrs. Moore, county superintendent of the Medal Contest Works, presided at the Matrons' Contest. —Nehawka News.

Visitor From Oklahoma.

From Saturday's Daily.

A. A. Schafer, an old resident of Cass county, who for the past few years has been living near Pocasset, Oklahoma, has been visiting relatives and friends in this county for the past week. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Margaret Schafer, who has been visiting at his home. Mr. Schafer, in company with Louie Friedrich, from west of Murray, were Plattsmouth visitors yesterday and made the Journal office a pleasant call. Mr. Schafer reports everything in Oklahoma good this year, crops of every description being good, and the many people from Cass county in that locality are happy.

Felix Stepped High This Morning.

Felix Siczowski stepped quite spry this morning and some higher than usual and wore a broad smile when he entered the shops for his usual day's work. When asked the source of his good cheer, Felix replied that the stork had left a fine ten-pound girl babe at his home yesterday. Mother and babe are doing well.

BARN AND HORSES BURNED NEAR EAGLE

A disastrous fire broke out yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock at the barn of Fred Minchau, residing two miles north of Eagle, which totally destroyed his fine new barn, with contents, including three head of horses and several sets of harness. One of the horses was a valuable driving mare, which the family used frequently.

The fire, after burning the barn, leaped over and destroyed two fine stacks of alfalfa and one stack of clover hay, then caught in the cattle corral and burned that and other buildings and cribs in the vicinity of the barn. There were some 300 neighbors on hand before the damage was all done, but nothing could be done to check the flames. The fire even burned the water tank.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. A daughter of Mr. Minchau was in the garden when the fire was first noticed and it seemed to have spread throughout the barn, for it appeared to burst forth from all sides at once. There were children at the house, but the young lady was sure none of them had been in the barn yesterday afternoon.

The men working in the field had not been about the barn since noon. Mr. Minchau was not at home, being in Kansas, where he has been for some time. The loss will be close to $2,000. The barn was insured in the Farmers' Mutual Insurance company for two-thirds of its value.

Examine Your House

At this time of year you should think of protecting your property against decay and rust during the coming winter months. Weather beaten, rotted lumber and rust-eaten water troughs and drain pipes all take money to replace. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Pair—the "High Standard" kind—means protection as well as beauty and winter is the time protection is needed most. The use of cheap or "Hand Made" Paint is false economy.

Lowe Brothers
"High Standard" Liquid Paint
